Fair and warmer conditions are promised for today by the local weather man. Tomorrow he looks for rain. All danger of frost is past for the present, and although the temperature was low last night, the dry atmosphere prevented a recurrence of Jack Frost's visit. COL. QUAY WILL LEAVE SENATE

Senator Focht Declares Resignation Will Be Handed in by June.

SON DICK TO SUCCEED

Says Governor Pennypacker Will Appoint Him to Fill His Father's Unexpired Term.

ALL DETAILS ARRANGED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Public Ledger Building,
PHILADELPHIA, April 5.

Senator B. K. Focht is authority for the statement that before June 1, 1903, Senator Matthew S. Quay will resign his seat in the United States senate and be succeeded by his son Richard R. Quay.

"There is not the least doubt in my mind that Quay is going to resign," said Mr. Focht tonight. "He would have done so during the life of the present legislature if he had believed that his son Dick could have been elected to succeed him. But Durham and other prominent Republican leaders won't stand for Dick. They would prefer that the 'Old Man' serve out his term, but, if he refuses to do so, they demand that they shall have a voice in selecting his successor. Quay will not agree to this. He believes he is personally able to pass upon the qualifications of his own successor, and resents the interest shown by Durham and Penrose.

"Gov. Pennypacker, I am told, sympathizes with Quay in this matter. His own experience clearly demonstrated the fact that Quay is possessed of an incomparable judgment when it comes to passing upon conditions for high offices. Hence the governor will do anything in his power to prevent a mistake being made in regard to the Quay succession.

"The present legislature is singularly blind. Quay and the governor both realize this fact. They know that if the senior senator should resign prior to April 16 that the general assembly might elect any one of a half dozen men to fill the vacancy, also that Dick Quay would not be on the list of eligibles.

"And this is why Col. Quay does not intend to trouble the legislature with the matter. He will wait until the legislature has adjourned, April 16, and then he will fulfill his time-honored promise to retire from active politics. Gov. Pennypacker is not one who would permit the great state of Pennsylvania to be without proper representation in the upper house of congress. He will regret Col. Quay's retirement. Of that I have not the least doubt. But he will appoint Dick to fill the vacancy. It's a family matter, anyway, and the governor is one who has a high regard for political reciprocity. He owes his nomination and election to Quay, and the appointment of Dick would even matters.

"By this arrangement Dick would be able to serve two years in the United States senate, long enough to sprout a constituency, which might re-elect him at the next session. And this is his father's program. Nothing can interfere with it except the governor, and he will not. The 'Old Man' has often told me that Dick has the most important qualification for a seat in the United States senate—plenty of money. By getting there via the appointment route, he will not impair this most essential pre-requisite, and it will be available when needed two years from now.

"Quay has but one ambition unfulfilled, and that is that Dick shall wear his senatorial shoes. The election of Pennypacker insures the transfer, and it will be made, I believe, within 30 days of the adjournment of the present legislature."

VATICAN ASKS EDWARD TO CONCEDE A POINT

Hair Splitting Distinctions May Prevent King's Visit to the Pontiff.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, April 5.—The chief topic of discussion at the vatican continues to be whether or not King Edward will see the pope. The ceremonial proposed, that the king should start from the British embassy, is much opposed, not because he would be starting from the residence of an ambassador accredited to the quirinal, for the king once there, say the vatican authorities, it ceases to be an embassy to become the house of the sovereign, but because Cardinal Rampolla must return the royal visit to the pontiff, and he would arrive at the house, which, King Edward having left it, had become again an embassy accredited to the king of Italy.

It is suggested that King Edward, on leaving the vatican, should return to the British embassy, followed closely by Cardinal Rampolla, who would arrive while the king was still there. The objection against this course is that it would create a precedent. The Nuncio at Lisbon has been charged to sound King Edward on the subject.

OFFICIAL AX IS BUSY AGAIN

Three Detectives, Four Firemen and 22 Policemen Decapitated.

WARD WORKERS KICK

Compel Recorder Hays to Dismiss Men He Had Previously Retained.

MORE HEADS TO GO TODAY

Superintendent of Police John P. McTighe and his nicked ax were at work again yesterday. The police official dismissed 22 policemen and reinstated 17. Recorder W. B. Hays took a hand and ordered the discharge of four firemen, and because of the objections made by the ward politicians, he ordered the dismissal of three detectives whom he retained Saturday night.

Early Sunday morning Superintendent McTighe looked over the police list and started to cut those out he had missed the day before. He said: "I am not going to leave a ringster in the whole outfit. If I have missed any today, they will get their notice this morning."

There was much wrangling in the public safety palace. The backers of the policemen discharged on Saturday went to the front for them yesterday. They told McTighe they had been assured their men were not to be disturbed and wanted to know why he discharged them.

VICTIMS VOTED AGAINST HAYS.

"You see the committee of thirty-eight and they will tell you why the men were discharged," he answered. "The men who voted against the Citizens movement cannot remain on the force. They have to go and nothing can save them."

The Citizens workers were indignant yesterday when they learned that Detectives John Roach, George W. Cole and Charles Aymer had been retained on the payroll. The workers from the detectives' wards went to Recorder Hays yesterday morning and made such strenuous protests that he instructed Superintendent Thomas A. McQuaide to notify these officers they had been dropped from the rolls. Director James Clark of the department of charities and corrections carried the word to Superintendent McQuaide. He said Recorder Hays would not tolerate their retention if the workers in their wards did not approve of it.

FOUR FIREMEN OVERLOOKED.

Recorder Hays notified Chief Miles S. Humphreys of the fire bureau to discharge four men who had been overlooked Saturday. When it was learned by the workers these firemen had not been dismissed they hunted up Recorder Hays and demanded their discharge instantly.

This morning Supt. McTighe and Chief Humphreys will make a number of reinstatements and appointments in their respective bureaus. Supt. McQuaide of the detective bureau will make his appointments tomorrow.

The police force was weakened yesterday by the wholesale dismissal of Saturday. During the day there were only 230 officers on duty throughout the city. Last night only half of the regular force was out. Supt. McTighe will send out a larger force tonight and lessen the number of officers for day duty. He does not anticipate any trouble, as by Wednesday he will have filled up a large number of the vacancies made by him Saturday.

The changes made in the detective, police and fire bureaus yesterday were as follows:

SAN BERNARDINO, CAL., April 5.—Bishop Brown of Redlands, who was arrested just before the last visit of President McKinley, under instructions from Gov. Gage, who learned that he had made threats against the president, is again in the county jail, having been taken into custody at Redlands last night on a similar charge, he having been overheard making threatening allusions to President Roosevelt.

It is stated that ever since the president announced his intention of visiting the west Brown has been closely watched and his arrest was decided upon as a measure of precaution. He is charged with vagrancy.

WOMAN KILLS HERSELF WITH A REVOLVER WHILE SITTING BEFORE MIRROR

Dead Body With Bullet Wound Discovered in Chair in a Jersey City Hotel.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—Mrs. Louise Ames Van Welk killed herself in the Hotel Washington, Jersey City, today. She was perhaps 35 to 37 years of age, a blonde and good looking. She arrived in Jersey City from the west Friday over the Pennsylvania railroad and went to the Hotel Washington. She seemed in good spirits and was well supplied with money and numerous packages arrived at the desk from New York stores for her. She was last seen alive Saturday evening by one of the maids of the hotel.

Edward Chase, son of the proprietor, about noon today noticed water coming through the ceiling from an upstairs room. He forced his way into Mrs. Van Welk's room and found the faucet of a basin open and the water overflowing. Mrs. Van Welk was sitting in a rocking chair facing a mirror. She was dead.

Mrs. Van Welk wore a dressing gown. Apparently while sitting in front of the mirror she had placed a revolver against her breast over the heart and fired. The revolver containing four loaded shells and one empty shell was found beside her as well as a box of cartridges with five shells missing. Two registered parcel receipts also were found in the room. The registry took place at the Jersey City postoffice on Saturday. One parcel was sent to Campbell R. Royston, 2615 North Charles street, Baltimore, Md., and the other to Charles H. Townsend, 17 West Thirty-fifth street, New York.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Mrs. Van Welk was divorced from her first husband, and about three years ago she was married to Edward Wolfbauer, a New Yorker. It is said that recently she took up her residence in South Dakota with a view to obtaining a divorce from him also. Mrs. Van Welk had engaged quarters here for the racing season. She was born in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, April 5.—Mrs. Louise Ames Welk was the daughter of Capt. Edwin Ames of the United States army. Fourteen years ago she was married here to Otto B. Welk of Indiana. Three years since they were divorced in Washington, D. C. After the divorce proceedings Mrs. Welk placed the prefix "Van" to the surname of her former husband. Her friends in this city are very reticent.

COLOMBIAN TREATY OPPOSED BY MANY

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, April 5.—The Royal Mail Company's steamer Atrato, which arrived here today from Colon and Cartagena, brings the report that considerable opposition is developing to the Panama canal treaty in almost every department of Colombia except Panama. It is believed that the majority in congress will favor the treaty, but there are fears that trouble will arise because the political situation in Colombia is becoming more complicated and the presidency is surrounded with uncertainty.

CHILD-WIFE KILLED DURING A QUARREL

WILKESBARRE, PA., April 5.—In a quarrel late tonight between Frederick Barney and his wife, the latter was shot and instantly killed. Barney is 23 years of age and his wife 18. He claims she had a revolver in her hand and in the struggle to take it from her she shot herself. Barney was placed under arrest. Both are well known.

Umbria Encounters Icebergs.

NEW YORK, April 5.—(Special.)—Bringing the usual story of storms encountered and icebergs sighted, the Cunarder Umbria made port tonight. Eleven icebergs had been seen during the voyage. Storms and squalls were so many that no effort was made to enumerate them.

SENATORS WIPE STONE'S NAME OFF THE CORNERSTONE

Penrose, After Conference With Quay, Says Former Governor Will Be Ripped Out of Capitol Commission.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., April 5.—It is now practically certain that the capitol commission ripper bill introduced in the legislature by Senator White of Beaver will be passed and that ex-Gov. Stone will be dropped from the commission. Senator Penrose came over from Philadelphia today and this evening he had a long conference with Senator Quay at the latter's residence in K street. After this conference, at which many political matters were discussed, Senator Penrose was asked if he thought the White bill would pass.

"I think that some bill will be passed," said the senator, "making Gov. Pennypacker a member of the commission. It is eminently proper that the governor should be on the commission."

"Do you think any of the present members will be dropped?" he was asked.

"Well, that would be a matter for Gov. Pennypacker to decide," said Mr. Penrose in a significant tone. It is evident that the decision has been reached that Stone must go.

Tomorrow Senator Quay will go to Harrisburg and have a visit with the governor and at that time the changes in the commission and the employes will be decided upon. This decision of Senator Quay to visit Harrisburg was made today, as he stated yesterday that he would not stop at the state capital on his way to Beaver. It is now his intention to have a talk with Gov. Pennypacker and then proceed to his Beaver home. Senator Penrose was asked what he thought of the chances of the Greater Pittsburgh bill and he said:

"I think it will pass; unless some unexpected opposition appears, it will certainly become a law."

Neither Penrose nor Quay think there is anything in the point raised that the secretary of the treasury has no right to revive the office of appraiser of customs at Pittsburgh. It is a technical point and has been referred to the department of justice for an opinion. Mr. Penrose will call at the department tomorrow in regard to the matter, and if the attorney general accepts his view of the question, the appointment of Fred W. Edwards as appraiser may be made by the president while he is on his western trip.

"The point is merely a technical one," said Senator Penrose, "and I do not think there is any ground for it, nor does Senator Quay. The business of the Pittsburgh office has increased over 300 per cent and is larger than that of Buffalo and many other inland cities, where they have appraisers. The question is now in the hands of the department of justice, and whether the appointment is made now or after congress meets depends entirely upon the opinion the law officers give."

When asked about candidates for civil service commissioner to succeed James R. Garfield, Senator Penrose said:

"I have heard ex-Representative James R. Young of Philadelphia and ex-Representative J. B. Showalter of Butler county, mentioned for the place. But I understand the president wants a western man for the commissionership, so I suppose a Pennsylvanian will not stand much chance of getting it."

Mr. Penrose said he knew of no Pennsylvania candidate for assistant secretary of the treasury to succeed Milton E. Alles, who is to resign.

YALE ABOLISHES ALL REQUIRED STUDIES

Freshman Can Drop Greek, Latin and Mathematics Upon Entering College.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., April 5.—(Special.)—Yale has abolished required studies throughout the entire curriculum of the college or academic department. Till three years ago the freshmen and sophomore years were made up of prescribed specific courses.

President Hadley opened sophomore year immediately after his inauguration by allowing that class to have a choice of eight courses of three hours each, to pick five from to make up the 15 hours of study a week. This year the sophomores are allowed 15 courses from which to choose five, and the freshmen are to be allowed eight for their five choices.

The senior year was made wholly optional 13 years ago at Yale, the junior year followed in 1896. According to the latest faculty decision a freshman can drop Greek, Latin and mathematics immediately upon entering college and little doubt is felt that within two years this will lead to the abolition of Greek as an entrance requirement.

W. L. Elkins Has Returned.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—(Special.)—William L. Elkins, the financier, who went to California early last winter for his health, returned home today and is expected at his office in the Land, Title & Trust Company's building tomorrow.

KING EDWARD GREETED WITH A GREAT OVATION

Portuguese People Give England's Ruler an Enthusiastic Welcome.

LISBON, April 5.—The enthusiasm aroused by the visit of King Edward is increasing. A brilliant gala performance of the "Barber of Seville" was given at the opera last night in honor of the royal visitor. The audience gave King Edward and King Carlos a great ovation. A grand state banquet was given tonight at which 200 guests were present. A magnificent silver dinner service belonging to the Portuguese royal family was used on this occasion.

It is stated that the king of Spain is coming here in May and that the German emperor will make a visit to Portugal in August.

RAILROAD TRAFFIC CURTAILED SUNDAYS

ALTOONA, PA., April 5.—For the first time in many months the freight traffic through Altoona was limited to comparatively few trains today. From 6 o'clock this morning until 6 o'clock this evening but six freight crews went out on the Middle division. From 6 o'clock in the evening until midnight there were 12 more crews sent out on the same division. These figures indicate a traffic of less than one-fourth of what it has been on Sunday for many years past. Henceforth, it is believed, only perishable freight will have to be moved on the first day of the week.

HEARS SERMON THROUGH ERROR

Roosevelt Attends Church Twice Because of Committee's Mistake.

DAY AT SIOUX FALLS

President Enjoyed Comparative Rest and Went for a Horseback Ride.

THE SERVICES IN GERMAN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Sioux Falls, S. D., April 5.—President Roosevelt is the guest of Sioux Falls and will remain so until 9:10 o'clock tomorrow morning. His special train arrived here about 8 o'clock this morning and he was met by a delegation headed by Mayor G. W. Burnside and State Senator A. H. Stites. Senator Kittredge also greeted him. The president was escorted to the Cataract house by detachments of the two local militia companies, and enjoyed a day of comparative rest, the first he has had since his trip began.

He attended church, both in the morning and evening, and in the afternoon went for a horseback ride, accompanied by Seth Bullock, superintendent of the Black Hills forest reserves.

The fact that President Roosevelt attended divine services twice today, was due to an error on the part of the local committee. The committee had the impression that the president was a member of the German Lutheran church, and accordingly arranged to have him attend that church this morning. When it was learned later that the president worshiped at the Dutch Reform church arrangements were made to have service in the evening at the Livingstone Reform church here. While it is not the custom of the president to attend services Sunday evening, he made an exception today, when the facts were made known to him.

The services this morning were conducted by the Rev. Herman Sell, president of the German-English college at Welton, Ia., who came here for that purpose. The German language was used throughout.

Owing to the fact that both in Milwaukee and Minneapolis the length of the program did not permit the president to reach his car until after midnight, he has been obliged to announce that hereafter he will not begin speaking later than 8:30 in the evening, and always will be back in his car by 10 o'clock. He will adhere strictly to this rule.

A pickpocket tried to work his game in the crowd gathered in front of the Lutheran church this morning. Just as the president was about to enter the edifice, a man who gave the name of G. W. Earl, took $23 from the pocket of a resident of this city. He was detected in the act, but before he could be seized, he handed the money to a confederate, who disappeared. Earl was arrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—In the Yosemite valley, President Roosevelt will be given a salute by a battery of dynamite cartridges. The walls of the valley are 3,000 feet sheer and the report of a toy pistol within them reverberates like a series of volleys by heavy artillery. The explosion of dynamite cartridges is expected to produce extraordinary results.

An enormous bonfire will be built on the overhanging rock of Glacier Point. The great mass of fire will be thrown over the side of the projecting rocks to the bottom of the valley, 3,000 feet below.

$200,000 IS WAGERED ON CHICAGO ELECTION

For the First Time in Years Republicans Bet Against Harrison.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, April 5.—Two hundred thousand dollars will change hands on the municipal election Tuesday, according to men in a position to know. Never before in a mayoralty contest has so much money been wagered in Chicago and never before have so many large bets been made. It is the first time in six years that the Republicans are sure enough of success to risk their money.

Of the entire $200,000 the odds will average so small as to make the wagering practically on even terms. There is a small advantage, perhaps, in favor of Mayor Harrison. Some of the betting fraternity say tonight that the odds on election day are likely to be 10 to 7 on Harrison, but general opinion is that the terms will be even, except in special cases where odds will be given for political effect.

It is said that James O'Leary, a bookmaker, has approximately $75,000 on Harrison. Of this probably $50,000 was wagered even and the rest 5 to 4. "Patsey" King is credited with having $20,000 on Harrison. O'Connor and Righetmer have $34,000 on Stewart at even terms, with the exception of a few bets in which the long end is given to a Harrison admirer. Nearly all of this money was turned over by members of the stock exchange.

Chapin & Gore hold bets aggregating $30,000, most of it being placed even. Of the individual betters Cris Mamer, a well-known Republican politician, is said to have $5,000 on Stewart, even money, and J. J. Townsend, a broker, is credited with a $8,000 bet of the same kind.

There have been rumors that Allen W. Gates and John A. Drake have placed large sums on Stewart, but this is denied by men who are close to them.

BUCKEYE MEN READY TO VOTE

Republicans Will Clash With Many Kinds of Democrats.

JOHNSONISM IS ISSUE

Chances Excellent for Success in Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus.

FIGHT HAS BEEN BITTER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbus, April 5.—The leaders of both the great parties profess to be satisfied tonight with the outlook for the municipal elections tomorrow. A careful review of the situation, indicates that Republican chances are good in the state at large, although there is much uncertainty on both sides.

Columbus is counted as surely in the Republican column. Late developments in Cincinnati indicate that M. E. Ingalls, the railroad magnate, who is running on the Democratic Citizens ticket, will be defeated, and there is strong hope in Republican hearts that Cleveland will rid itself of Johnsonism this year. The prospect of the success of either party in Toledo is not promising. Samuel M. Jones, the non-partisan mayor, has made his fourth campaign a strong one, and the prevailing odds on the betting boards are two to one on his election. In Dayton the chances seem to favor the election of the head of the Democratic ticket, with indications that at least a part of the Republican candidates will be successful.

The chief interest in the campaign centers in the fight in Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus. Results in these three cities by no means impossible would make an end of Johnsonism and Lentzism in Ohio, and would put the party back on the old basis of comparative sanity.

JOHNSON WOULD LOSE PRESTIGE.

If Goulder can beat Johnson in his own stronghold—and the leaders of the party here have strong hope of such a result—the beaten mayor would lose greatly in prestige. Added to this the defeat of the Hinkle-Lentz ticket in Columbus and the election of either Ingalls or Fleischmann in Cincinnati, and the Cleveland boss would find cold comfort in alleged non-partisan success in Toledo and a Democratic victory in Dayton.

Ingalls' election would make him the dominant figure in Ohio Democratic politics, and Ingalls is not of the Johnson-Lentz stamp of Democracy. In Columbus the election of Robert H. Jeffrey Republican candidate for mayor, seems assured. Republicans do not forget, however, that Hinkle was elected two years ago when the betting was three to one against him. The Democrats have nominated a strong ticket, and unless Jeffrey's majority is enormous it is probable that the result will be in doubt.

Until the last few hours there has been a feeling that Ingalls might win in Cincinnati. Private advices tonight are to the effect that Mayor Fleischmann's success is altogether probable, and that the betting has switched to him among the men who usually win. The other cities where the fight has been hard and the result is in doubt are Zanesville, Akron, Springfield, Circleville, Lorain, Washington C. H. and Nelsonville.

BRYAN AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, April 5.—(Special.)—William Jennings Bryan stopped off here a couple of hours to-day while en route to Titusville, Pa., where he speaks tomorrow. He met here by appointment several Democratic leaders. Judge Tarvin of Covington, who was mentioned for a time as the probable candidate for vice president on the ticket with him in the last campaign, and the Rev. Herbert Bigelow of this city. Tom L. Johnson's candidate for secretary of state in the Ohio campaign last fall, were among those with whom he spent most of his time.

Mr. Bryan stated to reporters that he had said all that he had to say on the Cincinnati election and the general political situation in the Commoner. He said with a broad grin that he was satisfied with the general situation. He said that he believed Democracy could and would defeat Roosevelt.

Mr. Bryan will return to Cincinnati on April 17 and speak before the Economic club, which the Rev. Mr. Bigelow organized here.

The local elections throughout Ohio tomorrow will be especially important because of the new municipal code enacted recently by the legislature, which reorganizes every municipality. There will be no officers holding over, and for this reason the party advantage secured will be greater than heretofore at April elections.

GREAT DEAL AT STAKE.

With more at stake than before the party organizations have been unusually active, and many cases of fraudulent registration have been made. Several hundred warrants were prepared in Cincinnati to-day for service to-morrow. It is charged that more than [illegible] registrations have been made in a single ward.

The election to-morrow also will be watched closely on account of its bearing on the candidacy of Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland for the Republican nomination for governor and on the re-election of United States Senator Hanna. The legislature selected next November will elect Senator Hanna's successor.

CLEVELAND, April 5.—Burton Horn and Edwin Parkin, two employes of the Cleveland City Railway Company, who live in Lakewood, a suburb of this city, were arrested at the instigation of the board of elections to-day for alleged false registration in the city of Cleveland.

The 20 detectives who have been working on the registration for the election to-morrow have reported that there are 1,600 cases where there may be fraudulent registration. Consequently there will be a policeman within and without each booth in several of the wards where illegal registration is alleged to have been greatest.

SITUATION AT YOUNGSTOWN.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 5.—(Special.)—One of the hardest municipal fights ever known in Youngstown will be ended to-morrow, and to-night the greatest uncertainty exists as to the result. The fight has been carried along on the reform lines, and the administration of Mayor Brown has been attacked, while some of his transactions, especially of his loaning $1,100 to a saloonkeeper, have been used against him.

W. T. Gibson, the Democratic candidate for the office, is alleged by the Republicans to be backed by Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, and the fight has been made against him on those grounds. The Democrats and the dissatisfied Republicans are binding their efforts for the election of Gibson and Henry Seigfried, one of the Democratic candidates for the board of public service. Three of the places on the ticket have been left vacant by the Democrats, vice mayor, auditor and treasurer. It is conceded that the majority on either side will be small.

NEW IDEAS IN THE STORE LINE

John Chaflin's Big Emporium to Be Erected in Wood Street Will Be Fine.

WHITE SHINING PALACE

Electric Lighting and Heating Machinery to Be in a Separate Building Across the Street. Biggest Plate Glass in World.

C. A. Coutant, manager of the James McCreery Co., New York, who will be associated with the big dry goods store to be built in Pittsburgh by Henry W. Oliver for John Chaflin, has made public in New York the dimensions and other details of the store, which will be 12 stories high.

The building will be of steel construction, fireproof and built of terra cotta, glazed white. It is expected to present a pleasing appearance when ablaze with electric lights. There will be no machinery in the building except the elevators. The electric lighting and heating plant—in fact the entire engineering apparatus—will be housed in a building across the street. An ornamental house on the roof will contain the water tanks and the rest of the tesselated roof can be used as a promenade ground for customers. The 12 show windows on the ground floor will be fitted with the largest panes of plate glass ever made.

The building will front 216 feet on Wood street, with Sixth avenue on one side and Virgin alley on the other. The contractors will begin today the demolition of the old houses now standing on the lot, close to the First Presbyterian church.

There will be eight hydraulic passenger elevators, two freight elevators and another elevator that will accommodate the delivery automobiles and take them to the basement, where they may be loaded with goods that are to be sent out to customers.

This will be the first time that white glazed terra cotta has been used for the facing of such a large building. Its use heretofore has been almost confined to cornices and ornamental portions of structures. The owners say the store will be the most complete in the United States.

TO BE SWORN IN TODAY.

Wyman's Appointments May Be Held Up for Awhile, Says Kirschler.

The new bodies of select and common council of Allegheny will meet to organize this morning at 10 o'clock. At noon the oath of office will be administered to Recorder James G. Wyman, who immediately after assumes the powers of his new position. After receiving the oath of office Recorder Wyman will submit to the president of select council the list of the appointments he wants confirmed. Charles F. Kirschler, councilman of the Fifth ward, said last night:

"There is a possibility that the appointments made by Wyman will be kept in select council until the body has had ample time to fully consider the character and qualifications of the men who are to compose his cabinet. Mr. Wyman has taken his time about making public who these men shall be, and it is only fair that we take time to consider before we confirm anyone."

A number of Wyman's close advisers had a secret conference with him last night at his home. None of Wyman's friends who are interested in the fight for president of select council would say anything yesterday regarding the caucus held Saturday night at Morris Einstein's drug store.

HOLY WEEK DEVOTIONS.

Churches Will Hold Appropriate Services and Celebrations.

This week is known as Holy Week in Protestant Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches. On Thursday, called Maundy or Holy Thursday, appropriate services will be held in the churches. This is in commemoration of Christ's last supper. Good Friday, the following day, is observed in commemoration of Christ's crucifixion.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 7:30 o'clock the "Tenebrae" will be sung in St. Paul's cathedral by the fathers and students of the Holy Ghost college. On Good Friday what is known as the mass presanctified will be celebrated in the morning and the devotion known as the "Stations of the Cross" will be performed.

In the Episcopal churches fitting services will be held on Thursday and Friday. Preparations are being made in all the churches for Easter celebration next Sunday. Easter ends the Lenten season.

Anthracite Workers Fail to Obey the Orders of the Strike Commission—Effort to Restrict Output.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., April 5.—So serious is the situation in the anthracite field that John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, has been requested to come to this city as soon as possible.

After a meeting with other district officers yesterday, T. D. Nichols, district president, had a talk on the telephone with Mr. Mitchell at Indianapolis and told him of disaffection among the men. Mr. Mitchell promised to come here as soon as he could, and hopes to get here next week. The district officials are perturbed by the ill-feeling among the men and the failure of some of the younger workers to obey the orders of the strike commission relative to grievances, striking instead of submitting their complaint to the companies.

The chief difficulty is over the interpretation of the nine-hour day clause. Driver boys' time is counted from the time they are ready to work with their mules. It takes half an hour to harness and unharness these animals, and the boys work nine and a half hours. They want the time reduced to a strict nine-hour day. There is also a feeling among the men that they should not work more than nine hours.

The efforts of some companies to increase the output by paying the men for working an extra hour has made the miners suspicious that the companies desired to accumulate a large stock, and they are refusing to work more than nine hours. Yesterday, too, large numbers of them refused to work more than the seven or eight hours they have been accustomed to on Saturdays.

The operators insist that the men work their full time, and declare their refusal to do so is a violation of their pledge to obey the findings of the commission. Of the refusal to work extra time the operators say that it is an effort of the union to restrict the output in order to prevent them getting a large stock on hand. The commission said there should be no concerted effort at restriction by the miners.

While the dissatisfaction does not yet threaten serious complications, the feeling on each side is far from being as harmonious as the commission desired, and the presence of John Mitchell is necessary. Meanwhile the district officers will do what they can to prevent further strikes.

MAHANOY CITY, PA., April 5.—(Special.)—The anthracite mine workers, according to the statements made by the union leaders in this region, will positively refuse to work nine hours on Saturday. The sentiment in favor of the Saturday half holiday is a growing one, and if the coal companies insist upon the full nine hour day on the seventh day of the week there will certainly be trouble. It is not improbable that this question will go before the board of conciliation provided for in the award of the strike commission.

DESPONDENT CHILD WIFE SEEKS DEATH IN RIVER

Rescued by Police Through Pathetic Letter Describing Her Forlorn Condition.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, April 5.—A pathetic case was brought to the attention of the police today through the attempt of Lola Brock to commit suicide. She is a 15-year-old girl, who has been making her home with her married sister, Mrs. Ellen Morgan, at No. 2146 Neave street. Despite her tender age the girl has been married nearly two years, but her husband, she says, deserted her about five months ago. The girl is despondent and spent today in the house of detention shedding tears. She is plump and pretty.

About 9 o'clock this morning she started for the river with the intention of drowning herself. On the way she dropped an envelope, which was picked up and turned over to the police. The note told of her intention to commit suicide, and the policeman hurried to the river and took charge of her. The note reads as follows:

May God forgive me on this most beautiful Sunday morning for the sins that I have done, and may he forgive my husband for deserting me. My life is a burden and the people all lie on me and say that I am not virtuous, and God knows that I am so. May God forgive me for this crime that I will commit. My sister is mean to me as a dog. I have been at work as a sealing wax factory in West Front street. I live at 2146 Neave street, with my sister. My sister may have that $2 50 for my board. So I say goodby to all my friends in Ohio and Kentucky. My father is dead and mother is alive but don't clear my troubles.

OLD SEA CAPTAIN SCUTTLES THE SHIP

NEW YORK, April 5.—(Special.)—His life insurance policy pledged for his food and lodging and despondent over his unsuccessful efforts to obtain employment, Frederick R. Shubert, who at one time was a sea captain, committed suicide today by inhaling gas at his home, 128 Washington place. Fifty-four years old, he was apparently without friends or relatives and left only directions that the money from his life insurance be used to pay his debts and the expenses of his funeral.

POLICEMEN ASK THAT PENSION FUND BE DISTRIBUTED

Allege That All Are Compelled to Contribute to It, but That a Comparative Few Reap Any Benefit.

"There are 100 men on the police roll tonight, I venture to say, who are paying $30 a year out of their wages into the pension fund, yet who are not permitted to participate in it or allowed to become members of the pension fund association," declared Attorney James Francis Burke last night.

Discharged policemen and others still on the force have asked Attorney James Francis Burke to apply to court to have the pension fund dissolved and to distribute the money.

It is claimed that applicants for membership in the pension fund association are barred for alleged physical disqualification, yet pass the same examination for admission to the police force and are appointed. Notwithstanding that the man is cut off from receiving any benefit from the pension fund, $30 is put in the fund for him every year.

Five or six years ago Daniel Lydon of the Sixth ward entered suit to recover money which he claimed was taken out of his wages and put in the fund, although he was barred from membership. Attorney Burke had charge of the case and Judge White gave a decision in favor of Lydon, although a strong fight was made by the pension fund managers in the superior court and the decision of the lower court reversed.

DODGING DEATH BENEFITS.

Policemen complain that if they become sick from overwork or exposure while on duty or die, their widows or families rarely receive any benefit. In many cases it is claimed that when a policeman takes sick he is put on the suspended list. If he dies he gets no pension, because he is not considered in active service. The constitution and by-laws provide that a death or disability benefit shall only be granted when death or injury occurs in active service. By suspending a man as soon as he gets sick many death benefits are saved the association.

Superintendent of Police John McTighe takes the position that the city and not the police employes is putting the money into the pension fund. Attorney Burke denies this and declares that the city cannot go into the life insurance business. He cites the case of Mrs. Mary A. Freeborn of the South Side, which is still pending in the county courts. About seven years ago her husband was a turnkey in Central police station and was killed by a prisoner. Councils passed an ordinance giving the widow $1,000. Controller H. I. Gourley, acting upon the advice of City Attorney W. C. Moreland, refused to pay the money, claiming that the city had no authority to donate it.

Mrs. Freeborn then brought suit but has not succeeded in getting the money.

A PRIVATE CORPORATION.

"The city has nothing whatever to do with the pension fund," stated Attorney Burke. "It is a private corporation for they employes of the police bureau."

The pension fund for the police bureau was established about 12 years ago. Among those who chartered it were Sol Coulson and Roger O'Mara, who are among those receiving pensions today. The fund was started by an assessment of 1 per cent levied on the wages of the employes. Fines were also added to the fund, and large amounts obtained from benefit balls. From one ball alone $2,500 was realized. Every saloonkeeper in the city was made an honorary member of the association by a contribution of $25, and every saloonkeeper in those days regarded it as a business and political necessity to join, whether he wished to do so or not.

The system of the money being paid into the fund directly by the employes themselves prevailed until about nine or 10 years ago, when the wages of the police were raised. The increase, or a part of it, was not received by the employes, but went into the pension fund, and has since gone into it, no longer passing through the hands of the employe. This latter system has been in vogue so long now that some persons contend the city and not the employe is paying the money.

CONTROL OF THE FUND.

The officers are elected by a board of directors consisting of the city recorder, controller, president of councils, superintendent of police, director of public safety, a captain, lieutenant, patrolman from each district, a sergeant and a wagonman. All these, with the exception of the city controller, are appointed by or through the city recorder, and he is in a position to dictate the selection of the board that shall choose the officers that govern the fund.

There is now said to be in the neighborhood of $175,000 in the pension fund, which is lying on interest in the banks.

While it is claimed that every employe of the police bureau is not admitted to the association it is a fact that $30 is taken from the city treasury every year and put in the pension fund for every employe of the bureau, whether patrolman, clerk, stenographer, messenger or janitor.

THREE WOMEN BADLY INJURED BY STREET CAR

Mrs. Seib, Aged 73, Likely to Die—Mrs. Shaffer, Aged 76, in Serious Condition—Two Had Tried to Save Friend.

While running slowly on Rebecca, near Manhattan street, Allegheny, last night, car No. 105 of the Hanover and Preble line struck and injured three women, one of whom will likely die. The injured are:

MRS. CHRISTINA GEIB, aged 73, of No. 104 Middle street, Allegheny; three severe scalp wounds; will likely die.

MRS. MARIA SHAFFER, aged 76, of No. 73 Second street, Allegheny; scalp wound and badly bruised; condition serious.

MRS. SUZANNE DITTMAR, aged 45 years, of No. 709 Ellsworth street, Allegheny; nose broken.

The three women had been visiting the home of Mrs. Margaret Lapp, at No. 1340 Rebecca street, who had entertained a number of her relatives on her 76th birthday anniversary. Mrs. Geib is a sister of Mrs. Lapp, and Mrs. Shaffer is a sister-in-law. Mrs. Dittmar is Mrs. Lapp's daughter.

Shortly before 8 o'clock the three women left the home of Mrs. Lapp and walked toward the corner of Manhattan street to board a car. Car No. 105, in charge of Conductor H. F. Johnston and Motorman Peter Mouyer, was approaching. In trying to reach the other side of the street to get on the car the three ran.

Mrs. Geib fell in the middle of the track, and her two companions, in attempting to get her from her perilous position, were struck by the car. The two older women were rendered unconscious by the shock and all were carried into the office of Dr. F. H. Frederick, at No. 1355 Rebecca street. After having their injuries attended to they were all taken to their homes in a carriage.

Because of her age and the nature of her injuries it is not thought that Mrs. Geib can recover. Mrs. Shaffer was suffering severely from shock last night and because of her age was thought to be in a serious condition.

Mrs. Dittmar, who is the wife of C. L. Dittmar, ordinance officer of Allegheny, had no injuries other than a broken nose.

Motorman Mouyer said after the accident that had he not been running slowly all the women would certainly have been killed. According to his story they evidently did not notice the approach of the car until it was almost up to them. Then suddenly deciding to reach the corner in time to board it they started across the street. When Mrs. Geib fell her companions stooped to lift her from the track and the car ran into them.

AULTMAN MILLER ASSETS ARE $134,000 SHORT

President Crouse Personally Liable for $1,500,000 of the Indebtedness.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

AKRON, O., April 5.—A statement has been sent out to the creditors of the Aultman Miller Company, which went into the hands of receivers last night, showing that the assets of the company, as fixed by a New York audit company, December 31, are $1,751,650. This is $134,000 short of the liabilities as they stood before that time.

The Hon. George W. Crouse, president of the Aultman Miller Company, is personally liable on over $1,500,000 of the indebtedness. The creditors are numerous banks; those of Chicago holding more of the paper than any other one city. One Chicago broker had placed more than $500,000 of the notes.

The cause of the firm's trouble, Mr. Crouse said tonight, was ruinous business methods into which competing companies for the last 10 years have followed, sending an army of men over the country to sell machinery to any one who would buy regardless of the purchaser's responsibility.

PARADE IN CHICAGO BROKE UP IN A RIOT

Motorman Was Shot and Several Other Men Severely Injured in Disturbance.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, April 5.—Because he tried to force his car through a parade that was blocking traffic in Halsted street tonight, Motorman Zoran was shot and seriously injured by one of the marchers. Nearly 1,000 Italians, who were in the parade, broke ranks as soon as the disturbance began, and a riot followed, in which switching irons, bricks and other missiles were used.

In response to a riot call a score of policemen were on the scene in a few minutes, but before quiet could be restored several persons were severely cut and bruised. Two of the Italians, who it is supposed did the shooting, were arrested.

Aged Man Seeks Divorce.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 5.—(Special.)—Word was received from Trenton today that Chancellor Magie had filed a decree of divorce in a suit brought by Mrs. Emma Wiese against John Wiese of Castleton Corners, S. I. They are probably the oldest couple ever divorced in New Jersey. Wiese is 74 years old, while his wife is only six years his junior.

MORGAN'S FINGER TOUCHED THE SPOT

Enormous Mass of Undigested Securities Clogs Wall Street Market.

NEARLY TWO BILLIONS

That Is the Amount of Stocks and Bonds Which Remains Undistributed and Unbought by the Public—Promoters Scarce.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, April 5.

J. P. Morgan last week called the attention of the financial world to the ailment from which Wall street is suffering. He said it was indigestion and since that time the capitals of two continents have been ringing with the term.

A partial estimate of a list of securities which have been made by American bankers within the last year or more and which have been offered to the public for absorption, but which Wall street says have remained either unabsorbed, tied up in syndicates or are still held by members of the underwriting syndicates, shows that $1,840,500,000 is so involved. This huge amount of capitalization does not represent the cash that has been used in floating the trusts whose securities are now on the market. It is simply the par value of stocks and bonds, the bulk of which remains undisturbed and unbought by the public.

It has been known in Wall street and throughout the financial centers in this country for at least six months that bankers fight shy at any new attempt to make securities.

The prominent banking houses in this city, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia are averse to taking up any proposition calling for funds which will be returned in due course by the sale of stocks and bonds to the public.

PROMOTERS ARE SCARCE.

Promoters as a result are said to be as scarce as mosquitoes in January. They have abandoned attempts to effect the consolidations and trusts which were the feature of the financial markets a few years ago. The list of monthly incorporations in the principal charter granting states of the east have been falling off month by month for the last year.

The clogged condition of the security market, especially for new stocks, has served to draw attention to contemplated new issues and the manner in which they will be received. The syndicate which J. P. Morgan & Co. formed to carry through the tremendous stock conversion plan of the United States Steel Corporation was formed a year ago when the project for the conversion of $200,000,000 of preferred stock and the issuance of $50,000,000 new 5 per cent bonds was decided upon.

It is admitted that the cash required for the issuance of the $50,000,000 new bonds will have to be supplied through the agency of the underwriters, for none of the stockholders can be expected to buy those bonds at $1,000 a bond when they are selling in the open market at a price now below the preferred stock. On Saturday last the price for the new 5 per cent bonds of the United States Steel Corporation sold fractionally below the preferred stock, which was quoted on the stock exchange at 85¾ at the close.

MARKET VERY SENSITIVE.

The market broke on the news that the stockholders of the Pennsylvania would be called upon to take new stock with the rights, while the report that the New York Central proposed to issue new capital caused a serious break in the price of that stock.

"The brand of the security," said a well-known Wall street banker, "does not help its sale to the public to any material extent at the present time. A year or more ago anything that bore the stamp of J. P. Morgan & Co. went with the investor. They took it and put it away in their boxes. It was the same with the other great banking houses whose names carry weight and prestige. Now it is the syndicates which are bearing the brunt of the congested state of the security market. Our bankers have presented a sumptuous banquet to a hungry man. He has eaten fully and now we must give him time to work up his appetite again."

SIR WILLIAM WEDS.

Titled Inmate of English Workhouse Wooed, Wedded and Liberated.

LONDON, April 6.—(Special Cable.)—After experiencing more than the ordinary vicissitudes of life, Sir William Gordon MacGregor, recently an inmate of the Westham workhouse, was yesterday married at Bristol. Publicity being given to his presence in a workhouse Sir William MacGregor, when his plight became known, received many offers of marriage and a Bristol lady successfully sought an interview on behalf of her sister, the companion of a wealthy spinster living a few miles out of the city. Sir William MacGregor was wooed and won by deputy and the deputy herself yesterday became his bride.

Miss Alice Gulliver, who is now Lady MacGregor, induced the baronet to take his discharge from the workhouse and travel to Bristol with her. The couple declared they knew of no impediment to their union. The best man produced the ring, which the baronet placed on the bride's finger. The baronet then signed the register and the bride followed suit.

Sir William MacGregor and Lady MacGregor will remain a few days in Clifton. The bridegroom is already casting about for a means of earning a livelihood.

BULLETS RIDDLED A BURGLAR'S BODY

PENN YAN, N. Y., April 5.—The series of burglaries which has been stirring the country around Nimrods for years was cleared up in a tragic manner this morning. The night operator at Nimrods thought he heard an explosion in the store of Eleed & Forbess. He gave an alarm and a crowd of villagers surrounded the place. A man's form was seen in the store and he was commanded to surrender. For reply he boldly opened the door and drawing a revolver, fired point blank at the crowd. The bullet failed to reach its mark, and before he could fire again, his body was riddled with bullets. He fell and died soon after.

Senator Cockrell's Son Elopes.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—(Special.)—Ephraim B. Cockrell, son of United States Senator Cockrell of Missouri, and Miss Hazel H. Hogan of Webster Groves were married today after a strenuous four or five hours spent in securing a marriage license and the services of a minister. The parents of Miss Hogan wanted them to wait a year or two on account of the girl's age; she is only 15, the bridegroom is 22. They departed immediately after their wedding for Kansas City and wired Mr. and Mrs. Hogan and Senator Cockrell while enroute.

The Sunday Gazette Easily Took the Palm Yesterday.

In no line of literary work has there been as much progress in the last 20 years as there has been by the daily newspapers, especially the Sunday paper, and in the remarkable strides that have been made The Sunday Gazette has been always at the van.

The eight large sections of 60 pages of The Sunday Gazette yesterday were filled with all the latest news, special articles on a variety of subjects, illustrations that cannot be beaten and three fine colored parts.

"As You Like It," the country residence of Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., on Sewickley Heights, one of the most magnificent homes of the kind in the country, was fully described, together with its surroundings. One whole section was devoted to Atlantic City, everything of interest as to the past, present and future of the seashore mecca of Pittsburghers being told in a bright, breezy style. Other interesting and timely articles were:

A Pittsburgher Sent First Wireless Message from Porto Rico; greetings to Miss Alice Roosevelt, by E. P. Hodges; Characteristics of the Chirography of Pittsburgh Society Women, by Janey Coard Smith; Dueling to Be Revived in France, by Algernon C. Dougherty; The Truth About Ireland, by Karl Blind, Ph. D.; Col. Monroe on Trusts, by Frederick Upham Adams; The Second Wife, by Dorothy Dix; Dogs' Portraits in Oils, by Grace Duffie Boylan; Gentlemen's Fashions, by editor of Vogue; Monte Carlo of the West, by H. G. Tinsley; In a Confederate Museum, by Gilberta S. Whittle; To Manage a Man, by Helen Rowland; A Floredora Party, by Nellie G. Coleman; Mister Coon's Slot Machine, by Chas. M. Payne; Mother Goose Illustrated, by Ludwig Henning; Home Birds and How They Look, by James Speed; Blossoms from Paradise, by Elliott Randall; The City of the Angels, by Hamilton Wright; The Major's Match, by Howard Markle Hoke; Zangwill, Before and After, by George Seibel; Art in Meerschaum, by August Hiller; Men and Tea, by Grace Anne McKenzie; Latest Fad in Photography, by Nina Marbourg.

The funny pages, the fashion part and the wonderful and jingly Mother Goose sections were all in colors and more interesting than usual, if that could be possible. Sports, theatricals, books, markets, labor, capital, society and all the other regular departments of an up-to-date newspaper were covered in the usual inimitable style of The Sunday Gazette.

DETERMINED TO KILL HIMSELF

Edward Kelsey Failed at Suicide Three Times but Finally Succeeded.

WIFE HAD STOPPED HIM

Several Other Cases for the Coroner Yesterday—Pathetic Incident in the Death of Policeman Quigg.

After making three attempts to end his life Edward Kelsey of No. 2243 Arch street, succeeded on the fourth attempt by hanging himself to the bed post in his room yesterday. He was despondent because of ill-health. Kelsey was 44 years old and a blacksmith.

The dead man's wife prevented him from destroying himself three times yesterday. When he got up in the morning he broke open a trunk, where she had hidden a revolver from him. She snatched the revolver. Later he tried to cut his throat with a razor. Last night he got a clothes line and was about to destroy himself when his wife discovered him and took the line from him. About 8 o'clock she was working in the kitchen and missed her husband.

Kelsey had in the meantime gone to his room and placing a thick piece of twine about the bedpost strangled himself to death. His daughter Ada went to the room and noticed the form of her father hanging out of the side of the bed. She called her mother and sister, Mrs. Annie Cook. They cut their father down. As his body was still warm Dr. L. C. Langfitt was summoned. When he arrived he said the man was dead. Kelsey worked for the Oil Well Supply Company and leaves a widow and nine children.

ONE MORE BRADDOCK VICTIM.

Another victim was added to Tuesday's disaster of the deadly "fang" at the Edgar Thomson steel works at Braddock when Andrew Berret, 35 years old, died at the Mercy hospital yesterday. He had been badly burned about the head and shoulders. Berret leaves a widow and three children. He was the ninth victim, and lived at Rankin.

John Kartz of Fourth avenue, McKeesport, died at his home yesterday morning from injuries received Friday in the National tube works at that place. He was a laborer and was crushed by falling metal.

Annie Fairbauch, 34 years old, of No. 86 Villa street, Allegheny, was found dead in bed yesterday morning at her home. Rheumatism of the heart was the cause of death.

Rose Caruso, 1 year old, of Talbot street, Braddock, died yesterday morning of heart disease.

Catherine Porado, 1 year old, of McKees Rocks, died at her home yesterday morning of heart disease.

HOW QUIGG WAS KILLED.

Policeman John Quigg, who was killed on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad Saturday night, was on a passenger train and fell between two cars, while walking from one to another. The patrol wagon he was accustomed to drive hauled him back to the station, from where his body was sent home. Only a week ago he buried his sister, with whom he lived at No. 235 Virginia avenue, and his only remaining relative is a niece, Mrs. J. Q. Hamilton, who lives next door.

A 4-year-old boy was brought to the South Side hospital yesterday afternoon by his parents, badly burned about the right side and he died at 10 o'clock last night. The hospital authorities neglected to take the names of the parents while they were at the hospital and only know that he was burned at his home in Homestead. The body was turned over to the morgue to await the coming of the parents.

HAD A NICE FUNERAL.

Students Slain at Salamanca, Spain, Buried With All Possible Honor.

MADRID, April 5.—Slight disorders, arising out of the student demonstration yesterday, continued here until midnight Saturday, since which time the city has been quiet. The prefect has issued a proclamation forbidding public gatherings. The lower quarters of the city are patrolled by mounted police.

The victims of the riots at Salamanca last Thursday, three students, were buried at Salamanca with great solemnity. All the authorities, including the rector and professors of the university, in their academic robes, attended the funeral.

Burned Himself to Death.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., April 5.—Louis Dotsmeier, aged 46, a consumptive from Buffalo, N. Y., committed suicide last night in a terrible manner. He poured three gallons of kerosene over his body and set fire to his clothing. He was burned to death in a few minutes.

HAPPENINGS OF A DAY.

REBELS REPULSE ASSAULT ON CITY

Government Forces Made Futile Attempt to Capture Santo Domingo City.

MARINES LAND AGAIN

Commander Turner of the Gunboat Atlanta Cables Washington of Fighting—Town Is Strongly Fortified.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—A report to the navy department today from Commander Turner of the cruiser Atlanta at Santo Domingo City shows another repulse to the government troops who made an attempt to take the city from the revolutionists, and that Commander Turner was again compelled to land marines to protect the United States consulate.

Commander Turner's dispatch is as follows:

"Government forces attacked city yesterday; were repulsed. Report indicates Vasquez (the president) approaching with strong force. Government gunboat fired three shots last night without injury. City fortified; apparently determined to resist. Landed marines to protect the consulate."

One day last week Commander Turner landed a force of 50 marines to guard the United States consulate at Santo Domingo City, when the situation there was regarded as very critical.

SANTO DOMINGO CITY, Thursday, April 2.—No engagement has taken place this morning between the government troops and the rebels, but large government forces are now marching on the town and an attack is momentarily expected. The rebels are making great preparations for resistance.

In yesterday's engagement at Pajarito the contending forces used firearms and cutlasses. Several persons were killed inside the city by stray shots. The government gunboat Presidente bombarded the town last night and one shell fell inside the yard of the German consulate, but did not explode. The surgeon of the Atlanta assisted in attending to the wounded in the Pajarito fight. Many of the wounded died for want of timely assistance.

The members of the consular and diplomatic corps here met today and appointed a commission to notify both sides that they must observe the rules of war and to demand 24 hours' notice before any attack is made on the town in order that the foreign residents may go to a place of safety.

All places of business are closed and the situation is extremely critical.

AUSTRIAN TROOPS PREPARE TO MOVE

Agram, Sarajevo and Temesvar Army Corps Ready to Occupy Mitrovitza.

RIOTING IN BELGRADE

Balkan Situation Still Ominous. Mohammedan Population of Bosnia and Herzegovia Secretly Arming to Aid in Rebellion.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, April 6.—There is little further development in the Balkan crisis since Saturday. The rumor of the death of M. Stcherbina, the Russian consul at Mitrovitza, who was shot by an Albanian sentry, proves to have been premature, but the consul's condition is serious and symptoms of peritonitis have appeared. It is reported that the Albanian soldier who shot him has been sentenced to 15 years' hard labor.

According to a dispatch from Constantinople the Austrian, Russian and British ambassadors have had audiences of the sultan, on whom they impressed the necessity of suppressing the Albanian agitation. The sultan informed them that in the event of the failure of the pacificatory mission that he had dispatched to Albania, he would take measures for the military occupation of the disturbed region.

The Daily Mail's correspondent at Vienna asserts that Austria has mobilized her Agram, Sarajevo and Temesvar army corps in readiness to occupy Mitrovitza should such a measure become necessary. The correspondent further affirms that a dangerous agitation exists among the Mohammedan population of Bosnia and Herzegovia, which is secretly arming itself in spite of all official precautions with the intention, it is feared, of emigrating into Old Servia to swell the ranks of the insurgent Albanians.

A telegram from Belgrade reports that rioting has taken place there as the outcome of a demonstration against an objectionable police regulation and several police were wounded in the course of the disorders.

E. J. MARTIN IS STILL MISSING

Without Him a Meeting of Select Council Cannot Be Secured Today.

NO CALL YET ISSUED

Citizens Trying to Force a Special Session, While the Law States That City Clerks Shall Be Elected a Week Later.

City Clerk Edward J. Martin is missing, and as a consequence there is great worry among the Citizens councilmen who wish to obtain Martin's aid in securing his own removal from office. City Clerk Martin is the only official who has authority to call a special meeting of select council for to-day to hold a joint session with common council and elect a new city clerk and assistant as proposed by the Citizens.

The city clerk left the city hall at the close of regular hours on Saturday at noon. All day and almost all night Saturday and again yesterday the Citizens made a systematic but vain search for the missing clerk. He could not be found, even with the aid of the "front office" men of the police bureau, who were called into service. Martin may reappear to-day and he may not. If he does not his continued absence will not concern his friends as much as his opponents.

President C. S. Crawford of common council, who is conducting the search for the city clerk and also arranging for the council meeting to-day, stated yesterday that no notices had been sent out, but he claimed that there would be enough Republicans present to-day to hold a joint session. He counted on 20 members from select council, 18 Citizens and two Republicans. When asked who the two Republicans were, he declined to give their names.

Select Councilman John A. Murphy stated yesterday that he did not believe the Citizens would get two Republican members from select council. President Crawford intimated that a couple of Republicans had signed the request to the city clerk to call a meeting of select council, but other Citizens who saw the list of names state that there were no Republicans among them.

Mr. Murphy said that the city clerk was the only person authorized to call a meeting of select council. He also stated that the law provided that the city clerks shall be elected at the first regular meeting of councils in April, although the Citizens are attempting to hold an election at a special session a week in advance of the legal time. He said the Republican members are willing to hold an election at the time appointed by law, but not before.

It looks as if the Citizens' efforts to hold a special session to-day and force an election of city clerks will result in failure, for there is no evidence that any Republican has deserted, and without two accessions from the Republicans the Citizens cannot hold a meeting for an election.

CHURCH DIVISION OPPOSED.

Movement to Divide First Presbyterian Congregation, Wilkinsburg, Is Doomed to Defeat.

The movement to divide the congregation of the First Presbyterian church, Wilkinsburg, of which the Rev. Dr. Thomas Parry is pastor, and organize a second church in the borough, is said to have met with very poor encouragement. None of the members appear willing to break away from the mother church, and it is thought that at the meeting of the Pittsburgh presbytery tomorrow in the First church, Pittsburgh, the committee will recommend that no division be made.

The church recently promised to build an edifice in Swissvale avenue for the members living in that vicinity and allow them $600 a year for the support of a pastor until they could become self-sustaining. The movement, however, has at no time had any enthusiastic support and it is believed that presbytery will close the incident by voting against the separation.

This church is one of the largest in point of membership in the country. The building has a seating capacity of only 1,200, while the membership is about 2,000. It is a wealthy congregation and every year contributes large sums to church work.

Representative Ketcham Better.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Representative John H. Ketcham of New York city, who has been ill for some time was taken to New York city today. Though somewhat improved the patient showed the effects of his sickness and was very weak. He was accompanied by several relatives, a physician and two trained nurses.

POLITICS TELLS ON E. M. BIGELOW

Director of Public Works Too Indisposed to See His Friends.

APPOINTMENTS SLOW

More Talk of Harmony Among Republican Factions—A. C. Robertson's Proposed Conference May Have Some Results.

Director E. M. Bigelow of the department of public works was too ill to leave his house yesterday. Friends who had appointments with him were unable to see him. At Mr. Bigelow's home it was said that his illness was not serious. He has not been in good health for some time, and the strenuous time he has been having since his reappointment as director of the department of public works, has given him a setback.

Director Bigelow has already said that he would announce no more appointments to bureau superintendencies and chief clerkships until Recorder W. B. Hays and the department heads have finished consulting with the Citizens party ward committees regarding appointments. The positions about which the ward committees are giving advice are only the minor places in the city government. Their advice is not asked concerning the better paid jobs. Nevertheless, Director Bigelow says he will announce no appointments until the ward committee conferences are over.

The positions in the gift of James W. Clark, director of the department of public charities, are mainly minor ones, and he also says he will make no appointments until all the ward committees have been consulted. Director Harry Moore of the department of public safety is expected to announce to-morrow the names of the superintendents of bureaus and chief clerks whom he has not yet announced.

Speculation is rife regarding the result of the conference which A. C. Robertson, chairman of the Republican county committee, is to hold next Saturday with Republican leaders on the proposition to call the primaries for May 16. The present excitement over the election of city clerk and assistant city clerk makes the proposed harmony in the Republican party appear to be in the dim and distant future, yet it would not surprise the politicians to see proposals for harmony grow out of the present apparently bitter contest.

Recorder Hays had so much trouble ascertaining how he could satisfy the Democrats in the present distribution of offices that it would not surprise the politicians if his experience of the aftermath of a fusion movement would lead him to be a strong advocate of harmony in the Republican factions.

LAST OFFICIAL ACT WAS ONE OF CHARITY

Recorder John R. Murphy of Allegheny Has a Fellow Feeling for Victims of Rheumatism.

An old man, bent almost double with age and disease, one hand resting heavily on a stout cane, the other grasping a long stick, about the top of which were wrapped some old rags, crept slowly toward Allegheny city hall yesterday afternoon.

At the window in the bureau of detectives' office stood Recorder John R. Murphy, himself hobbling about with the assistance of two canes. Suffering with acute rheumatism, the recorder watched with interest the approach of the old stranger. At the foot of the steps the old man stopped and raised his head. His hat hand was a strip of palm leaf.

"Tom, go down and see what the old man wants," said Recorder Murphy to Detective O'Brien. The latter helped the old man down to the basement. With some difficulty Recorder Murphy limped down the stairs.

"What's your name, dad?" asked Murphy, in his bluff way.

"Mike Finnessey," was the reply. Mike said that despite his 78 years he had walked from Butler since Saturday morning. He was homeless and suffering with rheumatism. The recorder's heart went out to him in their common misery.

"Sergeant, see that the old man is made comfortable and send out and get him something to eat right away," said Murphy, as he labored painfully up to the front office, after making his last official act one of charity.

WANT CHINESE LABORERS.

Commissioners from South Africa to Investigate Employment of Coolies.

NEW YORK, April 5.—H. Herbert Noyes and H. Ross Skinner, from Johannesburg, Transvaal, commissioners appointed by the British government to proceed to China for the purpose of investigating Chinese labor, with a view to its employment in the mines of the Transvaal, arrived in New York today on the Cunard line steamer Umbria, from Liverpool. They are on their way to San Francisco, where they will inquire into the methods of working and value of Chinese labor as employed in California.

Owing to the insufficiency of native labor in the Transvaal the immigration of Asiatics under government control is favored by the authorities there.

Braddock Printing Office Burned.

An increase of $100,000,000 is promised in the assessed valuation of property in Pittsburgh as a result of the triennial appraisement this year. That is a goodly advance in values. No doubt, either, values are increasing in this growing and prosperous city. But it will be a grateful relief to the taxpayers, whose property is thus becoming more desirable, if the addition of $100,000,000 to the total shall be accompanied by a decrease in the millage levied upon it. This, however, can be best accomplished by the development of other sources of revenue aside from direct levy upon real estate.

While the treasury statement shows a remarkably strong condition at the close of business on March 31, considered exclusively from the treasury point of view, it indicates the wholly unnecessary withdrawal of money from circulation. The items of "cash in the treasury" aggregate $1,355,375,825, including nearly $641,000,000 gold coin and bullion. There are certificates in circulation, issued against a part of this enormous total, but the idle reserve fund and the "available cash balance" or surplus amount to $372,921,988. A part of this is on deposit in banks, but it would be better for the country if another $60,000,000 of it was in active circulation for the transaction of the business of the people.

Possibly the vigorous search that was prosecuted yesterday for a clerk of councils to have a call issued for a meeting of the select branch may have borne in upon the citizens councilmen an adequate idea of the value of an official with experience. The clerk that was wanted had not been found at a late hour last evening, and the prospect for a joint session today was not bright. Without a joint session the slated new clerks cannot be elected just yet. There will be time to think the matter over, and it may be those who are now most insistent upon a quick change may see the wisdom of retaining men who have learned the routine of legislative proceeding and the rules of the game.

Turtle Creek is lending some variety to the monotony of borough life. At one and the same time it proposes a practical improvement in its fire department and a sentimental resolve to enforce a curfew regulation against all persons under the age of 16 years. The borough is wise to have better protection against fire, as its rows of buildings are becoming more solid and extended. As to the wisdom of the other move there may be difference of opinion. The most effective curfew is usually that enforced by the head of the family, but where that fails it may be that borough authority may succeed. At least we hope the young people of Turtle Creek will themselves see that is better to be at home than on the streets at late hours of the night.

It is an old saying and wise that "some people are never satisfied." Schulberg, the socialist orator, who fumed in Pittsburgh yesterday, is one of them. He denounced the coal strike commission in intemperate language and paid his compliments to John Mitchell in terms not complimentary. Nearly everybody else has been satisfied with the coal strike commission and its work. The miners have been satisfied, the operators nearly so, and the general public [illegible]. As for Mr. Mitchell, the miners [illegible] with him, the public made [illegible] and the operators had more complaint [illegible] at the end of the strike [illegible] for him [illegible]ng. Schulberg, however, [illegible] at the beginning [illegible] of them, and it may [illegible] disgusted with all [illegible] that everybody could be fair to say [illegible] with him. [illegible] is equally disgusted.

[illegible]mation in the [illegible] There is a good deal of info[illegible]ury bureau [illegible]ograph issued by the treas[illegible]ports of [illegible] statistics dealing with the e[illegible] since [illegible]ufactures from the United State[illegible]tant [illegible]. There has been a nearly com[illegible] of [illegible]th in the total and the proportion [illegible]ufactured articles until recently the in[illegible]se of the latter has been at an accelerated rate. In othe[illegible] words, the United States [illegible]790 was a pastoral country. It is now [illegible]ming an industrial country. It con[illegible]es a greater proportion of its own agricultural products and exports to other countries more products of manufacture. This process is likely to continue until the United States consumes nearly all of the food it produces, and that means a continuously increasing strain of competition with other industrial countries, for while they may welcome our bread and beef, they will not welcome the output of our machinery. They may even resent it bitterly and strenuously.

This evening the house at Harrisburg will have the technical school site and annexation bills on its first reading calendar. Of course, they will be read. When they appear on the second reading calendar, if they are very far down, heroic work will be needed to advance them to passage. It is not now a question of opposition on the floor, but of time. Thursday of next week the legislature will adjourn, and it will be busy in the meantime, morning, noon and night. There has been a mysterious influence retarding these bills of so much interest to Pittsburgh, and though it is said "orders" are out to pass them, it will be well to have their legislative course well guarded, for there was never yet an adjournment with the calendars cleaned of all meritorious measures. Those who have been through the hurly-burly of the last 10 days of a session know what sort of business will begin with this evening and continue with intermissions for sleep and juggling with the calendars to the end.

Different in Cleveland..

The two street railway companies of Cleveland, O., known as the Big Consolidated and the Little Consolidated, are to be combined in a short time by United States Senator Mark Hanna, and after the consolidation seven tickets will be sold for 25 cents and a universal transfer system will go into effect. It is different in Pittsburgh. Consolidation of the street railway interests here has resulted in no improvement whatever. There is no reduction in fare, but only in standing room, the traction magnates failing in their duty of maintaining their power and equipment equal to the increase of street railway travel. There is no universal transfer system as a result of the consolidation of the street railways operating in Pittsburgh, but a mere continuance of slipshod transfer arrangements that antedate the union of the former competing lines. There has been no betterment, for the new traction combine embraced in the Philadelphia Company family of public service corporations is a law unto itself, and a very poor law it is, when the whole truth is told.

Not only do the people pay the same street car fare as before consolidation, but they get less for it—unless the extra squeezing due to the greater crowding of cars be accepted as a return for the money. It is often the case that an insufficient number of straps are provided for the people who stand inside the cars. Why should the people of Pittsburgh be made pay the same fare for worse service than they paid for service that was less bad—for it would be unfair to speak of it as better. If the traction corporations of Cleveland without perpetual franchises can serve the public for a remuneration of only 25 cents for seven trips, why can't the traction combine of Pittsburgh do the same? Is it because its perpetual franchises make its managers superior to the need of serving the public? There comes a day of reckoning for the public service corporation that operates on a term franchise, but the corporation that has a perpetual grant has no such fear before its eyes. The one is therefore under the necessity of giving some approach to an adequate service, while the other is without similar spur. There is always, however, the prospect that the courts if appealed to might decree forfeiture of franchise because of failure to faithfully fulfill the conditions of the implied contract of the perpetual grant. It will be wise for the managers of the corporation whose duty it is to serve Pittsburgh to take this point under consideration.

Some Needless Worry.

Germany is worrying again. The boerse is depressed on account of the threatening situation in the Balkans and the fancied uncertainty of things in New York. As to the Macedonian matter, there is real cause for German apprehension. The New York situation, on the other hand, is not as serious as it appears through German spectacles. London makes a better estimate of it and takes a more cheery tone. The Balkan trouble may make Europe tremble, but the Southern Pacific squabble menaces only those who are speculating in future deliveries.

Berlin is agitated, too, over Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan's recent interview expressing confidence in business and financial conditions in the United States. The Germans reason that because Mr. Morgan's interests are very large his views are prejudiced and he is an unreliable guide. They may well cease worrying on that score. Mr. Morgan's interests are large because his judgment is good and because he does not allow it to be unduly influenced by his holdings. Mr. Morgan's judgment is based upon cold facts and his various large interests enable him to get at the truth no matter how well it may be concealed.

Mr. Morgan's opinion of business and financial conditions in this country is indorsed by authority equally as high as Mr. Morgan. For example, it is indorsed by the operations of great corporations that plan their movements to fit the conditions existing and that can be seen ahead. All such are expanding for a continuation of good times and it is not likely all are mistaken.

Industrial Schools.

It appears to lie between Pittsburgh and Chicago as to which shall have the French industrial school. Both cities are typical of American hustle. Both are growing rapidly out of their abundant prosperity. Either might serve as a lesson to the young Frenchmen who are to be sent over for an addition to their ordinary education, that is intended to make them extraordinarily useful to the world. It is but natural that the [illegible] authorities hesitate to choose between the [illegible] two which one shall be the site of the [illegible]ol from which so much is expected.

Pittsburgh has [illegible] the better claim, however, and we believe it will be finally recognized. Pittsburgh is really industrial; Chicago is essentially mercantile. Nowhere in the world has the genius of trade reached the heights exemplified in Chicago. Nowhere in the world has industry developed to the degree it has here in Pittsburgh. We do not mean that Chicago has no industrial life, nor do we mean that Pittsburgh is halting in commerce. These things are well blended in both places, but in Pittsburgh industrial achievement rises supreme, while in Chicago the mercantile spirit leads.

France, if we understand rightly, desires to send its young men to this country to imbibe the "American practice." It desires particularly to have its young men imbued with the highest spirit of progressive engineering and industrial methods. For that purpose Pittsburgh is the best place. If the school shall go to Chicago, however, Pittsburgh will shed no tears. It is less interested in educating the young men of France in its best practice than it is in educating its own young men to help for the future the industrial supremacy that has been won by it. Pittsburgh is a hundred times more interested in the Carnegie technical school than in anything that pertains in any way to France.

A Severe Test.

The New Zealand compulsory arbitration law is undergoing a severe trial, and if it emerges successfully the system may be regarded as solidly established. Some time ago, in a wage dispute between a union of cabinet makers and their employers, the court found in favor of the union and ordered an advance of wages. The employers are bound to pay the judicial rate if they continue manufacture, but they have decided to shut down their works and buy furniture to supply their trade. Thus the union, although the court decided in its favor, finds itself locked out.

In order to maintain this lock-out the employers have to go out of business as manufacturers, so that they are subjecting themselves to a business penalty in resisting the award. The New Zealand government, however, will not let the case rest there. It has been decided to prosecute the employers for breach of the award, and prominent officials hold that the government should find employment for the men who have been locked out.

The proceedings exhibit a very advanced view of the duty of government as regards the relations between capital and labor. New Zealand having adopted the principle that wage disputes are subject to judicial settlement seems prepared to go to any length to uphold it. It has made itself famous as a country without strikes, and is enjoying great prosperity, but the system has not yet been tried long enough to demonstrate its permanent value.

A Naval Staff.

If a general staff is a good thing for the army it would seem that it ought to be a good thing for the navy. When the president and the war department reached the conclusion that a general staff organization would be a good thing for the army it was necessary to go to congress for permission to establish it, and it was only after long and bitter controversy and an impressive exploitation of his opposition to it by Gen. Miles that at last congress gave its assent. With regard to the navy it is different. In this branch of the nation's defense there is, fortunately, less minute regulation of detail by legislation than in the army, and much with regard to organization is left to the head of the navy department that congress does not trust to the war secretary. It rested with congress whether there should be an army general staff, but it rests with the secretary of the navy whether there shall be or shall not be a naval general staff. Admiral Dewey, Rear Admiral Taylor, chief of the bureau of navigation, and all the members of the general board except Rear Admiral Bradford favor it. It is opposed, in addition to Bradford, by Rear Admiral O'Neil, chief of the bureau of ordnance; Rear Admiral Melville, chief of the bureau of steam engineering; Rear Admiral Bowles, chief constructor of the navy, all of whom compose the board of construction. The ground of their opposition is not fully set forth, but doubtless it has much the same basis as the opposition Gen. Miles showed to the organization of a general staff for the army—fear that their powers may be interfered with and their importance be thereby lessened. Secretary Moody, when he returns to Washington, will have this important matter to decide, and it is to be hoped that his decision will be for the good of the service, regardless of the personal feelings of chiefs of bureaus, whether those feelings be merely selfish or the outgrowth of proper professional pride.

It has been said that the better preparedness of the navy at the beginning of the Spanish war was due in large degree to the nearer approach in the navy than in the army to a general staff system. The navy, for example, has no officer whose position of command is analogous to that of "the general commanding the army." The navy department has been entirely unhampered in its dealings with the commanders of fleets by consideration for the feelings of any such person as an admiral commanding the navy, for there has been none. Dewey as an admiral of full rank outranks Gen. Miles, but Dewey does not command the navy. He is merely its ranking officer. If the high efficiency of the navy is due in any considerable degree to the nearness of its organization to the general staff system, it would seem to be the course of wisdom to perfect its organization by establishing a general staff. The subject is at least worthy of the careful study of the secretary of the navy.

If the secretary of the United States treasury would travel with more money in his purse or begin earlier in the day to negotiate his checks he might catch his train and at the same time avoid getting himself classed with King Edward and the founder of the Bank of England or such other cheap people as float around Chicago hotels and bother the cashier.

If the published prospectus of the Pittsburg triennial assessment holds out the feeling of the man that broke the bank at Monte Carlo won't be mentionable on the same day with those of City Treasurer Frauenheim.

WHAT THE FROST BIT.

"Frost bit us pretty hard, out in the country," said the old stager as he shed his overcoat. Peach crop ruined. Damson plums scotched, wax cherries cooked, Dyehouse and Morello cherries injured, summer pears bitten. Perfect slaughter, my boy, and as if that wasn't enough, the lilac buds were frozen stiff, the deutzia touched and the exchordia grandiflora wilted. Oh, it was nearly hard enough to kill tulips and hyacinths and the way it took the rose bushes made their leaves curl.

"Now, we'll get real spring by and by, after Easter you know. 'Papoose spring' is all right in its way to start the sweet water running in the sugar trees for the copper-hued baby, but when it comes too early, becomes too fervent, or stays too long it is no handmaiden to prosperity. Here's a sugar war on and a prospect of not much fruit to make 'preserves' of.

"Damage? Hard to tell. Computed on the same basis as the paper profits that are lost in the stock market it amounts to millions, of course. Uncle Josh, however, doesn't count his chickens before they're hatched, reckon his steers before they go to market, or spend the profits before he picks his gears. Differs from the youth who plays the tape in the bucketshop. He hasn't any losses this morning, though he may 'low as how the profits this year aint agoin' to be ez good ez they nought 'a' ben.' The farmer man is generally a bit of a philosopher who has discovered that he can consult the weather probabilities in connection with his business, but that the weather never pays any attention to his wishes.

"A May frost doesn't make a famine in this big country. When there is no fruit the good wife may can rhubarb and put more onions in the cellar. The apple crop has not been hurt and it's a ten to one shot there will be more breakfast foods on the market next winter than were known last autumn. There will be plenty of food to keep up Yankee enterprise, even if there is less surplus to jump the German tariff barrier. If anybody starves it will be more likely to be the German or Austrian than the American.

"Speaking of enterprise and ingenuity reminds me that some Yankees down in Texas have just found a way to make paper out of yellow pine shavings. Paper pulp has been made heretofore from hemlock and spruce wood. The supply is limited and there has been much talk about a scarcity of raw material. Just at this juncture a Texas lumber company with the assistance of a chemical engineer, discovered and applied a process whereby they can convert three tons of yellow pine shavings and sawdust into one ton of good news paper. The cost of raw material is estimated at $1 a ton. Yellow pine timber, green, is worth about $6 a ton in Texas, so if the whole timber was used there would be a profit in it.

+ + + +

"This country is so full of resources, has so much raw material, that the utilization of waste products has only recently been seriously considered. Of course, ideas have been imported from poorer countries where economy is necessary to existence. Here we have lowered shop costs by multiplying per capita output through the increased speed of machinery. When the pinch comes, however, the way out is quickly found as in this matter of paper making. The first concern in this country to make a specialty of by-product economy was the Standard Oil Company. It now manufactures about 200 valuable commodities from crude mineral oil, the ultimate waste being less than 1 per cent. It has found great wealth in wise economy.

+ + + +

"A severe freeze following a protracted 'papoose spring' is a pretty serious thing, young man, but it would bear harder upon another country than upon this with its matchless crude resources and over $640,000,000 of gold in the treasury. The name of American citizen is a proud title."

JOURNALISTIC.

The latest addition to the list of newspapers in Pittsburgh is the Post-News, issued by the Post-News Publishing Company, Ferguson building. It is a 32-page publication devoted to postal, financial, industrial, real estate, and other similar interests. It is filled with well-edited matter pertaining to these subjects. The advertising columns are liberally patronized. Mechanically the paper is quite well made, and it will doubtless be welcomed by the business man and wage-earner.

The Quiet Observer.

ERASMUS WILSON.

There is no necessity for calling on Hobson, at least not yet. We have, right here at home, several men—gentlemen, if you prefer—who pride themselves upon being the equals of Hobson, or any other osculator, professional or amateurs.

Like Hobson, these object to being called kissing bugs; also, to their scalpers being designated kissing bees. They claim that it is an art, in which the more successful belong to the impressionist school. Being an art, or being classed as a fine art, removes it from things common or unclean, and lifts its devotees far enough above "Jack, the Kisser" and all other sensualists and would-be jokers.

Because the Pittsburgh man is a busy man, and has his hands full of coal, iron and other heavy pdoducts, ye fair ladies must not conclude that he is not gentle, or is not an adept in the gentler arts; even to the softer and sillier, if so you please to designate some of them.

Strength, you know, adds to gentleness in man. Knowing his strength he neither trembles nor shakes when he takes hold. It is the dentist with the weak wrist and infirm biceps, who hurts you most when pulling your tooth. The really strong-armed dentist is the gentle man you should look for.

* * * * *

Mr. Quiet Observer: I am very glad that "Doubtful" came to you with his troubles, for I have been troubled in the same way and didn't know where to go for advice, not being aware that you were on The Gazette.

From some of the answers given to "Doubtful's" letter it seems that some people think that we girls ought to know everything, but we all haven't the swelled head that had. For my own part I know there are whole lots of things I don't know, and one of them is whether or not it would be wrong to allow my sweetheart a kiss now and then. Some say to go by your heart. If I did that way he wouldn't have to kiss me, for I would kiss him.

Some of the answers make light of it, but I tell you it is not a light thing for the girl who wants to do right, and wants to kiss her sweetheart, too. A girl told me that she lost her dearest and most beloved just by allowing him to kiss her. He was of the jealous sort, and thought that because he could kiss her all the fellows could, and she couldn't make him believe that he was the only one. He was foolish, I think.

Please get the right answer soon, for I am waiting, and there are others.

YUM-YUM.

New Castle, Pa.

* * * * *

Dear Quiet Observer: I suppose when Miss "Doubtful" sees "Barthold's" answer to her inquiry, she will allow him six months longer to spoon to his heart's content. Now, there is the benefit she derives from making a third person her confidant in such a private, and I might add, such a sacred matter.

For the sake of maidenhood I sincerely hope she does not follow the advice of "Barthold," but that she heed the motherly advice of "A Matron," who I hope proves to be her guardian angel against her impulse to get soft. My advice would be for her to study and consider the advice of both, then use her own judgment as to which is best for her to follow.

And I might add that I know it to be a fact that a young man (being one myself) thinks more of a young lady with whom he cannot take liberties, than one who is soft and easy. Common sense should teach you this.

Dear Miss Doubtful: Value your kisses very highly, and be very careful upon whom you bestow them, and don't think there is a time limit placed upon privileges allotted to kissing. Use your own judgment in your difficulty, and do not take the advice of a third person, who has never had the extreme pleasure of meeting your Prince Charming, and reading his character.

In this, as in all other business matters, it would be well to remember the old proverb: "Be sure you are right, then go ahead."

A YOUNG MAN.

To Doubtful: The first kiss of lover is well worth waiting for until there is not the shadow of a doubt as to its propriety.

Your husband's joy on receiving that which no one else has had, and no one else can get, will compensate for waiting. MARRIED.

And yet, there are those who say this is not a fit subject to discuss on account of it lacking a human interest. If we may judge from the number, and the tone of the many communications already received, there is a lot of human interest in it, more than in any of the other topics discussed.

And the seriousness of a large majority of these communications would indicate that it is a serious question—much too serious to be turned down as a jest.

Nor is the kissing habit confined to the kitchen and cellar of the mansion, nor is it alone common among the common sort of people, for it is not at all uncommon among the uncommon, the upper 10, even the 400, and those who seclude theselves in the suburbs. It seems to be no respecter of persons, and to have but small sense of propriety.

And then there are others—widows, for instance.

You may have corrected your children for using the expression: Widow woman. But from a technical point of view they were not far wrong, at least not according to early English. When the word signified the remaining one of a pair that had been separated by death. To save confusion the term widower was applied to a man bereft of his wife.

But why widow-er? Is man more bereft when his wife dies than is a woman when her husband dies?

As near as we may judge from what we see and hear, their chances are about equal for renewing the matrimonial ties. True, they differ somewhat from those who have not been married, but not to their detriment. In fact the widow is apt to be looked upon with jealous eye by the maiden on account of her ability to attract the attention of men—the respectful attentions, as shown by the ease with which she commands proposals of marriage.

And when a widower takes it into his head to marry, the young fellows have to side step promptly or get knocked out.

* * * * *

Erasmus Wilson, "Quiet Observer:" In your writings on matrimony one might conclude none but the young and the bachelor man and maid are to be considered on the subject, but there is another class on the list, who at least give thought to the subject and some go the full depth in the matter, or must settle down to a life of loneliness, and conclude they have only death to look forward to.

I mean widowed ones, and not young ones, either. Their grown children, if any, have their companionship, married or single, and why should the elders continue to live on comparatively lonely, for with all due respect to the dead, you cannot live with them.

Is not happy companionship in later life as desirable as in youth, if affection exists?

I write this to touch on another branch of the marriage subject not written in your column. Give them all a chance to think and debate. FAIRPLAY.

* * * * *

Mr. Quiet Observer: I was much impressed with the query of the Allegheny girl who asks if it would be wrong to permit a man, who gives indications of loving her, to kiss her.

I say, don't do it! It might not be absolutely wrong, but not good policy, to say the least, and after all, perhaps, that which had best not be done, is wrong to do.

The gentleman has made no declaration of his love, and until he does don't allow any kissing. Lytton says in "The Caxtons," "Privileges are valuable in proposition to the exclusiveness of their enjoyment."

Now, I say, no lady should permit a man to kiss her until after their engagement.

Of course, we men all like to kiss a pretty girl, and I presume the girls find some enjoyment in it, too. We are looking for exclusive privileges, also. The harder a lady is to kiss the more insistent we are to attain that privilege. But there is the question, do we respect her more if she yields, or if she refuses? If a man knows that he is the only one who has kissed his wife, is not it something he will prize as long as he lives? How many men ask for a divorce from wives who have insisted on such a course?

Just as girls learn to disapprove of that familiarity which always breeds contempt, and not affect a reserve, but have it inherently because their refined taste compels them to have it, in the same proportion will society improve.

Women are the foundation of society. Without them it would not exist. It is theirs to make the standard. J. M.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—Glancing through that unique periodical, "The Star of Hope," edited, printed and published by the prisoners of Sing Sing, one cannot but be struck with the affection—adoration in fact—expressed by the men toward Mrs. Ballington Booth. She is "mother" to a community of criminals about as bad, taking them one with another, as you will find anywhere in America. She pays visits to the prison at frequent intervals, and is allowed to mingle freely with her "boys," as she calls them, much to their pleasure, and probably to their spiritual and moral benefit. When Mrs. Booth began her work she was a high official in the Salvation Army. That the army did not govern her actions is proved by the fact that she has done much more for convicts and exconvists since leaving the army than ever she did while one of its officers. She has upheld her purpose through good and evil report, and, as she said on Saturday at a meeting in the rooms of the board of trade and transportation in this city, has done it free of debt, although she had been obliged to spend between $15,000 and $20,000. Besides her work in prisons, Mrs. Booth has established three homes for ex-convicts. They are in the states of New York, Iowa and Illinois respectively, and more than 3,000 ex-convicts have passed through them, of whom less than five per cent have returned to prison. When Mrs. Booth faced an assemblage of distinguished business men of the metropolis at yesterday's meeting she told them in her own incisive way that she wanted money so that the work could be prosecuted after she had left the world and the response was prompt and substantial. Moreover, one of the best-known merchants and bankers of the city is treasurer of the fund.

Hope Hall Not Wanted.

The protests against the maintaining of "Hope Hall," at Flatbush, continues. This is the name of one of Mrs. Booth's ex-convicts' homes, and in it she always has several scores of men who have just come from one of the state prisons or penitentiaries. It has not been shown that the men have done any harm to their neighbors, although when anything is stolen, there is always a look askance at "Hope Hall." Mrs. Booth is a sturdy fighter, and there is little probability that she will allow herself and her "boys" to be driven out of their home.

Zabriskie Unearthed a Title.

The Zabriskie family, to which the late Count Eliot Zborowski belonged, are numerous in New Jersey, near New York. One finds them as farmers, blacksmiths and hard working people generally. The largest livery stable in Paterson is kept by a Zabriskie, and there is a drug store and two or three physicians, with a butcher or two and a group of silkworkers, all bearing the Zabriskie name. When the count went to Poland and hunted up old records which proved the Zabriskies to have been originally the noble Zborowski, he adopted the title and changed his name at once, wearing it with satisfaction until he was killed in his automobile the other day. But the plain Jersey Zabriskies sniff contemptuously. "Zabriskie" is good enough for them, is their unanimous sentiment.

Tragedies Teach a Lesson.

It is noticeable that the fatal automobile accidents which have been rather numerous of late do not affect the use of the machine in New York city. There are as many automobiles to be seen in Fifth avenue and Broadway today as there were at any time last week, and persons having the automobile habit seem not to be affected in the least by nervousness because they have read of Zborowski and the Pennells and the Fairs being killed horribly. In each case the element of carelessness was obvious. Chauffeurs in this city are more careful than at first. That is one useful consequence of the recent automobile tragedies.

Maurice Grau Looks Well.

Maurice Grau does not look like a sick man. I saw him dashing around the Circle, at Broadway and Fifty-ninth street yesterday, in a cab. His keen eyes took in everything as he passed. His iron-gray beard and mustache and his clear-cut features, with their slightly Hebrew cast, attracted attention all along the line. Many persons looking at him did not know him for the long-time impresario, but many others did. He was on his way to the Metropolitan opera house, for I saw his cab standing outside nearly an hour later. He is going to sail for Europe soon, but before he goes he will leave everything in good shape for his successor, Conried. Grau has a whole lot of work in him, yet, although he is the man that he is, he will take a year's rest when he once gets away from New York.

Great Values in Real Estate.

In these days of demolishing big buildings and putting up others much bigger, one gets many reminders of the immense increase in real estate values in the center of New York. Just now there is a dispute as to whether the bit of land on which stands the Victoria theater, at Seventh avenue and Forty-second street, really is worth $900,000. A few years ago it could have been bought for half that money, and 25 years ago it was worth only a few thousands. When the wife of Commodore Elbridge Gerry inherited it from her father that corner was occupied by ramshackle buildings and business was many blocks below. Now Mrs. Gerry insists that it is worth at least $900,000, and in a few years it will command twice that sum. Real estate is going up in leaps and bounds about Forty-second street and Broadway.

Summer Must Be Near.

Hot weather cannot be far off. Summer opera is advertised in full detail already at half a dozen theaters in and near New York.

Herr Most's Time Nearly Up.

Herr Most, the anarchist who was sent to the penitentiary on Blackwells island on a year's sentence, will be released tomorrow. He has served his time, granting his commutation for good behavior and will be at work in his little printing office on The East Side by this time next week. He is said not to be regenerated by his imprisonment. On the contrary, he is more cantankerous than ever, while his belief in no government of an orderly nature is declared to be stronger than when he went to the island. He will not talk to visitors unless he knows them very well, and he is burning with a sense of his wrongs. The police will keep a sharp eye on him when he comes out, doubtless much to his disgust.

Poolroom Men Set Wits to Work.

Now that the horses are running at Bennings, pool room men are desperately anxious to do business in New York. The police are on the alert, however, and pool selling is difficult. Cigar stores, chess clubs and other "blinds" are played out, and something new had to be devised. So they have taken to hiding themselves in the back room of second-hand book stores. The police caught a share of them in such a place yesterday. They said they were members of the "Pegasus club," formed to examine rare prints and books. The police, in their practical way, pronounced the rare prints "dope sheets."

SASSENACH TYRANNY.

For centuries Erin has groaned 'neath the curse
Of the rule of the fat Sassenach.
For centuries Erin has suffered much worse
With the bad boys he heads on her back.
For whenever his head is in labor with jest
And the jest flounders out of his head,
He thinks it will pass the most critical test
When he says: "As the Irishman said."

For centuries Erin has sent her eyes dim
At the rule of the fat Sassenach.
For centuries Erin has sworn she would swim
In his gore on her breast or her back.
But Sassenach tyranny's only a jest,
Shot feather-light over her head,
Compared with the arrow that pierces her breast
When he says: "As the Irishman said."

For centuries—But it doesn't matter now, or it will soon cease to matter. For Home Rule, or something pretty nearly as good, is on the wing and will be along day after tomorrow or a little later. Then Pat and John, two of the best fellows alive if you stroke them in the right direction, will forgive each other greatly.

CANNY CANADA

Canada taxes the Chinaman
$500 or more.
To discourage the yellow gentleman
From entering our back door.

'Tis a neighborly act; but still the fact Remains to warm our collars—
We get the Chinaman's body while
Canada gets his dollars.

Venus—There's that same old rumbling down there on the earth again. Lean over and see what it is!

Vulcan—Go to sleep, love! 'Tis only Col. Bryan advocating harmony.

"Oh, you have two children!" Sorry, but I can't rent my flat to you, or any of my rooms either. I thought you were a married couple."

"Married! Do you mean to insinuate—"

"I don't mean to insinuate anything."

"But President Roosevelt says it's a patriotic duty to beget children, the more the better."

"I'm no patriot—I'm a decent married lady in a respectable line of business. Children break things. And I won't have any children around my flat—that's flat!"

It is flat. Still the patriotic young couple, who can't afford to build a patriotic home, have the patriotic privilege of camping out. Of course the patriotic climate is somewhat variable, and patriotic ants and serpents get into the patriotic groceries. But these are only patriotic thorns around the patriotic sylvan roses, so to speak.

PLEASURES OF HOPE.

The Republicans have stolen
Our Democratic thunder;
Nor anti-trust, nor anti-bust,
Nor fiendly Time's corroding rust
May bust the thieves asunder.

Still we must not discouraged be,
But fast and frequent bang 'em;
For still there's hope the lengthened rope,
Despite the chief and his broncho lope,
Will be long enough to hang 'em.

"Now I suppose you don't know anything about mixing punches!" said Sporty Reginald Upperten, as he nervously prepared the ingredients for his honored guest, the mighty Bob Persimmons.

"Betcherlife I do, young feller! Didn't I mix 'em up good an 'ard fer Sailor Sharkey?"

ANOTHER MILITARY MYSTERY.

Into the hands of the enemy he fell,
Though they dropped their arms when they chased him.
And the captors certainly could see him very well,
Though they lost their heads when they faced him.

"Lend me ten dollars."

"Take it. Now sympathize with me."

"What for?"

"Because I've seen the last of it on account of circumstances over which you are certain to have no control."

"Dear boy, make it $20 and I'll think of a better reason next time."

"You triumph over me today, but some day," I shrieked, foaming with passion behind the counter, "some day when you are brought before the bar of justice, you'll get—"

"Beer to the rim!" my unreasonably thirsty enemy howled, blowing out three inches of froth and rudely dashing the glass in my face.

ADMONITORY.

"O Nature, Mother Nature, why Should we feel so blue on Monday?"
The dear old lady made reply—
"Don't eat so much on Sunday!"

Another Pugilistic Senator.

From the Philadelphia Press.

Senator J. P. Clark of Arkansas, who succeeded Chairman Jones of the Democratic national committee in the senate, appears to be in the class with Senator Tillman of South Carolina. When he was sworn in at the extra session of the senate Mr. Clark declined to accept Senator Berry of the same state as an escort, and walked alone, while each one of the other new senators was accompanied by the other senator from his state. Because Representative Brundige of Arkansas criticised this course on the part of Mr. Clark as a serious mistake Mr. Clark undertook by the use of his fist to administer punishment to Mr. Brundige. A man who resorts to pugilism is out of his element in the senate, and when representatives of his own party are the objects of his wrath it makes the matter all the worse for him in a southern state.

The Extra Session.

From the Indianapolis Journal.

In deciding to call a special session of congress to ratify the Cuban treaty within the time limit the president has shown that he does not believe in letting important measures fail through inaction. As the session will not be called until next November it will not interfere materially with any congress

Season Booms Business of Sidewalk Florists

Street Seller of Easter Lilies and Roses.

Happy is the man who stands on the corner or in a vacant doorway with roses and lilies to sell. The approach of Eastertide is signalized by a boom in his business that even eclipses that of Christmas time. He cuts prices on the fashionable florist and reaps a good trade from those who do not ask for credit or insist on having their flowers packed in a fern-lined box. His roses do not have stems two yards in length, but their fragrance is just as sweet as those which sell at $15 a dozen. He caters to his customers with the deference that they show in their tender handling of the flowers and blesses the Easter holiday.

EARTHQUAKE FEARED WHEN BLAST WENT OFF

The Dynamiting of Ancient Smokestacks Caused Great Alarm in the Adjoining Neighborhood.

Residents of Carnegie thought they had been visited by an earthquake yesterday when two brick smokestacks over 100 feet high on the property of the Pennsylvania lead works were dynamited. The stacks was razed separately. The first explosion was followed by such a heavy concussion that it shook the windows there, although the scene of the explosion is two miles distant from Carnegie.

Many people here thought at first that the borough had been visited by an earthquake. The second explosion, following about three-quarters of an hour afterward, did not tend to assuage their fears. Several panes of glass in the windows of houses in Rosslyn were broken by the force of the explosion.

Very few people were present outside the workmen when the chimneys toppled over, as the work had been kept secret. The few sightseers who did witness the huge monuments of brick careen from their foundations after having withstood time, the elements and gravitation for over a quarter of a century, say the sight was awe-inspiring. The chimneys struck the ground with a mighty crash, while from their foundations, immediately after the explosions a huge flame of fire shot up into the air, followed by thick clouds of dust.

The smokestacks were removed because they were on line with the connecting stretch of track now being built by the Pittsburgh, Cleveland & Youghiogheny railroad from Rosslyn to Leadworks station. The smokestacks were built originally to carry off the poisonous fumes from the blast furnaces of the old lead works.

Multum-in-Parvo Rock Has Been Discovered

A small stone at the Carnegie institute last week proved to be a veritable storehouse of valuable fossils. The rock was unearthed in the west by the Carnegie field party last year and contained scarcely more than three cubic feet, but when chiseled open it was found to be filled with prehistoric bones.

In addition to the head of a diplodocus, it contained part of the skeleton of an extinct camel with a number of the vertebrae, a shoulder blade, several ribs and bones of the neck. All were compactly pressed into the comparatively small space.

SUSPECT A HOAX.

Negro Prize Winner at Yale Receives Request from Cleveland for Copy of Speech.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., April 5.—(Special.)—William Pickens, the negro student at Yale, who won the Ten Eyck prize a few days ago, has received a note from Princeton signed Grover Cleveland. Pickens does not doubt the authenticity of the letter, but other Yale students think it possible that some waggish Princeton student knows the authorship. The note was as follows:

Princeton, April 2, 1903.

Mr. William Pickens, Yale College.

My dear sir—I have seen in the newspapers today an account of your success in winning the Ten Eyck prize. I am very desirous of reading your successful essay, so if possible for you to do so, send me a copy or a fairly full newspaper report of it.

Yours very truly,

GROVER CLEVELAND.

FAITH PROFESSED BY A LARGE CLASS

Children Were Also Baptized Yesterday in New Grace Reformed Church.

Although the main auditorium of the new Grace Reformed church, Dithridge and Bayard streets, is still incomplete, a large congregation gathered in the Sunday-school rooms yesterday morning. The rooms were profusely decorated with palms and flowers. As is the custom in Grace church on Palm Sunday, the babes of the congregation were baptized at the morning service. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh, received 39 persons into the church on profession of faith. Dr. Prugh preached a sermon appropriate for the day and said, in part:

For Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem they gave him a colt to ride upon; as a tribute to royalty they spread their garments upon the highway over which he was to pass; and in ecstacy they saluted Him with palm branches. They did well. They might have done better.

We put forth our little children and we exclaim, "Lord, take these sweet babes, shield them, keep them, bless them." We give Him our money for the spread of His kingdom of righteousness. Comparing Christendom with heathendom and knowing Christianity to be a rich boon to the nations we help support it with our offerings.

We build Him a house and say, "A Christian house of worship is a blessing to the neighborhood, the city, the state. I'll help maintain it." In all this we do well. We can do better. He wants us to do what our friends, who clustered here, did this morning. He wants ourselves.

We might be proud to give Him anything we have—this Jesus, who has given us such pleasant ideals of living—this Jesus who has brought us the joy of the forgiveness of sin—this Jesus, who has filled our world with hope of a brighter day that's coming and the hope of immortality. Yes, we might be proud to give Him anything we have.

But He wants us. And He wants us just as we are. He seeks not wares but you. And having you He has yours. What I want to do myself is not simply to speak for Him and offer Him money and flowers and join in the cry of loyal delight. I want to offer Him my poor, imperfect self. If He will accept me, purify me and make me strong, then my home is His, the school is His, the office is His, the store, the bank, the factory are His. Having secured the heart, He has secured all.

Pickpockets Made Good Hauls.

Patrick Finn, of Glassport reported to the police yesterday that a pickpocket had stolen his pocketbook, containing $100, while he was getting off a street car at Liberty avenue and Fifth street on Saturday night. A resident of Mt. Washington reported losing $35 at the same place and a resident of Allegheny lost $45 at Penn avenue and Ninth street.

Pursued by a Posse.

HINTON, W. VA., April 5.—(Special.)—A posse is in search of Howard Scott, aged 18, who yesterday assaulted Myrtle Bostic, aged 6, daughter of a miner at Newlyn, Nicholas county, in Virginia and he was last seen on a freight going in that direction.

WILL BE THE HIGHEST BUILDING IN M'KEESPORT

The highest structure in McKeesport will be the proposed building of D. L. Clark & Co., shown in the accompanying cut. It was designed by Architect Marius Rousseau of this city and the contract for its erection has been awarded to A. & S. Wilson. The total cost of the building will be close to $130,000. It will occupy a site 40x165 feet at Nos. 331 and 333 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, nearly opposite the Baltimore & Ohio station. The building will be a seven-story fireproof brick and steel structure with a total height of 160 feet. The first floor will be occupied by a catering establishment, the partitions being of stained glass. On the second floor will be the offices of the company. The remaining five floors will be devoted exclusively to the manufacture of candies. A private electric light and power plant, steam heat, hydraulic elevators and Phoenician marble wainscoting will make the building a model of convenience and taste. The work of razing the old buildings on the site is already started, and the new building will be completed by November 1.

The "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd.'"

Let us assume that your shoes fit you. Now what next? What is most important? Unquestionably "Style!" Demand that a shoe shall possess "Style!" If it has style and little else you want it; if it has not style but everything else, you don't want it!

The "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'" is unique. It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the "Dorothy Dodd" is a totally different construction from any other ladies' shoe made. It holds the foot firmly at the waist (that's the instep), prevents the toes from slipping forward, and thus gives a correct poise in walking. Yet it makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it till you see it.

Just for once try the "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd.'"

TURTLE CREEK'S NEW PROJECTS

Handsome Municipal Building and Increased School Facilities Contemplated.

CURFEW BELL TO RING

Volunteer Fire Department to Have Hook and Ladder Truck. Ten Mill Tax Levy Is Recommended—Burgess Unpaid.

Turtle Creek is to have a new municipal building, a hook and ladder truck, more school facilities and a curfew bell. These improvements have been virtually decided upon by the borough council Saturday night.

The request of the volunteer fire department for a hook and ladder truck was granted and a committee appointed to attend to the matter.

The Rev. J. Elmer Bittle, pastor of the Turtle Creek Lutheran church, a member of the school board, asked for the building now occupied by the fire department. The board desires the building for use next September when school reopens. Mr. Bittle stated that the four rooms are urgently needed, and that if it cannot get them, the board must erect a new school building, and this it did not feel like doing until its financial condition was a little brighter. Council will in the next fortnight try to make arrangements with the fire department for the occupancy of other quarters.

A curfew ordinance, which was presented to the former Turtle Creek council a year ago by the Women's Improvement club, which requires that all children under 16 years of age shall be off the streets by 9 o'clock at night, when the curfew bell rings, was passed on two readings.

An ordinance was also passed on two readings repealing the ordinance providing for a salary of $25 to the burgess.

The finance committee of councils recommended that a tax of 5 mills be levied for borough purposes, 3 mills for the sinking fund and 2 for the municipal building fund. The appropriations are: For streets and sewers, $4,000; police and public safety, including $300 for the volunteer fire department, $2,500; borough property, $5,000; salaries, $880; ordinances and printing, $200; water and electric light, $3,900; sinking fund, $7,500. The borough treasurer reported a balance of $900.77 in the general fund, $7,657.22 in the street improvement and municipal building fund and $7,846.16 in the sinking fund.

The property committee of council stated that plans are to be drawn shortly for a new municipal building to cost about $8,600.

THURSTON WILL BE HERE TO ORGANIZE

Former Nebraska Senator Forming Company to Develop Nicaragua.

John M. Thurston, formerly United States senator from Nebraska, will arrive in Pittsburgh tomorrow on a business mission which will eventually mean much to this city. He will take part in the formal organization of a company to be known as the United States and Nicaragua Company. It will be capitalized at $1,000,000, and has for its purpose the development of three districts of Nicaragua, namely, Segovia, Jinetoga and Cape Gracis a Dios.

Concessions have been granted the projectors on land 300 miles long and 100 miles wide. These include rights of navigation of the Coco river, the building of ports at the mouth of the river, and building a railroad 320 miles long. The company will grant concessions to subsidiary companies to open copper and lead mines, to market lumber and rubber, to graze cattle and to enjoy similar rights.

Senator Thurston has been in Nicaragua on several occasions, thus having acquired considerable knowledge about that country. He has been chosen general counsel for the company.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HERO.

Messenger Boy Tells Classmates How He Was Assaulted and Robbed of $1,400.

NEW YORK, April 5.—(Special.)—Warren S. Smith, a 15-year-old messenger in the cashier's department of Sargent & Co. of No. 151 Leonard street, retold his thrilling story of how he was held up in Center street and the loss of $1,400 to admiring boy friends today, in Brooklyn. He attends the Fifteenth Street Baptist church, and in Sunday school the Rev. H. Allen Tupper, the pastor, called attention to the boy as "the hero of the day."

In addition to the details he had given freely to the police, he said that the money carried from the bank was smaller in amount than for weeks.

"Why, since I began, in February, I have had as much as $2,000 and seldom less than $1,500.

"When the two men jumped on me from out of the store it was raining hard, but one of them was in his shirt sleeves. After they laid me down on my back, the man with the revolver came in and threatened to kill me if I hollered."

WAR ON THE COAST.

Harriman and Huntington Engage in Bitter Contest for Supremacy.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—(Special.)—War has been declared between E. H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific, and Henry Huntington, vice president of the same road and head of the Huntington-Helman syndicate, which controls the great system of electric railways in Southern California.

Mr. Huntington has cast his gauntlet at the feet of the New York magnate and sent him the information that there shall be no compromise until the supremacy of the forces has been finally settled. From mild competition there has developed between the two men a feeling of bitter rivalry, dating back two years, and having its origin in the construction of street railways by Mr. Huntington in Los Angeles.

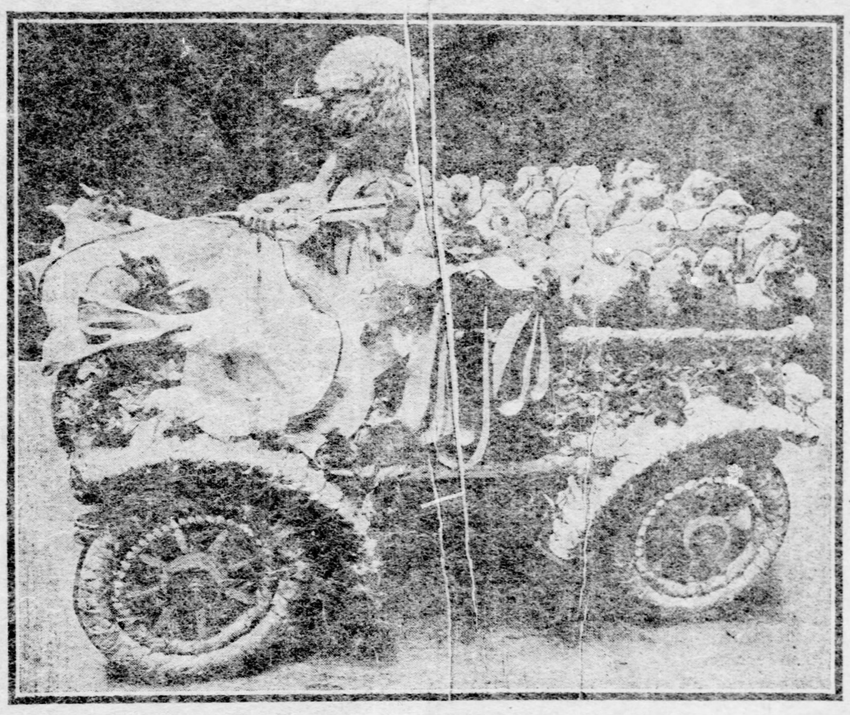
Pretty Conceit for An Easter Gift



Automobile With Feathered Chauffeur.

The young Pittsburgher who will take a bride next June and goes out to select the last Easter gift for his sweetheart will have a world of variety to choose from. Never before were so many clever holiday conceits on view. Local confectioners are catering to all tastes and all sizes of pocketbooks.

The popular fancy this year runs to stuffed chicks and ducklings. These little birds are shown in all manner of mounting, but every possible use is made of the miniature automobile. The accompanying picture shows an elaborate toy vehicle which delighted the little folks during the last week in Reymer's window in Fifth avenue. A dozen chicks cling around the carriage and a yellow gosling sits on the chauffeur's seat.

RACE QUESTION IS HARD ONE TO SOLVE

Views of the Rev. S. Edward Young After His Trip in the Sunny South.

The Rev. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, who has just returned from a visit through the south, preached a sermon yesterday morning on what he had observed while on his trip. He said in part:

The president of the United States by two recent appointments of colored persons to federal offices and by entertaining at table the foremost living black man, has brought upon himself the almost unanimous condemnation of the white people of every southern state, although well-nigh the entire south concedes the president's honesty of intention. The excitement has scarcely gone beyond intense feeling against Roosevelt personally, but it is beginning to open the old wound the Spanish war comradeship had healed, while many a sober citizen sees in it the possibility of days as dark as those from '61 to '65—a race war to the death.

Shall we ecnsure the southerner without remembering our own ideals of social equality, oft-times severely differentiating classes of whites in our own community, even that of the United States which excludes a Chinese simply because he is a Chinese? Suppose we discovered 500,000 native Americans in the Greater Pittsburgh region confronted by 500,000 Chinese, and these Chinese being advanced over us? Judging by what our nation has already done in California's case, would we not rise in a body to fight the Chinese down? Well, that is exactly the situation in South Carolina, only the Chinese are negroes.

Imagine the Italians increased in our community until we are 642,000 and they 610,000 and the Italians inclined to take the government, do you think we would submit tamely? Mark you, I think we ought to submit, following the teaching of Christ and the constitution of our republic, and I think the southerners ought to acquiesce and even leave their native soil to their once-time perfectly legal slaves whom northerners set free and left there. If the white feels he can not remain with the black; but it is one thing for the white to leave and another thing for other things for my brother who is about my sort of humanity yonder. Against his traditions and disappointed hopes and seeing every year the colored race assimilating with terrific, fateful rapidity—yes, another, an infinitely harder thing for him to be so clear and cool as I may be and he could be, were our places changed.

Despite disfranchising laws in most of the southern states, despite the uncompromising refusal of social equality—which every right-minded colored man really desire—the black man is able through the industrial education given by Booker T. Washington at Tuskegee and at other institutions to vastly better his condition.

"PAWNEE BILL" ARRIVES TO TAKE OUT HIS SHOW

Gordon W. Lillie, better known as "Pawnee Bill," arrived in Carnegie yesterday to prepare his wild west show for its annual tour. The show has been in winter quarters in Carnegie in charge of Manager C. J. Krause. "Pawnee Bill" says Pittsburgh and vicinity is a good "spring country," and he expects to take a good deal of money out of the territory in a short time.

LONG LIST OF FORGERIES CHARGED TO A BURGESS

Alleged Embezzlement at Chambersburg May Reach About $20,000.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAMBERSBURG, PA., April 5.—Developments in the Howard F. Noble forgery and embezzlement charges, last night and today lead the authorities to believe that the amounts involved will reach $20,000.

The district attorney's investigation has brought out the following list of Noble's alleged victims: S. C. Fentz, Greencastle, $3,100, forged judgment transcripts; Jacob Stegrist, Greene township, $1,000, forged mortgage transfer; W. G. and S. P. Vance, Upton, $800, forged mortgage transfer; Sarah A. Fleming, Upton, Noble's grandmother, $600, forged assignment of mortgage; Mrs. Lauretta Frye, Chambersburg, a widow, $600 paid her by the Royal Arcanum on the death of her husband, forged judgment note; Isaiah Martin, Upton, $600, forged judgment note; Blair S. Fleming, Greencastle, $600, forged note on Valley National bank of Chambersburg; Peoples National bank, Waynesboro, ($1,500), forged note; Mercersburg National bank, $1,000, forged note; Citizens National bank, Greencastle, $800, forged note.

Mrs. Matilda Pfoutz of Greencastle today informed District Attorney Kyner that she had given Noble $6,000 to invest for her and fears that she has been reduced to poverty. Noble's wife was with him today and her condition, upon learning of the charges, was such as to require the services of a physician. He was married in Fulton county nearly a year ago. Noble has engaged former Assemblyman W. Rush Gillan and O. C. Bowers to defend him. No effort will be made to get him out of jail until after the hearing.

Quick Time to Verona.

A 15-minute schedule yesterday went into effect on the new Verona-Wilkinsburg electric line. The line is being well patronized.

Said One Woman to Another

"Queer, isn't it, what creatures of habit we women are? We get in the habit of doing certain things and keep on doing them year after year, even when we have been told time and time again of a better way."

And so it is. Take for example soda crackers, or biscuit, probably there isn't a woman in the land who wouldn't say she knew all about Uneeda Biscuit, but as a matter of fact millions of women know nothing about them, or they would never again buy loose soda crackers in a paper bag.

When soda crackers are packed the ordinary way every cracker must be handled several times before it leaves the bakery. When the cracker box reaches the grocer, he, of course, uncovers it, the air and dust and flies get in and destroy the crispness and flavor of the crackers. Every time there is a call for crackers they must be handled again and again.

Every woman knows the above to be true, for she has seen it over and over again. Why then does anyone continue to buy crackers in this way?

It is not the price, for Uneeda Biscuit are only 5 cents.

It is not a question of taste, because everyone likes Uneeda Biscuit.

It is habit—simply habit.

Every woman by this time ought to know the advantages of buying Uneeda Biscuit. They are baked in the cleanest of bakeries, under the most rigid system of cleanliness and care. When they come from the oven they are immediately packed in In-er-seal Packages, an airtight, germ and moisture proof covering, which not only protects them from contamination, but actually preserves their original flavor until the package is opened.

Economy, cleanliness, healthfulness and delicacy are all found in Uneeda Biscuit in In-er-seal Package with red and white seal, and every careful housewife ought to know these facts, and knowing them should insist on having Uneeda Biscuit.

STEADY GROWTH IS SHOWN IN EXPORTS

Sale of Domestic Manufactured Products Abroad Shown by Statisticians.

RECORD IS MARVELOUS

Treasury Experts Prepare Monograph Setting Forth Steady Development of Foreign Shipments Up to Year 1902.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5.

The growth in the exportation of manufactures from the United States and their distribution to countries and grand divisions are discussed in much detail in a monograph prepared by the treasury bureau of statistics for publication in the April summary of commerce and finance. It shows the exportations of manufactures in each year from 1790 to the present time and their distribution country by country and article by article in each year from 1892 to 1902.

The exportation of manufactures has grown from $1,243,547 in 1790 to $17,580,456 in 1850, $102,856,015 in 1880, $151,102,376 in 1890 and $403,641,401 in 1902. In 1790 manufactures formed 6.15 per cent of the total domestic exports; in 1850, 13.03 per cent; in 1880, 12.48 per cent; in 1890, 17.87 per cent, and in 1902, 29.77 per cent. This shows that the exports of manufactures are increasing much more rapidly than those of other great classes of exports. This growth in the exportation of manufactures is especially marked in the period since 1895. In that year the total exports of manufactures were $183,995,748, having gained $81,000,000 in the 15 years between 1880 and 1895. In the eight years from 1895 to 1903 the increase was $220,000,000. Thus in the eight years since 1895 the increase in the exportation of manufactures has been nearly three times as much as in the 15 years immediately prior to 1895.

INTERESTING FACTS DISCLOSED.

The statements of distribution of the manufactures exported also show some striking and interesting facts. They show, for example, that practically one-half of the manufactures exported from the United States go to Europe, and that the exportation of manufactures to Europe has grown from $76,000,000 in 1892 to $197,000,000 in 1902. To North America, other than the United States, our exports of manufactures have grown from $35,000,000 in 1892 to $100,000,000 in 1902, of which $54,000,000 went to British North America. British territory, including both the United Kingdom and its colonies, takes one-half of the manufactures exported from the United States, or $300,000,000, in round terms, of the total exportation of $400,000,000 in value in 1902, while the United Kingdom alone took $160,000,000, or one-fourth of our total exportation of manufactures in 1902.

Considering the exports by great groups of articles, it may be said that manufactures of iron and steel as a group form the largest item in the exports of manufactures, having grown from $62,000 in 1850 to $329,000 in 1850, $1,000,000 in 1858, about $8,000,000 in 1870, $18,000,000 in 1880, $25,000,000 in 1890 and $121,000,000 in 1900, while in 1902, owing to the unusual demand in the United States for iron and steel manufactures, the exports thereof dropped to $68,000,000.

MINERAL OILS COME SECOND.

Mineral oils form the second largest item among the groups of manufactures, having grown from $30,000,000 in 1870 to $60,000,000 in 1902. Copper manufactures rank third, the total exports having grown from $1,500,000 in 1850 to $2,225,000 in 1890 and $41,000,000 in 1902. Cotton manufactures have grown from $4,500,000 in 1850 to $10,000,000 in 1860, $24,000,000 in 1900 and $32,000,000 in 1902. Leather and its manufactures have increased their exportations from $1,500,000 in 1860 to $8,600,000 in 1880, $12,000,000 in 1890, $27,000,000 in 1900 and $29,000,000 in 1902. Exports of agricultural implements have grown from $1,000,000 in 1870 to $4,000,000 in 1880, $10,000,000 in 1900 and $16,250,000 in 1902.

Twenty-eight articles or groups of articles exceeded $1,000,000 in the value of their respective exports in the fiscal year 1902. Of these 28 groups, now exceeding $1,000,000 each in value annually, not a single one aggregated as much as $1,000,000 in 1820, and only three groups exceeded $1,000,000 as late as 1850; in 1860 eight groups exceeded each $1,000,000; in 1880 the number of groups exceeding $1,000,000 in value was 13; in 1890, 20, and in 1902, as already indicated, 28 exceeded $1,000,000 each in the value of their annual exportations.

SCHULBERG SCORED STRIKE COMMISSION

Socialist-Labor Lecturer Displeased With Its Findings. Caustic Criticism.

"I do not believe that God in His infinite wisdom gave George F. Baer of the Reading railway the coal mines, for if He did he is not a good God."

This remark was made by Samuel Schulberg of Sofianto, Pa., a Socialist-Labor party lecturer, yesterday afternoon at the headquarters of the party, No. 516 Wylie avenue. His subject was "The Finding of the Coal Strike Commission."

Schulberg outlined the causes that led up to the coal strike of last year and the subsequent appointment of the commission. He characterized the findings as mere rot, and said that the workingman got nothing, that the increase of 10 per cent and the shortening of working hours would avail him little. The speaker denounced the personnel of the commission, saying that not one of them was friendly to labor and that their findings were dictated by the mine-owners and pleasing to them.

The chief counsel for the coal operator, Wayne McVeagh, Schulberg said, "breathed in with every breath intense hatred of the workingmen of America."

Schulberg paid his respects in an ironical manner to John Mitchell. He said: "When the coal strike was fairly won and the operators could set no one to work for them, when Mitchell had it in his power to dictate terms of peace, he grew cowardly and left the interests of the miners to the tender mercies of the hyenas who composed the strike commission."

In closing he said that "There is no mercy shown by man to a bedbug, and it is crushed. In like manner must the capitalistic class of America be dealt with."

About 60 persons were present. One of the audience wanted to know "if John Mitchell was offered $25,000 to avert the strike." Schulberg said that he was not there when it was offered, if it was, but he knew that Mitchell fought hard to keep the men from striking.

TWO CONTRACTORS WOUNDED AND ROBBED

Highwaymen Were Resisted and Victims Were Terribly Injured.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., April 5.—John Stephens and Benjamin P. Edens, stone contractors of Central City, while going to their homes last night on foot, after the street cars had stopped running, were held up by four masked men and robbed. Both Stephens and Edens made a desperate resistance, in which both men were shot and then horribly beaten. Stephens was shot twice through the arm and was beaten with a large club.

While this was going on two men were attempting the assassination of Edens. A large man struck Edens across the top of the head with a coupling pin, but it being a glancing blow, Edens escaped and started to run when he was fired on, the bullet entering just beneath the collar bone and lodging in his neck. Edens continued his flight and the highwaymen fired several shots at the fleeing man but the darkness prevented an accurate aim. Edens plunged into Four Pole creek, which is very deep. On reaching the opposite shore he found he could not scale the steep bank and it was necessary for him to swim down the stream 50 yards before he reached a landing.

A rescuing party found Stevens in a pool of blood from the bullet wounds and an examination showed that his skull was fractured. He was conveyed to his home and it is thought he will die. The robbers secured only a small sum from Mr. Stevens, the bulk of his money being in an inside pocket which was not found by the man. The police of Huntington and Central City are working on the case and some sensational developments are expected.

The Death Roll.

Samuel Chesman.

Samuel Chesman, the oldest male resident of Salem, O., died yesterday. He was born at North Bridgewater, Mass., June 16, 1812. He learned the trade of nailcutter at Waltham, Mass., and in 1832 with a party of young men came to Pittsburgh by stage coach, securing work at H. S. Spang & Sons' Etna. In 1833 he purchased three acres of land within what is now Etna borough for $150. In 1834 he married Jane, daughter of John and Jane McClintock Gordon of Plum township, Allegheny county. In 1838 with David Spaulding Mr. Chesman opened a grocery store in Pittsburgh under the firm name of Chesman & Spaulding, which continued until 1845. In 1843, however, Mr. Chesman went to Sale, and entered upon a business career which lasted over half a century in various lines. In 1847 associated with J. J. Brooks, father of the late J. Twing Brooks, he was active in establishing the Farmers National bank of Salem, and was for years a director. He was also active in the organization and building of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad, and afterwards the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago. After it was decided to build the Cleveland via Wellsville, Salineville and Alliance, Mr. Chesman resigned the office of director of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh, and immediately began an active canvass of Salem for subscriptions for preliminary survey of the route for what afterward took form as the Fort Wayne, he easily raised the $1,000 there for that purpose, and thus Salem was the birthplace of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago system. At the opening of the road in the winter of 1850-51, Mr. Chesman was appointed station agent and agent for Adams Express Company. The last office he held in the employ of the company was paymaster from Pittsburgh to Crestline. Since 1858 Mr. Chesman had been closely identified with leading manufacturing and mercantile enterprises, having erected a number of business blocks in Salem. Mr. Chesman had been a subscriber to The Pittsburgh Gazette continuously for 60 years.

PERSONALS

The general committee having in charge the arrangements for the assembly of the twenty-ninth meeting of the grand division of the Order of Railway Conductors met at the Monongahela house yesterday morning. Several subjects of interest to the convention were considered, but nothing was definitely decided. The grand division will meet here May 12 and will have a 10-day session. It has nearly 23,000 members. Locally there are five divisions, two in Pittsburgh, one at Bennett, one at McKees Rocks and one in Allegheny.

Col. Silas P. Hunter of Jamestown arrived in the city last evening on his way to Harrisburg. He predicts that the Greater Pittsburgh bill will not be passed. He said: "There seems to be an undercurrent working against the bill. I approve of the bill and will vote for its passage. However, the bill did not meet with my approval until it was amended so as to make it effective in 1906." He said there will be a bitter fight for the judgeship for Mercer county. Judge Miller, the incumbent, will have strong opposition.

W. S. Palmer of Sharon, representative to the state legislature, passed through the city last night on his way to Harrisburg. He says that the intended strike of the bricklayers at Sharon will badly cripple that town. From information he thinks that should the strike be inaugurated the United States Steel Corporation will close down the plants and never open them again.

Fred S. Avery, who recently sold the Hotel Griswold, Smithfield street, to Nathan Schaffner, goes to Cleveland, O., May 1, where he will conduct the Euclid, one of the newest and most up-to-date hotels in the Forest City.

Dr. F. M. Erlinghagen of Elberfelde, F. H. Vanderwall Bake and W. C. Mulhaus, Jr., of Amsterdam, Holland, arrived in Pittsburgh on the Limited last night. They are here on business.

TO ENLARGE HOME FOR AGED WOMEN

Almira Association Delegates Will Meet at New Castle Tomorrow.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., April 5.—A conference of delegates of the Almira Home association, representing more than 1,000 members in Lawrence, Beaver, Butler, Mercer and Venango counties, will be held here Tuesday at the home, to decide upon the advisability of erecting a large addition to the institution. The association has just received an appropriation of $5,000 from the state and other funds are also available for the purpose.

The association was formed some years ago to found a home for aged women and the handsome residence of Capt. D. C. Irish was purchased when he removed with his family to Pittsburgh. This was remodeled for the purpose, but so many applications have been received from aged and infirm women that the facilities of the institution are inadequate for the purpose. If the annex is built it will be larger than the present home and will give the institution quarters for many more aged women from Lawrence, Butler, Mercer, Venango and Beaver counties are eligible for admission.

Mr. George of the faculty of the Reformed Presbyterian Theological seminary of Pittsburgh.

Tax Collectors Delinquent.

GREENSBURG, PA., April 5.—(Special.)—According to County Commissioner Price, whose home is in North Bellevernon, some of Westmoreland's old tax collectors are to be brought to account. Many of them have never settled up with the county. It is estimated that $22,000 of county taxes is outstanding on these old accounts, some of which date back to 1800.

The American Girl.

WHAT MAKES HER POPULAR.

THE American girl is admired and liked at home and abroad because she is the happiest, usually the healthiest and friendliest of girls. She is fond of life and is alive to everything beautiful and good in existence. Mrs. Langtry has said that the American woman has little to learn from her English sisters. She advises the American girl to walk with an erect carriage. She well says that "stoop shoulders lessen the lung expansion, weaken the spine and crowd the heart." Certainly beauty and health are twin sisters, and one can only be attained through the other.

Dr. Pierce, the specialist in women's diseases, of Buffalo, N. Y., advises simple exercises for women, preferably in the outdoor air where the chest can be expanded and good oxygen taken into the lungs to assist in the formation of red blood. But many women are confined to the house and their household duties or their business confines them to poorly ventilated rooms. For such he advises to open the windows sufficiently for fresh air and then to take light dumbbell exercise or simple movements without them. "Then there are women who overdo," says Dr. Pierce. "Women who are employed in a business capacity or who have many household duties are sometimes criminally careless. They not only attempt to accomplish too much, but they do a hard day's work in an office on a cup of coffee and roll for breakfast and tea and toast or bowl of milk for luncheon. If a man tried living on that plan he would collapse.

WHY WOMEN HAVE 'NERVES.'

"That is the reason why women have 'nerves.' When our thoughts begin to grow cloudy and uncertain, our impulses lag and the warnings of pain and distress are sent like flying messages throughout our limbs and frame, we straightway, nine times in ten, lay the cause of the trouble to some defect in the point where we first feel it. Is it a headache, a backache, a sensation of irritability or twitching and uncontrollable nervousness, something must be wrong with the head or back, a woman naturally says, but all the time the real trouble very often centers in the womanly organs. In nine cases out of ten the seat of the difficulty is here, and a woman should take rational treatment for its cure. The local disorder and inflammation of the delicate special organs of the sex should be treated steadily and systematically."

Dr. Pierce, during a long period of practice, found that a prescription made up entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured over ninety per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that would make it easily procurable, and it can be had at any store where medicines are handled.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Proispsus, or Falling of Womb which they can not cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I suffered for five years with inflammation which caused violent pain and often torture so bad at times that I could not be about to attend to my daily duties," writes Mrs. Julius C. Bell, Bathrod, Kingston, Ont. "Life was simply misery to me and I did not know which way to turn for relief. Had tried doctors but found they did not help me. My druggist advised me to try Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I decided to give it a trial and I am happy to say that after the use of the first bottle I felt so much improved I decided to take another and after that a third bottle. I am to-day a well woman, I have perfect health, thanks to your medicine."

The only up-to-date Encyclopædia is the New Chambers', which is a court of final appeal on all information from the days when the earth and the waters were covered in darkness up to the present time of electricity and acetylene gas.

PALACE PROJECT IS DECLARED OFF

Foreign Government Said to Be Dickering for Oak Lawn Tract.

WHITE HOUSE TO STAND

Congress Considers It Good Enough for the Home of the President — Others Favored Mansion in Connecticut Ave.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5.

Announcement that the famous Oak Lawn property at the head of Connecticut avenue will probably be purchased by some one of the foreign governments for an embassy is taken here as putting the quietus for another decade at least upon the movement to build a magnificent residence for the president of the United States and transform the famous White House into presidential offices.

For a long time Oak Lawn, which is on the hill at the head of Connecticut avenue in the most aristocratic part of Washington, has been held intact with the idea that some day it would be purchased by the United States government for the president's home. It is a large tract of land now occupied by one of the old Washington families. The project to have the White House built here has been agitated for a good many years and has had many advocates. The argument has been advanced that the present White House does not meet the demands of the presidential family now, that it is an antiquated structure out of keeping with the dignity of the presidential office which has grown during recent years.

The White House may not have the dimensions of the palaces of emperors and kings and it may not have the elaborate interior decoration of some of the modern houses, but it is close to the hearts of the American people, and members of congress have not shown very great enthusiasm over the suggestion that it should be abandoned for residential purposes in the interest of something new.

The report that the Oak Lawn property was to go to the British government has been denied, but it seems to be well established that the owners are negotiating with some foreign government. It is presumed this is either the Russian government or the government of France.

The improvements recently made in the White House and the removal of the president's office to the box-like little office building is responsible for the abandonment of the presidential palace project for the present. There was a time when the nearness of the Potomac flats, which were popularly supposed to breed malaria, was cited as an objection to the White House, but the reclamation of the flats and marshes along the river has removed the grounds for that objection. There is apparently no danger that at any time in the immediate future the White House will be abandoned to office purposes.

BROTHERHOOD DISCLAIMS RAINSFORD'S STATEMENT

Official Organ of St. Andrew's Society Will Deny Responsibility.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—By the national council of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and the officers of the local brotherhood organization of Philadelphia a statement has been prepared disclaiming responsibility for the recent utterances of the Rev. Dr. Rainsford of St. George's church, this city, at a noon hour service in St. Stephen's church, Philadelphia.

This statement, which is to appear in the brotherhood's official organ, The Cross, in its next issue, tells the bishops of the Episcopal church that they guaranteed to the church men who are authorized to deliver the church's message. If there is anything the matter with that message it is the bishops, not the brotherhood, who are to be held to account.

The statement also says there are men in the Episcopal church who are too ready to blame the brotherhood as a body for everything possible. It declares in the strongest terms its loyalty to the Christian verities, and therein repudiates the Rev. Dr. Rainsford.

The foment was started by the newspaper organ of the Catholic movement in the Episcopal church, but was at once taken up by the clergymen of Philadelphia, who issued a statement in their own behalf, applying strong terms of disapproval of what the rector of St. George's church was alleged to have said. The incident has now extended to the whole church, and while it is said no trial for heresy is likely, the personal injury to the reputation of the rector of St. George's is held to be great.

MRS. SWIFT FILES SUIT.

Wife of Chicago Meat Packer Millionaire Alleges Extreme Cruelty.

CHICAGO, April 5.—(Special.)—Charles H. Swift, one of the seven sons of G. F. Swift, the millionaire meat packer who died last Sunday, is named as defendant in a petition for divorce quietly filed at a late hour yesterday evening at the instance of his wife, Mrs. Lottie M. Swift, who charges him with extreme cruelty. Mr. Swift was seen at the home of his mother, the widow of the founder of the great packing corporation, but he declined to say anything concerning the case, declaring he had no knowledge that such proceeding had been begun aside from the information given him by the reporter.

In specifying acts of cruelty, Mrs. Swift in her petition says her husband struck her on several occasions with his fist. Mrs. Swift will come in for a large share of the $2,000,000 estate left by his father.

MISS WHITEHEAD ENGAGED.

Daughter of Episcopal Bishop Will Wed P. N. Guthrie of Binghamton.

The engagement of Miss Edith Wallace Whitehead of Pittsburgh to Presley Nevil Guthrie of Binghamton, N. Y., has been announced. The wedding will take place at Binghamton early in the autumn and will be one of the social events of the season.

Miss Whitehead is the youngest daughter of the Rt. Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead, Episcopal bishop of Pittsburgh. Mr. Guthrie is superintendent of the Chemung Gas Company at Binghamton and a cousin of George W. Guthrie of this city. Mr. Guthrie, until two years ago, lived in Pittsburgh.

Small Boy's Suspicious Actions.

A 14-year-old boy, who gave the name of Clarence Dean, was found early last evening rummaging through a kitchen in a house in Thirty-fourth street, by William Goodrich, a member of the fire department. The boy was arrested but would not talk about himself at the station house. He was charged with being a suspicious person.

MRS. ROOSEVELT,
Wife of the President, Who Once More Has Her Family, With the Exception of Her Husband, With Her in Washington.

GLAD FAMILY REUNION AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Mrs. Roosevelt and Sons Return from Cruise on Mayflower and Miss Alice from Porto Rico.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—There was a happy home-coming of the president's family today. Mrs. Roosevelt and the children arrived from their cruise on the Mayflower early this afternoon and Miss Alice Roosevelt arrived from her trip to Porto Rico early this evening.

The Mayflower, with the president's family on board, steamed up the Potomac shortly after noon and docked at the navy yard. Mrs. Roosevelt and her children were at once driven to the White House, where luncheon was served. All were well and had enjoyed the outing in spite of some bad weather.

The return of Mrs. Roosevelt and her family opens the White House and gives to their friends the pleasant consciousness of their presence here once more. The two sons of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Theodore and Kermit, for whose especial benefit the cruise of the Mayflower was undertaken, will return to Groton tomorrow, for their spring vacation has come to a close. Miss Alice Roosevelt will be in Washington with her mother and younger sisters and brothers until June, when the family will leave for Oyster Bay. Mrs. Roosevelt being an Episcopalian will spend the coming Holy week in a quiet manner.

NEW YORK, April 5.—After having been serenaded by bands of different motions, saluted by guns and hailed as never American maiden was before, Miss Alice Roosevelt, daughter of President Roosevelt, quietly returned to New York this evening from a tour of social triumph in Porto Rico.

As Miss Roosevelt left Porto Rico a thousand islanders gathered on the shore, the people singing and the bands playing "The Girl I Left Behind Me," while out in the stream the bands of warships played in her honor and colors were dipped and guns fired.

On the steamship Coamo Miss Alice arrived at the foot of Pacific street, Brooklyn, soon after 9 o'clock this morning. Attended only by a maid down the gangplank she walked, the most unostentatious passenger of all.

"How did I like my trip? Oh, it was magnificent. Where are all my friends? Why"—she laughed gaily to The Gazette correspondent—"Cannot I come home quietly, like any other American girl? The passengers are all my friends. Everybody has been so kind to me. I am just going to take my friends by surprise and 'home, sweet home.'"

On the wharf awaiting Miss Roosevelt with a carriage was Mr. Charles A. Coe, secretary to Douglas Robinson of 422 Madison avenue, Miss Roosevelt's uncle.

BALLINGTON BOOTH PLEASED OVER WORK

Volunteers of America Are Doing Good in This City, He Declared.

Gen. Ballington Booth of the Volunteers of America spent two days in Pittsburgh inspecting the work of the organization here. He was especially interested in the new home for workingmen which has been opened at 434 Second avenue under the direction of Col. Christopher Herron. Gen. Booth was much pleased with the building, which is fitted up in an attractive manner. There homeless men can secure comfortable rooms at moderate rates.

Gen. Booth spoke yesterday morning in the First United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, to a large audience, and described the work of the Volunteers. A handsome donation toward the work was made by the worshipers. In the evening the general addressed an audience which completely filled the Shadyside Presbyterian church. His theme was "The Footprints of Divinity in History." He spoke for nearly two hours and gave a detailed description of the various departments of work carried on by the Volunteers.

He referred particularly to the Volunteer tenement work and said that it was the grandest and best work ever started. Notable incidents were related showing the usefulness of the movement. He urged his listeners to give the work in Pittsburgh their moral and financial support. Gen. Booth leaves this morning for Toledo, where he will dedicate a working girls' home. He expressed himself pleased with the outlook for the future growth of the Volunteer movement.

Citizens Want Street Paved.

BELLEVERNON, PA., April 5.—(Special.)—At a meeting of North Bellevernon council last night a petition signed by two-thirds of the property owners on State street from Short to Fayette City road, asking that the street be paved, was presented, the property owners on each side to pay one-third and the borough the other third. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the paving. The work will cost about $40,000.

U. P. Home to Be Enlarged.

Work on another new addition to the United Presbyterian Home for the Aged, in Wilkinsburg, to cost $30,000, will begin within the next few days, weather conditions permitting. An addition was completed last fall at about the same cost.

WOMAN'S CORNER

"I shall never be able to accustom myself to the long-distance intimacies and the informal swiftness that the telephone in one's private apartments seem to produce upon the present generation," said the grandmother of two up-to-date society buds of this town.

Grandmother and the 'Phone.

"The girls," she continued, "have a 'phone in their sleeping rooms, where it is perfectly convenient, they say, and no matter how informal their attire, when that 'phone rings, down comes the receiver and there they stand, talking to a man who perhaps has not been presented to the family. It's really shocking, and I have protested in no light way and insisted, too, that the lower part of the house is the proper place for the 'phone, where a servant or some one fully clothed can answer the calls. But my entreaties have been to no purpose. Instead, I am called 'a dear, sweet, old prude' and told that at this present day only the extreme elder generation would think of being shocked at such a thing, and, greatly to my discomfiture, I am patted on the face and forced to listen to a lengthy dissertation on the splendid convenience of a telephone in one's private rooms. None of which, however, has in the smallest degree converted me."

About Miladi's Waist.

Wide girdle belts have returned to stylishness. They are a pretty fashion for the long-waisted, but those who recall the appearance of some very short-waisted woman in a girdle will have a horror of the fashion. Panne velvet is seen in these girdles, and many wide fancy sash ribbons are to be used, too. Those made of the ribbons are simply pleated in front and back, narrowing at the sides, and are finished with long ends tied behind in a bow and fringed. Soft silks are also used, sometimes shirred, again pleated, and it is pretty to have these finished with pointed ends and to fasten on the side. Another attractive style of girdle is velvet ribbon two inches wide, three rows being used. In the front these are seamed and made with a wide point, the whole width of the velvet showing. On the sides the ribbon is overlapped, so that the girdle is narrow, and in the back it widens again, and is finished with long loops of the velvet. Girdles are numerous on dresses worn for the lectures, readings and afternoon musical diversions of Lent, and these dresses are not a bit on the sackcloth and ashes order.

Durable Porch Furniture.

For general utility, scarcely any other style can be compared to Old Hickory. Paradoxical though it may be, its framework is made of young hickory saplings, with the bark left on, the backs and seats being handplaited of the inner growth of hickory bark, very yielding and comfortable when in use. A reasonable explanation of its name might be found in the fact that this furniture endures to a great old age, for several chairs that passed through the salt-water flood at Galveston came out unscathed, a more than ample guarantee of their durability. A great variety of pieces is manufactured: flat-topped tables for the library, or for serving tea; extension tops for the dining room; round breakfast-tables and folding ones for cards. Some of the chairs are charming, and there are many styles to choose from. Morris shapes, Bengal settees, tete-a-tete seats and dainty chairs for sewing, as well as for the more formal intercourse of the living room; tabourets and other stands for flowers, many kinds of foot-stools and couches, swinging seats, both large and small, and a very useful hall-tree, which, occupying very little space, would be desirable on all but the smallest porches, make this kind of furniture available for every kind of outdoor room.

Wholesome Advice.

Do not fret. Do not worry. Take plenty of exercise. Do not slouch. See that the mental nature as well as the physical is well-groomed. Bear your own troubles and let your neighbors do the same. Have lots of fresh air and sunshine. Eat plain food and sleep long, and you will be as old as you feel and look, and that will be young.

A Spring Luncheon.

Pear blossoms were chosen to decorate a white luncheon. Tall jars filled with long branches of the blossoms were set on each side of the fire place in the dining room, and on the sideboard. The cloth and napkins used at this luncheon were white linen embroidered in white, the scarf and doilies plaited white silk tissue elaborately embroidered in gold thread. White and green china and white translucent glass completed the appointments. Branches of pear blossoms in a quaint glass ewer made a very charming centerpiece for the table. Pale green papier-mache pears filled with pistache bon bons and a name card painted with clusters of pear blossoms in water colors were laid at each plate. Anything daintier than the appearance of this luncheon table cannot well be imagined. The menu was served as follows:

Cream of Chicken (Frozen)
Boiled White Perch
New Potatoes Cucumbers
Rice Crustades of Chicken and Mushrooms
Frog's Legs in Cream
Peas Asparagus on Toast
Bird's Nest Salad
Pear Ice Cream
Meringues Bon Bons

The Bryn Mawr Cravat.

The Bryn Mawr cravat has a bar of color woven as a stripe on the ground of white momie cloth or white etamine. Pin dots of black or white often adorn the broad bar which is always introduced vertically in the long ends of this cravat. "Main Line" residents will probably be attracted to the "Bryn Mawr" cravat, as well as the girlish students of "Radnor" or "Pembroke East and West." The cravat part is already folded, so all you need to do with the "Bryn Mawr" is to pass the long strap around your neckband and slip it into its fastening underneath the cravat.

The worst Coughs generally yield to Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant, and not a few estimable physicians endorse it as their best prescription.

BLACK TAFFETAS. WHITE GALLOONS.
Two Bargain Events at Campbell's Scheduled for Tomorrow.
Do you want a black silk dress—a silk coat—some fine soft rustling taffeta for lining purposes?
Do you want a few yards of white, butter colored or champagne shaded galloons for some trimming use?
See Campbell's advertisement in the Chronicle today and be at "The People's Store" early tomorrow.
Dressmakers who know values will do well to take time, even with the Easter rush of work at foodtide, to avail themselves of this splendid passing chance.
Look up the details in the afternoon papers.

CHILDREN AND COFFEE.
Children tease for coffee. It is the natural craving for a hot drink which we grown folks have as well as children. We know coffee is injurious and the question is "What shall we give the child in place of coffee?" This question is very happily solved for anxious mothers by a new beverage made after an English formula from a deliciously blended combination of nutritious grains. It takes the place of coffee in a most delightful manner, charming the palate and nourishing the body. So many extravagant claims have been made in print for disappointing drinks known variously as "cereal coffees" and "coffee substitutes" that we can't say too strongly that this new beverage—Excel Blend—must not for a minute be confused with them. Excel Blend, REALLY IS EXQUISITELY INVITING. It delights all who try it and surprisingly improves the health of those who use it in place of coffee—grown folks as well as children. Excel Blend (English Formula) can be had of grocers for twenty-five cents a package.

"HUMAN TOASTING IRON" ANGERS TROLLEY PASSENGERS

Electric Heaters Cause Discomfort on Two Traction Lines.

VENTILATION IS POOR

Mt. Washington Patrons Voice Their Grievances Against the Pittsburgh Railways Company. More Liberal Transfers Desired

Evidences of the inefficient management of the Pittsburgh Railways Company are constantly coming to light. Improper ventilation of cars, which caused passengers so much discomfort during the winter, is now repeated by clumsy management of the electric heaters, which are allowed to scorch women's skirts and make seats so hot that passengers have frequently been compelled to stand in cars where otherwise seats were afforded.

"The Human Toasting Iron" is the cannibalistic term that Pittsburgh street car victims have chosen for the electric heater. On moderately warm days cars on all lines equipped with the patent heaters have been rendered almost untenantable. Particular complaints were made against this evil from passengers on South Side and East End cars.

"I feel like a dried herring," said a stranger yesterday while he stood on the rear platform of a Hilltop car. "The temperature today does not justify the use of a heater at all and surely there is no occasion for filling a car with stifling, unhealthy currents of superheated air. That seat is so hot that I scorched my hands when I sat down.

EVERY VENTILATOR CLOSED.

"Do you notice that every ventilator is closed? On the other hand, did you ever observe how persistently you will find them open on a cold day when there is no heat in the car? The management of the road is directly responsible for this deplorable state of affairs. Orders to employes under most circumstances are obeyed, and if conductors were instructed when to turn off the heat and when to open the ventilators, there would be more comfort in Pittsburgh trolley riding.

"The matter of heating a car in itself is of comparatively small importance, but it goes a long way to show just how poorly the local traction system is managed. The superintendent who neglects to tell his employes when to warm a car and ignores the value of proper ventilation, will be just as regardless of other details that contribute to the passengers' comfort.

"The whole trouble is that the officials seem to think that the cars can take care of themselves. For this reason the vehicles we find on many lines are neither ventilated nor cleaned as they should be. Slovenliness is the primary symptom of mismanagement.'"

MT. WASHINGTON GRIEVANCES.

Mt. Washington trolley patrons, who have long borne their grievances in silence, at last have been provoked to make public complaint. The people on the mount are the especial victims of the Pittsburgh Railways Company's arbitrary transfer system. Some of their objections are set forth in the following letter:

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Dear Sir—Referring to articles in your paper regarding the traction service and transfers I do not think there is any district in the city of Pittsburgh that is discriminated against as much as the Mt. Washington section. The only favor we receive from the traction companies is a transfer issued at the head of the Monongahela incline and is only good as far as the Union station.

All patrons working on the South Side are compelled to pay two fares, one to the incline company and the other to the street car company. I cannot see why these transfers issued by the Monongahela incline could not be used up to the South Side as well as across the bridge to the city.

For instance, on the Hilltop line, a passenger, by taking the car at Mt. Lebanon, gets a transfer up the South Side and at Nineteenth street a second transfer to the Suburban line to White Hall, giving the patron a ride of seven miles or more for only 5 cents, while we can only get a ride from Mt. Washington to the Union station, about one mile, for the same price.

I had not intended taking any part in this controversy, but as I see the Mt. Washington district has been left out of it entirely I feel it my duty to acquaint you with these few particulars.

IMPOSITIONS UPON ALLEGHENIANS.

Alleghenians are inspired to write long letters. Here is one of them:

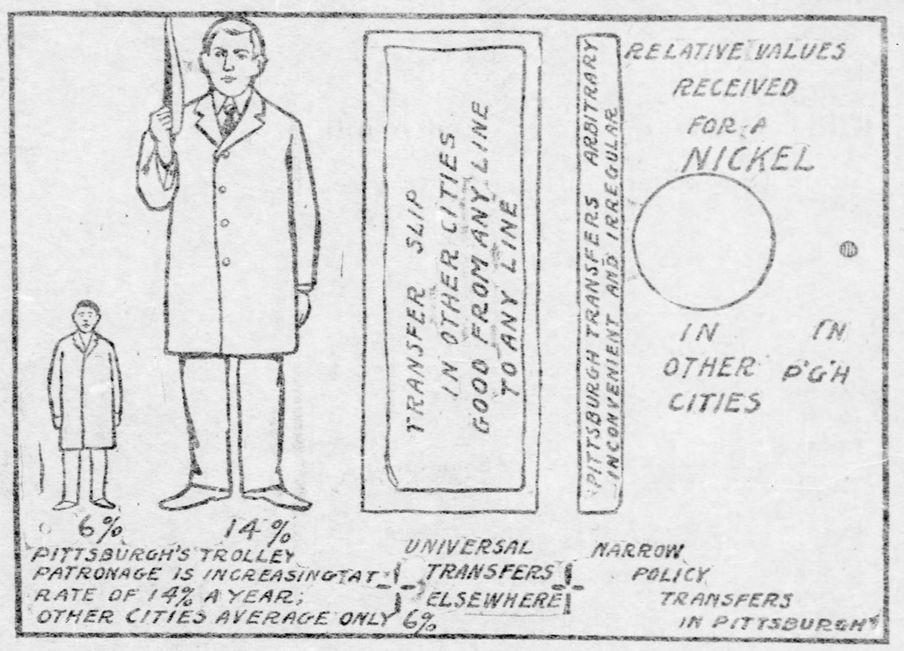
To the Editor of The Gazette:

Dear Sir—An additional evidence that the Pittsburgh Railways Company does not care to give the traveling public any more accommodations than they possibly can, is seen in the manner of handling the lower Allegheny traffic. Instead of taking on an extra car or trailer at their barn on the downward trip in the evening from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock, they run a single car, and on the upward trip pack it as full of the working men as they possibly can. The conductor is persevering and energetic to collect every fare from this crowd of people and when they get to the barn they attach an extra car or trailer that runs to Pittsburgh with very few, if any, passengers. They could just as well take the car on their downward trip and let these tired people have the advantage of a seat before they get to the car barns.

The matter of running cars past the waiting public is not of infrequent occurrence on the Woods run line, inconveniencing people who may have just as important business to attend to as has the motorman to make quick trips. If these cars could be recently, to save time, to take a Rebecca line car to Pittsburgh, and such dirt and filth one seldom sees. These cars should have the attention of the health officers of the two cities.

I see it recommended by some one that the superintendent should go to Buffalo or some other city and see how the trolley business is worked there. In my opinion he could learn a great deal by taking a few trips on the different lines of his own system. He would then see how things people are worked here.

C. B. Q.



In Pittsburgh the annual increase in traction traffic is nearly two and one-half times that of the average in other large cities. To meet this wonderful growth of business the Pittsburgh Railways Company gives its patrons comparative values like those shown above.

THREE-CENT TROLLEY FARE IS CHARGED IN CLEVELAND.

Pittsburgh bumper-riders will be interested in the news from Cleveland, where the merger of the two big traction companies will be followed by the inauguration of a system of transfers to all parts of the city for the payment of one fare. At the same time the company has announced that it will sell seven tickets for 25 cents.

This will give Cleveland street car patrons a longer ride for practically a 3-cent fare than is enjoyed by many Pittsburghers for 10 cents. In addition to a liberal system of transfers and a low fare, Cleveland people are privileged to ride on seats and have prompt service on all lines both during the day and throughout the night. Pittsburgh is the only city in the country where improvements are not being made on the trolley system.

A VALUABLE LIFE IS SACRIFICED TO CORPORATION'S GREED FOR GAIN

The Rev. David R. Breed, D. D., professor of sacred rhetoric in the Western Theological seminary, Allegheny, occupied the pulpit of the Bellefield Presbyterian church yesterday in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Henry T. McClelland, D. D. Before beginning the morning sermon he referred with deep feeling to the sudden and tragic death of Mr. W. W. Card, who was killed by a street car on Saturday near his home in Penn avenue, Homewood. Dr. Breed said in part:

"In view of the repetition of such accidents as that which occurred yesterday, we ought to inquire whether more stringent measures should not be taken to restrict the company's liberties. A railroad train is not allowed to pass the platform at a station where another train is standing discharging passengers. Ought not the same rule to obtain with regard to our street cars? Should a car be permitted to pass a crossing at the rate of eight to ten miles an hour where another car is stopping? Can the loss of a moment's time or a trifling income be urged against the loss of such a life as that which was sacrificed Saturday?"

ENCAMPMENTS OF THE MILITIA

Second Brigade, from This Section, to Be in Camp July 25 to August 1.

MAY GO TO SOMERSET

Gen. Wylie Is Expected to Visit the Mountainous Country Seat This Week to Look Over the Plans Made.

Adjt. Gen. Thomas J. Stewart of the National Guard of Pennsylvania has issued orders for the annual encampments of the three brigades of the Keystone soldiers. As yet the places for camping have not been decided on, but it is likely that the Second brigade, composed of men from this vicinity, will go to Somerset. The dates for the Second brigade encampment are July 25 to August 1.

Gen. John A. Wylie, commander of the Second brigade, is expected to go to Somerset this week. He will be accompanied by some of his staff and Capt. T. W. Griffin of the United States army, the local recruiting officer. Gen. Wylie knows all about the camp grounds at Somerset, as the Second brigade encampment was there two years ago, but he will visit the town to see what arrangements will be made if it is decided to take the soldiers there this year. Capt. Griffin is an expert on such matters as camp sites, and all of his observations and recommendations will be given much attention.

FUND RAISED AT SOMERSET.

The citizens of Somerset county have guaranteed a fund that will meet the expenses for the "extras" that are always prominent at an encampment. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has also promised $1,000 to the fund. The citizens committee has promised to remove all fences, fill up all post holes and gullies, lay pipe lines and to make a number of other changes that will provide an ideal camp site with a fine parade ground.

Assurances have been received from the war department that if the encampment is at Somerset there will be sent to the camp a detachment of the signal corps, a battalion of artillery and a troop of cavalry. These will come from Ft. Meyer, at Washington, and it is the intention to march the men over the pike from the national capital to the mountainous little county seat. The sending of United States soldiers to drill with militiamen is something out of the ordinary, but is an illustration of the tendency in high government circles to have a closer connection between the national and state soldiers.

The Dick bill, which goes into effect August 15, is a move in that direction. It provides that the state troops will wear olive-green uniforms, will be equipped by the government and will be regularly inspected by national army officers. The Pennsylvania troops probably will be among the first ones that will come under the Dick bill's provisions, and for that reason there was an agitation to not have any brigade encampments this year, but one big division encampment in August. That idea has been given up.

There will be some slight changes in the location of the camp at Somerset if the place is selected. The camp proper will be to the west of the Highland inn, and the parade ground will be on the plateau in front of the inn. There are about 3,000 men and officers in the Second brigade, and it will take about 120 cars to transport them to the camp.

ERIE ALSO WANTS ENCAMPMENT.

Erie is the only place outside of Somerset that has made a strong bid for the encampment. It is argued against this place, though, that the camp site is too near the town, and therefore too many visitors would be a nuisance at the camp. Its distance from most of the towns where the soldiers live is also against it, while the facilities for supplying the men with water are said to be very bad, although the grounds are on the lake front. There has also been some talk about locating the camp near Latrobe.

General order No. 10, issued for the encampments by the governor and adjutant general, were as follows:

I. In accordance with the provisions of the act of assembly approved April 28, 1899, an annual encampment of the National Guard of Pennsylvania will be held during the month of July of the present year.

II. The encampment will be by brigades on the following dates:

First brigade, July 11 to 18, inclusive.

Second brigade, July 25 to August 1, inclusive.

Third brigade, July 11 to 18, inclusive.

III. The place of encampment for each brigade will be designated by the brigade commander, subject to approval by the commander-in-chief.

IV. The character of duty to be performed by the naval force and the date thereof will be announced in future orders.

V. During the encampment the annual inspection will be made under the supervision of the inspector general.

VI. Requisitions for quartermaster or ordnance stores to properly equip commands must be forwarded at the earliest possible date in order to insure delivery of stores prior to the encampment.

VII. The act of assembly approved April 28, 1899 (Section 3), provides:

Section 3. The organization of the national guard shall conform generally to the provisions of the laws of the United States, and the system of discipline, exercise, armament and equipment shall conform as nearly as may be to those of the army of the United States; and the commander-in-chief is hereby authorized to make changes and alterations therein, but such modifications shall conform as nearly as practicable to said laws, system, discipline and exercises; and each non-commissioned officer and private shall at the time of enlisting or within two calendar months thereafter, according to a form prescribed by the adjutant general, which form shall embody within it an oath of allegiance to the United States, one copy of which shall be retained by the company commander, and one forwarded to and filed in the office of the adjutant general, but before any recruit shall be enlisted, he shall be subjected to the requisite physical examination by a medical officer of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, or any surgeon or physician designated by the regimental or company commander, and the certificate of said medical officer, surgeon or physician, shall accompany said papers.

Requiem Mass for Bulgarian Revolutionists Slaughtered by the Turks.

SOFIA, April 5.—The Macedonians here held a requiem mass at the cathedral today for the repose of the souls of the revolutionary Bulgarians who were killed at Karbintzi, where a band of 24 insurgents under two Bulgarian officers were slaughtered by Turkish regulars and bashi-bazouks.

The portraits of the leaders of the band, bound with crape, were placed in the cathedral and the officiating priest pronounced a sermon in which he held up the glorifying example of the victims. The edifice was crowded.

NEW GREEK CHURCH WAS CONSECRATED

Cornerstone of Holy Ghost, Allegheny, Laid by Father Hodobay, Apostolic Visitor

The corner stone of the new Greek Catholic church of the Holy Ghost, Ontario and Sterling streets, Allegheny, was laid and consecrated yesterday morning by the Very Rev. Andrew Hodobay, Greek Catholic abbott and apostolic visitor to the Greek Catholics in the United States, representing the Rt. Rev. Richard Phelan, Roman Catholic bishop of Pittsburgh, who at present is the spiritual head of the Catholics, which includes the Greek communicants in the diocese of Pittsburgh.

The ceremonies began at 10 o'clock, and were conducted according to the ritual of the Greek Catholic church. Bishop Phelan conferred upon Father Hodobay the power to consecrate the corner stone which contained documents giving a brief history of the congregation and the church building. The rector of the church, the Rev. John Korotnoky, had charge of the services.

The new building is at present under roof and work on it is being pushed as rapidly as possible. The consecration of the corner stone was delayed until yesterday, owing to the fact that Father Hodobay, who resides in Scranton, Pa., was not able to come here for the consecration ceremonies until that time. Father Hodobay is sent to this country from Rome as the Greek Catholic abbott and apostolic visitor.

The lot upon which the church is building cost $4,500 and the buildings, the church and the rector's residence, will cost $21,000. The congregation is composed largely of Greeks, Austrians and Hungarians, and numbers about 1,000. The church and rector's residence will be completed next August, when the buildings will be dedicated. The board of trustees of the church are Andrew Bobamch, president; Job Damka and John Hrinl.

DEAD MAN'S MONEY FELL IN WRONG HANDS

CHICAGO, April 5.—(Special.)—Charged with obtaining the bank account of a man whom he knew to be dead by impersonating the depositor, John Schastek was arrested last night on a warrant sworn out by George Cajka, brother of Lucas Cajka, a miner, from whose estate Schastek is alleged to have stolen $1,355. It is said Cajka, who died in April, 1900, left his savings in a bank at Nanaimo, B. C. Schastek is alleged to have been identified by the British consul at Chicago as Cajka and to have cashed a check for the amount of the latter's savings.

SIX BANK ROBBERS TAKEN BY SURPRISE

GUTHRIE, O. T., April 5.—Sheriffs Morrison of Kiowa county, Thompson of Caddo, Porter of Garfield and Bottom of Washington surrounded a ranch near Cordele, Okla., and within a brief time captured six of the remaining outlaws of the Bert Casey gang, supposed to have robbed the Leger bank of $8,000 last Friday. The bandits were surprised and taken without trouble.

THE CONSUMERS MUST MAKE IT UP

Price of Bread Will Go Up or the Size of the Loaf Will Be Reduced.

COST OF STAFF OF LIFE

Takes 33 1-3 Per Cent More Now to Turn It Out Than Formerly. Pie Eaters Also Are Likely to Suffer.

"There will be either an increase in the price of a loaf of bread or a diminution in the size of the loaf," declared an official of one of the largest local bakeries yesterday. "The union bakers employed by all of the big concerns of the Pittsburg district have asked an advance of from 10 to 12½ per cent, and, as there has been little money in the bread business of late, something will have to be done by us to make up the deficiency if the demands of the bakers are granted. The consumer will have to pay the damage.

"At present the wholesale rate of bread is seven loaves for 25 cents, or 3 4-7 cents a loaf. This is retailed at 5 cents a loaf, giving a profit of 1 3-7 cents a loaf to the retailer. We have no other alternative than increasing the cost of bread or reducing the size of the loaf. Inside of a year the cost of materials used in the making of the staff of life have increased fully 8 1-3 per cent. On top of this the bakers want an advance and have given us until May 1 to accede to their demands.

WAGES OF THE BAKERS.

"Bakers now receive from $9 to $16 a week, the first-hand bakers getting the higher wages and the second-hand bakers the smaller amounts. The men work in 10-hour shifts, but have not asked for any reduction in their working hours.

"There are about 1,000,000 loaves of bread consumed daily in this vicinity. About one-third of the people do their own baking, mostly among the foreign population. The increase in the cost of bread will be a hardship among the severely poor, and it is likely that there will be a revival of the old domestic art of bread-making, which has been gradually going out of vogue during the last decade.

"As to the cost of making bread in large quantities," continued the speaker, "a barrel of flour costs the wholesale bakers about $3.50 a barrel. A barrel makes 240 loaves, and this brings $8.50 at the rate of seven loaves for a quarter. With the labor added the cost of the transformation of a barrel of flour into bread will be about $7.50 a barrel eq ued 3['sdnos eaea aeq ou[ ]apun readily seen then that there is not much left for the manufacturer."

BAKERS AND THEIR WAGES.

There are about 400 union bakers in Pittsburgh, most of whom work for the large firms. In the small bakeries few of the employes belong to the union, a majority of the men boarding with their employers and receiving about $12 a week and their board for their work. Any advances they ask will be as individuals, and there will be no concerted action among that class. If the price of bread is advanced 1 cent a loaf the additional cost in the Pittsburgh district will amount to $9,000 a day.

Bread is the last thing in the line of staple articles of food to feel the effect of the general advance in prices. Nearly everything else has gone up greatly in the last few years. "Cookies" and all other kinds of bakers' materials are also likely to be more expensive, it being probable that the size rather than the cost will be the method used by the manufacturers to make up from the consumers what they say they are losing now.

The great American army of pie-eaters has for a long time felt the effects of the bakers' grievances. Gradually but steadily the "insides" of the pies have been getting smaller, so that in many cases the old conditions have been reversed and the crust at the top and bottom amounts to more than what is in the middle. In addition there is not an increase in the same ratio in regard to quantity, although there is in dyspeptic qualities. Lard in the last three years has increased three times in cost, and this is an important ingredient in the manufacture of pies.

SALE OF CHURCH IN THE BALANCE

First German Evangelical Protestant Congregation Is Yet Undecided.

READY TO RECEIVE BIDS

Some Members Are Opposed to the Proposition—Another Meeting to Be Held Next Month.

Formal bids for the property of the First German Evangelical Protestant church at Sixth avenue and Smithfield street will soon be received for consideration. At a congregational meeting yesterday afternoon the matter was informally discussed. It was announced that an offer for the property would doubtless be made with a view to securing the present site of the church building. A full meeting of the congregation will be called early in May for the purpose of reaching a decision in accepting the bids, and some opposition to the sale will be manifested.

"Nothing definite has been decided," said John Dimling after the meeting. "We are looking for some prominent local investor to make us an offer, but as yet the future of the church is an unsolved problem. We must give our tenants on Smithfield street and Montour way at least six months' notice before next April, and in order to do this we have six months in which to decide what we shall do. The congregation is likely to make up its mind before that time. These matters could not be regularly handled at the slimly attended meeting to-day, and will be postponed until a week day meeting about a month hence. In the meantime the proposed offer will be before us."

Members of the trustees said they knew nothing as to the price which would be stipulated. One of the members said:

"It is likely that steps will be taken to sell the corner property and move the church down to the corner of Strawberry alley, but there is a large element in the congregation which opposes this move. They call it mercenary, and insist that if any selling is to be done it should be confined to the row of dwellings. The church has stood here since the days of our grandfathers, and here it should remain. The proposition to sell will not be met without opposition."

Nominations for officers and trustees for the ensuing year occupied the time of the routine session yesterday. The question of erecting a new entrance to the Squirrel Hill cemetery was not discussed.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
YOUNG'S PIER,
ATLANTIC CITY, April 5.

Despite the fact that The Gazette's Atlantic City bureau on Young's pier occupies twice as much space for its free reading and writing room as was ever used by any newspaper in Atlantic City heretofore, the crowds that took advantage of its conveniences on this, the opening day, completely filled all of the chairs overlooking the boardwalk and kept the corps of attendants busy. The registry system proved a great boon to many Pittsburghers, many of whom were enabled by it to ascertain who of their friends or acquaintances were at the shore, where they were stopping and how long they intended to remain.

Mr. J. K. Graham, superintendent of the Keystone Bridge Works, was among the callers at the bureau this afternoon and he said: "I am proud of the enterprise of the leading paper of Pittsburgh in the establishment here of an institution of this kind. It means much to us business men, for we can leave our affairs at home and come to the shore feeling assured that in case we should be needed or in the event of important messages being sent to us in care of The Pittsburgh Gazette bureau in Atlantic City we will be promptly notified at whatever hotel we may be stopping. Had a properly conducted bureau been here last season for the benefit of Pittsburgh visitors, I know of a number of cases of annoyance that would not have occurred."

All of the 8,000 people who passed on the pier today were attracted by the beauty of The Gazette bureau. It occupies the entire left half of the pier fronting on the boardwalk, and is enclosed in plate glass on the exposed sides, making it a sun parlor where one can enjoy the spring sunshine and breathe the health-giving ozone from the ocean without being exposed. It is the only resting place in Atlantic City where visitors can sit in comfort and watch the passing crowds.

NO DOGS ALLOWED AT HOTELS.

Baroness Hegenmuller, wife of the Austrian ambassador; Mrs. Richard Powers and Mrs. John Townsend, prominent and wealthy residents of Washington, are very much annoyed over the published story that they were refused apartments in Atlantic City hotels because they insisted on having their pet poodles given quarters in their apartments. It was asserted that the party, angered at being turned down by the hotel clerks, leased a cottage and spent the time they remained in Atlantic City in housekeeping and caring for their ostracized pets. The truth of the story is that Baroness Hegenmuller leased apartments in the hotel Chelsea while she was in the city. She engaged them for two days and remained 12 days. One of the executive staff of the hotel declared that the baroness did not have any dogs with her. The question of providing for the keeping of one or more dogs owned by any of the party was never discussed.

The clerk thought that the story was annoying and should be denied, as it appeared as if Atlantic City hotel men were discourteous. The clerk said that dogs were barred from all prominent hotels and visitors were well acquainted with the rule. They did not seek to violate it. Some of the hotels keep up kennels near the hotels for the accommodation of dogs brought here by visitors and that seemed to satisfy dog owners. As to harboring a dog in a bedroom, that is not permitted.

GREAT SEASON ANTICIPATED.

Fair weather has brought into the city a large number of cottage hunters and many handsome residences have been leased for the season. There is every indication that the renting will be excellent and good prices are being obtained for the houses.

A. J. Withrow & Co., downtown agents, have leased 17 cottages to date and have many inquiries for properties from all points. Other agents have a large number of letters from persons who expect to reside here during the season. The A. H. Phillips Company leased three houses during the week. No. 26 South Maryland avenue was rented to Mrs. A. B. Hutchinson of North Fifteenth street, Philadelphia.

Harry Sheldon of the Allegheny Steel and Iron Company, Pittsburgh, has taken No. 24 Stenton place and Mrs. A. M. Curry of Washington has taken a large cottage opposite the Chelsea hotel.

In regard to hotels and boarding houses there is an active demand for them, and there are but few vacant. In real estate circles there is a buoyancy of feeling that the season is going to be the biggest in the history of the resort.

PIPEFITTER RESCUED HIMSELF.

Great excitement was caused on the boardwalk this afternoon by a man falling overboard from Young's pier. Henry Rhoades, a pipefitter, while repairing a leak in one of the salt water pipes under the pier, missed his footing and fell into the sea. He was 100 yards from shore and several persons who saw him fall made a rush for the beach. The crowds followed and in a moment thousands were flocking to the water's edge. Rhoades swam ashore and was apparently not affected by his cold bath.

CHINA BUYS PEACE FROM THE BOXERS

Tung Fuh Siang and Prince Tuan Feathering Their Nests.

COURT ON PILGRIMAGE

Dowager Empress and Entire Household Start on Journey to Do Homage to Their Ancestors. Disaster Predicted.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PEKING, April 5.—The report received here that the action of the United States in increasing her Asiatic squadron is on account of the "alarming reports on the situation in China" excites surprise in Peking. Such reports were not sent by the United States or British legations, which possess good facilities for judging the situation in China. The only disturbances considered serious are those in the Kwang-Si province, the southern province of China bordering Tonkin, where 100,000 rebels are said to be under arms, which were never directed against foreigners.

The latest reports regarding Gen. Tung Fuh Siang, the Boxer leader, and Prince Tuan, the exiled anti-foreigner, who are at the head of the insurgent forces in the northwestern province of Kansu, are reassuring. The government claims to have come to an understanding with them whereby they agree to refrain from hostilities. It is believed that the government is supplying them with funds on condition that they remain quiet.

The officials promise the foreign ministers that the indemnity bonds will soon be signed. The officials apparently have concluded that it will be impossible to obtain any concession in the terms of the indemnity until that formality is fulfilled.

The dowager empress and court started today on their journey to the western tombs. They will be absent from Peking 18 days. Other trains will carry most of the high officials in Peking and the court's entire household. Business traffic on the railways entering Peking will be practically suspended for several days. The masses regard the pilgrimage with astonished disapproval and predict that heaven will send disasters.

The United States consul at Canton telegraphs that the famine in the Kwang Si province, resulting from the rebellion there, is serious. Thousands will die unless assistance is forthcoming. He recommends that relief funds be started abroad.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The United States naval representation in the Orient will be increased materially as soon as the vessels now under orders to proceed to those waters arrive there. The navy department in making this increase contemplates squadrons in Asiatic and Philippine waters under three general heads, viz, vessels of the line of battle, made up of the battleships Kentucky, Oregon and Wisconsin, and the monitors Monterey and Monadnock, all of which are now there, except the Wisconsin, which sails from Puget sound about May 1; second, the cruiser squadron, made up of the New Orleans, which is already on the Asiatic station, and the Raleigh, now in the Caribbean sea, and the Albany and the Cincinnati; and the third squadron, made up of gunboats and small craft designed especially for service in the smaller bodies of water where the larger ships, because of their draft, are unable to go.

The three squadron formation is a favorable one with many naval officers who, to some extent, have arranged its counterpart with the vessels of the Atlantic fleet.

NEW HAITIEN CABINET.

Former Group of Advisers Resigned Because of Senatorial Censure.

PORT AU PRINCE, HAITI, April 5.—A new cabinet has been formed as follows: Minister of war, M. Celestin, minister of interior, M. Hippolyte; minister of justice, M. Numa; minister of public works, M. Magny; foreign minister, M. Bonamy.

The cabinet resigned yesterday owing to the senate having passed a vote of censure against the ministers for their failure to take proceedings against those who were responsible for the interruption of the sitting of the chamber of deputies March 30, by the firing of rifle shots.

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE AND THE MATCHMAKERS

COPENHAGEN, April 5.—Rumors are current among the German emperor's suite and in Danish court circles that the German Crown Prince Frederick William is to be betrothed to Duchess Cecile, sister of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. Duchess Cecile was born in Schwerin on September 20, 1888. She will be 15 years old next birthday, while the German crown prince is four years her senior.

GOOD RESULTS FROM NEW CIVIL SERVICE RULE

Relieves Officers from Importunities of Officeseekers and Secures Better Service.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The civil service commission to-day gave out the following statement as to the workings of the recently established regulations for the appointment of laborers in the departments:

"Regulations to govern the appointment of unclassified laborers in the department in accordance with the president's order of July 3, 1902, have been adopted for four departments, as well as for the Smithsonian institution and the government printing office.

"Officers charged with the execution of the system agree that it affords relief from importunity for appointments based on other considerations than the needs of the service. In determining relative fitness of applicants physical qualifications are probably the most important. Physicians on the force of the commission rate each applicant on his physical condition. Age is another element affecting the general rating of applicants, as are also industry and adaptability.

"The treasury department is one of those in which the system has been longest established. Its register established on March 5 was headed by six eligibles entitled to preference by reason of their military or naval service, of whom five already have been appointed. The 24 eligibles next in line have general averages running from 95 to 96.80 per cent. On physical condition they are rated at 98, and only four of them are over 40 years of age. These are followed by 60, the lowest having a general average of 91.10, and all having a rating of 95 on physical condition. Only nine of these 30 are over 40 years of age. The entire register contains 220 names of persons with a general average of 70 or more."

FROM HOSPITAL TO ALTAR.

Being Run Down by Trolley Car Does Not Deter Chicago Couple from Marriage.

CHICAGO, April 5.—(Special.)—Being run down by an electric car and sent to the hospital could not move Miss Ivy Hate and Roy D. Naylor from their determination to be married. Friday night while on their way to the home of a clergyman who was to have married them both were struck by a car and picked up unconscious.

Their injuries were found not serious, but the hospital doctors insisted that they remain there a few days until they were fully recovered. The eager young couple, however, could not overcome the desire of their hearts and they went to the home of the minister, where they were married. After the ceremony they were driven to a fine flat furnished by the bridegroom.

Pictures Bring Big Prices.

LONDON, April 5.—(Special Cable.)—One of the most important sales of modern pictures held in London in recent years, took place at Christie's yesterday, when the collection of Mr. Henry Turner was disposed of. In all the 106 numbers in the catalogue brought the very big sum of $145,620. Bidding was very spirited. The highest price of the day was $8,650 which was paid for "Wild Harbegrage," painted by J. C. Hook, R. A., in 1884.

MILLIONS MADE WHILE YOU WAIT

The Gazette Correspondent Watches Treasurer Roberts Sign Gold Bonds.

ARE WORTH $50,000 EACH

Ordinary Routine Work of Treasury Official Astonishes Scribe Who Writes More Matter for Less Money.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5.

Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, was seated at his desk in the treasury department busily engaged in placing his signature to a pile of documents. Mr. Roberts' signature is a familiar one and most people carry it around in their wallets. These documents that he was signing were about the color of a treasury note but larger, and to the casual observer might have been either an insurance policy or a certificate of stock in a gold mining company.

"Rather pretty, aren't they?" remarked the treasurer as he tossed one of them over for the inspection of The Gazette correspondent, waiting to talk to him about the gold reserve.

I took the paper and glancing at the text discovered it was a 2 per cent gold United States bond for $500,000. A messenger was standing between me and the door, and I handed the valuable document back to the treasurer.

"That is the largest denomination in which bonds are issued," said Mr. Roberts. "There are $3,000,000 in this pile."

Three million dollars! I had just reached a comprehension of the amount as Mr. Roberts placed his signature on the last of the bonds.

"Or not quite $3,000,000, either, but just $2,000,000, in fact," corrected the treasurer. I accepted the amendment, although it was a pretty big discount. As Mr. Roberts signed each one of the bonds the messenger took it and applied the blotter to the ink, then put it carefully on the pile until all were signed. Then he placed the entire fortune in a wooden box which Treasurer Roberts locked and put the key in his pocket. The messenger took the box under his arm and started down the corridor to deliver it to the official who was the custodian of the bonds and who had a duplicate key to the box. The bonds were for a New York national bank to secure circulation.

HARD WORK AHEAD OF LEGISLATURE

Great Stacks of Measures in All Stages of Progress Awaiting Action.

WILL BE HARD FINISH

Day and Night Sessions Will Be Necessary This Week in Order to Clear Calendars in Time for Adjournment.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
HARRISBURG, April 5.

The Greater Pittsburgh bill and the tech school site bill are among the measures on the first reading calendar of the house of representatives for consideration on Monday night. Both of these measures will have to be returned to the senate for concurrence in the amendments made by the house committees before they are sent to Gov. Pennypacker. Nearly all of the other bills on the house calendar for first reading are appropriation measures, and all of them will be rushed through without debate.

Both branches of the general assembly will be required to work day and night during the coming week to clear their calendars before the final adjournment on April 10. The house will probably clear its calendar of the appropriation bills before the general appropriation bill is brought out of committee and passed finally. The bill has already passed second reading in the house, and as soon as it goes through the final stage it will be rushed over to the senate for consideration by the appropriations committee.

There are very few bills of general interest on the calendar of either body, so that it is expected there will be no long debates to interfere with consideration of the appropriation bills. The Phillips racing bill, which is on the house calendar for final passage on Monday night, has been amended to meet the objections of its most active opponents. Some of its opponents, however, are not satisfied, and in anticipation of its passage by the house they have asked for a hearing before the senate law and order committee on Tuesday afternoon.

LITTLE CHANCE FOR NEW COUNTY.

The house will take up on Monday the resolution of Representative Hohman of Cambria, to place on the calendar his bill creating the county of Conemaugh out of portions of Cambria, Indiana, Westmoreland and Somerset counties, with Johnstown as the county seat. The bill was negatived by the committee on counties and townships, and there is no reason to believe that the house will repudiate its action by adopting the Hohman resolution.

None of the five bills on the house calendar for second reading on Monday night are of general interest. The first reading bills will be hurried through with in order that the calendar of third reading bills may be taken up. Among the measures on this stage is the bill to establish a department of mines and the bill creating the office of state archivist, for the preservation of the historical archives of Pennsylvania. Should this bill become a law, Luther R. Keller of Harrisburg, an attache of the state library and a prominent member of the Pennsylvania Historical society, will be appointed archivist.

Among the bills awaiting second reading in the senate is that creating an additional law judge of the courts of Dauphin county. This bill has already passed the house and there is apparently no opposition to it in the senate. The purpose of the measure is to provide a place for Representative George Kunkel of Harrisburg, who is not eligible to appointment, but may be elected.

AWAITING SECOND READING.

The bill increasing the salary of the state treasurer from $5,000 to $10,000 annually and the house bill to prevent the plaintiff in a civil suit from suffering a voluntary non-suit in case of a sealed verdict are also awaiting second reading in the senate.

Among the bills awaiting third reading in the house are those to permit farmers to sell their own products without a license fee in and about the streets of cities and boroughs, providing for the payment of liquor license monies to school directors in townships in which the roads shall be made and repaired by the taxpayers, and making it compulsory upon cities, boroughs and townships to furnish medical care and attention to persons under quarantine.

FINE JOB FOR TRIGGS.

Celebrated Chicago Professor Will Be Advance Agent for "Romeo and Juliet."

CHICAGO, April 5.—(Special.)—A fine paying job awaits Prof. Oscar L. Triggs, instructor in English at the University of Chicago, who four or five years ago, gained national fame by declaring in a lecture that John D. Rockefeller was a greater intellectual genius than Shakespeare. Prof. Triggs was a student at Oxford and Berlin and is a man of renown in letters. Now he may become a theatrical advance agent, if he accepts the offer made him last night by Liebler & Co. of New York, who want him to travel in advance of their forthcoming "all star" production of "Romeo and Juliet."

The professor will be required to be a week ahead of the show and give free lectures on the play to the public, and otherwise promote the enterprise. For his service during the entire season Prof. Triggs will receive $700 a week. He was leaving home when the offer was received for a short trip out of town, but it is certain he will accept.

NO POLICEMEN TO GUARD PARKS

Visitors Took No Advantage of Absence and Proved Well-Behaved.

DAMAGE BY THE FROST

Pittsburgh park visitors proved yesterday that there is no rowdyism in them. Owing to the decapitation debauch of Saturday, no park policemen were on duty yesterday, all having been discharged and their successors not yet appointed. Yet the visitors were as demure as if every blade of grass was an officer.

The frost did considerable harm. The thermometer at Schenley park registered 15 degrees below freezing point early yesterday morning, and, according to Supt. William Falconer the damage to the flowers and shrubbery was about 15 per cent. The flowers and buds on the golden forsythias, which have long winding and drooping yellow blossoms, were entirely killed. The magnolias, crocuses and some narcissi were also partly destroyed. There were many plants and flowers in the lawns surrounding the conservatory, but the majority of them were of a nature to stand a heavier frost than that of yesterday morning. Among them are hyacinths, tulips and snowdrops. The flowers on these were turned from their natural colors to brown, but the plants were not destroyed.

A larger number of people visited the conservatory yesterday than for any Sunday since last fall. During the afternoon the place was kept full until closing time.

The Carnegie institute was exceptionally well patronized. The chilly weather had a tendency to induce the people to visit the museum instead of roaming through the park. The attendance was 28 per cent more than a week ago, and the expectations are that next Sunday it will be the greatest for several months.

The organ recital in the music hall by Edwin H. Lemare was largely attended. During the rendition of the concert fantasia on "Hanover," composed by Mr. Lemare, every seat in the hall was occupied and some were standing. It was considered the best composition Mr. Lemare has so far rendered.

The zoo at High Read park was thronged with people nearly all day. A number of premature Easter costumes and suits were on exhibition in the parks, and made a good showing in the sunlight.

CHAMPIONS BREAK CAMP AT HOT SPRINGS TRAINING GROUNDS

DREYFUSS WILL RETAIN PLAYERS

Intends to Keep All Men Until After the Opening Day.

POTTS NOT WANTED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., April 5.—The trunks of the Pirates have been packed and taken to the station, and early tomorrow morning their camp here will be broken. The entire aggregation of ball players will go to Little Rock for the last of the games scheduled with Manager Finn's team. Following Saturday's close game a big attendance is anticipated.

The Little Rock players have been rather free with their boasts and predict defeat for Clarke's men, but Capt. Honus Wagner has instructed the men to cut loose, and the Pirates expect to win by the largest score of the series.

Eighteen men are now under contract to Barney Dreyfuss, and the president of the Pittsburgh club said this afternoon that all would be held until after the beginning of the season. All of the pitchers will be given a thorough trying out, he said, and a decision as to the final make-up of the team's twirling staff would not be reached for probably a month yet.

When asked whether another catcher will be signed he replied that he had the best pair of backstops in the league and that he expected them to do all the work. Dreyfuss is greatly pleased with the showing made by Wilhelm. The Birmingham boy was hit rather freely in yesterday's game. He was unable to locate the outside corner of the plate, putting them across too frequently for his own satisfaction. He again showed that he is without a peer in fielding his position, on several occasions breaking down hard drives that were hit through the box.

A story that was afloat about Little Rock last night, occasioned not a little surprise. It was to the effect that President Dreyfuss had offered to buy the release of Pitcher Denny Potts, the Kent, O., southpaw. He pitched two games against the Pirates, but none of the players think he is fast enough for major league ball, and the rumor was ridiculed.

Dreyfuss has completed arrangements for the balance of the training trip. Immediately after the game tomorrow, the team will leave for Louisville. The two games scheduled there will be played on April 8 and 9. Two games will be played at Indianapolis on April 10 and 11. The training trip will end with three games at Columbus on April 12, 13 and 14. On the morning of April 15 the team will reach Pittsburgh. It will have a whole day's rest before the opening game of the season. Capt. Clarke will join the team at Louisville.

The Pirate aggregation leaves the training quarters here in excellent shape. Not a man complains of a single ache, and another week of exhibition games will put them in the best possible condition for starting on their third race for the championship.

TOO STRENUOUS WORK.

Firstbaseman Clancey Couldn't Stand Pace Set by Zimmer and So Quit Phillies.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., April 5.—(Special.)—"Big Bill" Clancey, who was signed for the Philadelphia National league team for this season, has made his appearance in Jamestown.

"You see it was this way," Clancey explained, "I didn't want to go to Philadelphia. I signed with Worcester and they sold my release. I am young and improving. I have a good deal to learn about the game. I have been coming plenty fast enough to suit me. I thought I had better stay in the smaller league for another year.

"It was no use kicking, though. The management needed the money and I had to go. I reported at the place down in Virginia where the squad did its preliminary work.

"The first day I got there they put me in to play along with fellows who had been playing all winter. It was sweltering hot, and the sun was bright. I could not see the ball, and also got badly sunburned. The next day they played me, too, and I was in bad shape.

"When I got back to the training quarters and played football and basketball until half the team was banged up. In this condition they sent us in to play two exhibition games with the Washington Americans. It was pretty tough, and I began to be afraid it would use me up and put me out for keeps. So when the team started back to Philadelphia I got away from the bunch and came to Buffalo and then down here."

"Will you return?" was asked.

"Sure," said Clancey. "As soon as I get in shape I will join the team.

"There may be some interesting doings before I do," he concluded significantly.

It is understood Clancey received $900 advance money.

BACK TO HOMESTEAD.

Charlie McCloskey Refuses to Play With Buffalo Eastern League Team.

When Manager Howard Risher of the Homestead I. A. C. said that Shortstop Charlie McCloskey would not play with either Buffalo or Toronto in the Eastern league this season but at Homestead, he must have known how "the cat was going to jump" in the fight the two league clubs were waging for the player. At the meeting of the managers of the Eastern league held in New York last week McCloskey was awarded to Buffalo and now rather than play in the Bison city, because of a grievance which he considers a just one, the Homestead boy declares that he will again play independent ball, which means that he will be with Homestead.

McCloskey went to Toronto last week, but when the decision was given against Toronto he declared emphatically that he would not report at Buffalo and would return to Homestead. He is expected home today. Next year McCloskey will be free from Buffalo.

Alex Jones, who is wanted by the Detroit American league club, yesterday received another letter from Manager Barrows, who asked the big pitcher to report to him as soon as possible. Detroit is now in the south and will close its series of exhibition games at Evansville, Ind. Manager Newt Fisher of the Nashville Southern league team wired Jones Saturday for his terms. Jones will not go to Nashville, but he may join Detroit. "Pitcher Kid" Bennett, who was with Homestead last summer, signed with Nashville for this season, but he has become a policeman at East Pittsburgh.

RIGHTFUL PROBABLE FAVORITE.

Schorr's Horse Well Thought of For Tennessee Derby.

MEMPHIS, TENN., April 5.—The second week's racing at Montgomery park promises to be more important than the six days just closed. The Tennessee derby will be run on Tuesday and some of the most prominent 3-year-olds are expected to start.

The event promises to furnish racegoers some idea of what may be expected from numerous colts and fillies which are to be seen later in the Kentucky Latonia and American derbies. The probable starters for Tuesday's rich classic are: Canyon, Attic, Prince of Endurance, Judge Himes, Senator Morrison, Postmaster Wright, Banter, Rightful, Sigmund, Sidney C. Love and Claude.

Rightful, owned by John W. Schorr, with Bullman in the saddle, will probably be the post favorite, with Banter, Fuller up, a close second choice. Claude, the California derby winner, is well thought of by some.

Bright Runs Second.

PARIS, April 5.—W. K. Vanderbilt's horse Bright, ridden by the American jockey, Nash Turner, was second in the Prix de la Seine, which was run at Longchamps today.

FOUR PITTSBURGH PLAYERS

WANT SPRING FOOTBALL PRACTICE AT SHADYSIDE

Coaches May Have Candidates Eleven Out After Easter Vacation.

Spring practice by the football players will be started at Shadyside academy during the early part of the spring term provided it can be conducted without interfering to a big degree with the other sports. Preliminary practice in the spring has never been attempted in the annals of football at Shadyside.

For the past three years Shadyside has won the championship of Western Pennsylvania for interscholastic and means to again take the title next season. Kiski, by playing a no-score game with Shadyside last fall at the Colosseum, Allegheny, claimed the championship, but its claim was not considered seriously, as it was beaten earlier in the year by Shadyside, 53 to 0.

The coaches at Shadyside favor the spring practice and it is very likely it will be started even if it does not last long. One thing that would interfere with the arrangement is the fact that many of the football players are candidates for the baseball and field and track teams. Captain Arch Williams of the eleven has not expressed himself relative to the practice, but if the coaches want it he will issue a call. Over the coaches said yesterday that the men would be called out for practice and that Shadyside would again win the championship.

Shadyside's prospects for another championship team next fall are brighter now than they were when school opened last football season. Allan Donnelly, who captained last season's team, together with Kaufmann, guards, will again be in school. Both these men intended to leave. Stuart Bravo, center for three years, may also be back. McCoy, guard on the East Liberty academy team last fall and who was elected captain of the team at the close of the season, is at Shadyside and will be placed at tackle. The captain of last year's Zanesville (O.) High school team is expected to enter Shadyside. He is a full back and has a good reputation. Quarterback Tod Sloan graduates this spring and his place will likely be taken by McEaig. Captain Williams will play fullback. Price, Ahl, Hal and Uptegraft will form two sets of halfbacks.

HARD PRACTICE PROMISED.

W. U. P. Preparing for Bethany and U. of P.—Latest at Local Schools.

The local college and school base ball teams will have hard work, beginning with today, until the close of the season. While the candidates at the different institutions have been putting in hard practice for the past week or so the real article will start today, provided, of course, the weather does not spoil arrangements.

The Western University of Pennsylvania is scheduled to play Bethany college at Exposition park Wednesday, which means that the team has just but two days in which to prepare for the West Virginians. Captain Irwin, however, will have out every man who has any intention of trying for the team. If the diamond at Exposition park is not in shape for a game, Manager Kaiser will then have the contest decided at the Colosseum. Kommer will be selected to do the pitching against Bethany. After this game he will rest for U. of P., which plays here next Monday.

Washington and Jefferson wants another game with W. U. P. These schools are scheduled to play at Washington April 25. W. U. P. will play W. and J. May 23 at Exposition park.

Captain Dravo will begin work today in preparation for the first game of the season, which will be with McKeesport High school Saturday afternoon at Shadyside. Dravo is pleased with the spirit the men are showing in the practice, especially when so many came out Saturday and played in the cold weather. Dravo likes the form Clarence Overend is displaying in the practice. Overend is hitting well and promises to develop into a good fielder.

Acting Captain Frank "Midget" Spuhler will have the candidates for the High school team divided into teams this afternoon at Friendship park. He will captain one and another player will also choose a side. Coach Edmundson will allow the players three or four innings and then start them to batting practice.

Captain Jay Zahniser will also put his East Liberty academy men in a game. He has had the candidates practicing fielding and batting for the past 10 days, but has not as yet played a game.

LORD DERBY DRIVEN BY SMATHERS ON BROADWAY

Pittsburgher Spends Busy Morning Behind Fast Horses at New York.

NEW YORK, April 5.—(Special.)—Just home from California, E. E. Smathers had a busy morning on the Speedway this day, driving half dozen different trotters from his select stable of roadsters, campaigners and show horses. Queen Wilkes, Ida Highwood and the famous Lord Derby were among the fast ones over which he took the reins before starting for the Suburban club in a spider phaeton drawn by Marcus and Dady Logan, a pair of prize winning high steppers and four-in-hand leaders, bought of C. K. G. Billings last autumn.

Because of his coming match race with Major Delmar, 2:05½, for $10,000 stakes, Lord Derby was the chief object of much interest among the few horsemen on the road when he appeared. All who saw him felt like taking off their hats to the great trotter. Lord Derby, Palmer, George Spear, for the conqueror of Boralma and The Monk came out of winter quarters looking lustier, sleeker and saucier than he ever looked before at this stage of the season. Smathers did not let him step faster than a jog.

For the first time since she rounded into form after her long run to grass last summer, Smathers' favorite Speedway trotter, Queen Wilkes, was decisively beaten in a brush today. The horse that gave her the closest argument, and the rumors that a game was being contemplated were groundless.

It is practically certain that the following dates will all be ratified:

September 26, Dickinson, at Franklin field; September 30, Haverford, at Franklin field; October 3, Lehigh, at Franklin field; October 7, Haverford, at Franklin field; October 10, State College, at Franklin field; October 14, Gettysburg, at Franklin field; October 17, Brown, at Franklin field; November 7, Harvard, at Franklin field; November 26, Cornell, at Franklin field.

On October 21, 24, 31 and November 14, the Indians, Columbia and Bucknell are to be played. The Columbia game will be the only match played away from home.

TOM ALLEN DEAD.

Once Famous Fighter Passes Away at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—Tom Allen, retired heavyweight champion pugilist of the world, who for the past 25 years has conducted a small saloon here, died today from general debility. He was born in Birmingham, England, April 23, 1834.

Allen won his laurels in the days of bare fist fighting and bore the title of being the only pugilist who lost the world's championship, regained it and retired with it. He lost the championship to Tom Mace, May 10, 1870, and regained the title by defeating Mike McCool, September 23, 1873. During the later years of his life Allen devoted much of his attention to backing a number of fighters of renown.

DETAILS OF RACES.

Yale and Harvard Crews to Meet Tuesday, June 25.

NEW LONDON, CONN., April 5.—The details of the Yale-Harvard boat races, which are to be held on the Thames river, June 25, have been arranged at a conference between Yale and Harvard representatives held in this city. The freshmen race will be rowed down stream at 11 o'clock on the morning of Thursday, June 25, the four-oar race to follow immediately after the finish of the freshman race.

The varsity eight-oar race will be rowed down stream at 12:30. In case of too much wind or rough water the race will be postponed until 5 o'clock in the evening.

Conneaut Wants a Team.

ASHTABULA, O., April 5.—(Special.)—Conneaut is planning to place a baseball team in the field this year, now that Ashtabula will have no team. It is hoped to secure as two members of the Conneaut team Otto Nief of the Ohio State university, and Harry McCloskey of the Oberlin team. These players reside in Conneaut.

Wind Up of Basketball.

There will be a meeting at headquarters next Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock to wind up the season in the Allegheny County Basketball league. All teams interested are requested to have representatives present.

WITH THE AMATEURS.

Manager Bengough and Captain Mawhinney of the Oriolet request all players to report Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Oriole A. C. will change its name to the Hays for the coming season. For games address C. Bengough, 1729 Forbes street.

The Fairbanks have a few open dates in May and June, among which is Decoration Day. They would like to hear from all first-class out-of-town teams having enclosed grounds. Games can also be arranged with them for dates later in the season. Address Harry J. Yoedt, 845 O'Hara street, Allegheny.

Robbed a Show Window.

Thieves broke in the window of the tobacco store of Louis Kloyour, a tobacconist of No. 2420 Penn avenue, and stripped it of all the tobacco, cigars, tobies and pipes it contained. It was done yesterday afternoon, and there is no clue to the thieves.

FOOTBALL SINS CHARGED TO YOST BY A PRESIDENT

Jordan of Leland Stanford Says He Took Gregory to Michigan.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, April 5.—(Special.)—Charges that Coach Yost has sinned against the spirit of amateur athletics were publicly made yesterday by President David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford university. The name of Gregory, Michigan's star center rush, was linked with the accusation against Yost. President Jordan went so far in his statement as to call the employment of Yost a sin, and he did not hold his own university sinless.

The sensational remarks of the president of Leland Stanford were made before 150 university and high school educators who were in attendance at the annual meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at Cobb hall, University of Chicago.

The discussion of a paper by Prof. C. A. Waldo of Purdue university on "The Regulation of Athletics in Colleges: What Next?" brought President Jordan to the floor. In the audience which President Jordan addressed was Prof. F. N. Scott of the University of Michigan.

"I have the permission of the Michigan representative to this meeting to say a word," said President Jordan, after some preliminary remarks. "As coach after Walter Camp at Leland University we had two Yale men, Cross and Chamberlain, who were good college sportsmen, but they did not win games.

"Then we had Yost. What I want to get at is an illustration. A young fellow came from the mines. He was not prepared in his studies to enter the university, but he showed an interest in his mining subjects and was admitted as a special student. He could not pass any entrance examinations and did not pass in any of his work after admission and so he dropped out.

"Yost went to Michigan. This young man went on to Michigan and has been the center around which Yost has built up a strong team. He played through two seasons, 15 games or so.

"It is up to us as a faculty to see that such things do not happen. All of us who have ever met Yost or any Yostike men about us are not to be counted as sinless. The faculty has duties to perform. It is impossible to do away with men like Gregory unless we do away with other ideals.

"The men who discussed Prof. Waldo's paper advocated all kinds of reforms in athletics. Prof. Waldo advocated the legislation of the professional coach off from the campus. A proposition to do away with the charging of gate receipts was made by Dean C. W. Woodward at Washington university, St. Louis, and many other suggestions in line with the recent statements by Prof. Hollis of Harvard were made.

The professional coach was defined by Prof. Waldo in his paper as the "one who goes to a college for three or four months." He said such coaches receive salaries that make the university presidents envious, and that these coaches are ready with a hand part of their salaries in hiring men so as to win and get bigger salaries the next year.

PENN FOOTBALL DATES.

No Negotiations Were Carried on for Game With Princeton Next Fall.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—(Special.)—Hobart Porter, manager of the University of Pennsylvania football team, has practically arranged the schedule of games for next fall, and while the dates have not yet been ratified by the faculty athletic committee it is very probable they will be sanctioned as arranged. The scheduled contains 12 games and another may be added.

No games have been arranged with Princeton, Lafayette, West Penn, Annapolis or Swarthmore for this year. No negotiations for a Princeton game were carried on by the management, and the rumors that a game was being contemplated were groundless.

It is practically certain that the following dates will all be ratified:

September 26, Dickinson, at Franklin field; September 30, Haverford, at Franklin field; October 3, Lehigh, at Franklin field; October 7, Haverford, at Franklin field; October 10, State College, at Franklin field; October 14, Gettysburg, at Franklin field; October 17, Brown, at Franklin field; November 7, Harvard, at Franklin field; November 26, Cornell, at Franklin field.

On October 21, 24, 31 and November 14, the Indians, Columbia and Bucknell are to be played. The Columbia game will be the only match played away from home.

STRONG NINE PROMISED AT WESTMINSTER COLLEGE

Old In and Outfielders Return, Together With Some Good Material.

NEW CASTLE, PA., April 5.—(Special.)—The prospects are that Westminster college will this spring be represented by one of the strongest baseball teams in the history of the institution. Capt. A. D. Stewart will call the candidates out for spring practice this week and when the students return for the opening of the third college term, he will have at least 25 candidates from which to select his team.

The material is promising and at least seven players of last year's strong team will be in college again this spring and will try for places on the team. Capt. Stewart will play third base and the other old men are: James Stranahan, first base; McComb Moore, second base; Carl Porter, shortstop; William Cleland, left field; P. Dumant, middle field; John A. Smith, right field.

This assures the same infield and outfield as last year, unless changes are made to strengthen the team. Emmet and David McBride, a battery who won honors last season for Muskingum college, will be with Westminster this season, and Paul Crawford, last year's star coach for Lafayette college, will coach Westminster.

The pitching department will also be strengthened by the presence of Freshman Roberts, who is said to be a star and who has shown up remarkably well in early indoor practice.

Chance for Fighters in Mexico.

MEXICO CITY, April 5.—Ramon Lopez, manager of the Mexico bull rings, announces that he has secured permission to give prize fighting exhibitions in the bull rings. He will send an American sporting man to the United States next week, who will attempt to make contracts with pugilistic celebrities to have fights in this country.

DAVIS MUST PLAY ON CHICAGO TEAM

President Johnson Scores the Shortstop and Attorney Ward.

HE GIVES THE FACTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, April 5.—"George Davis will not play with the New York team this year. He will play for Comiskey, or not at all." This is the way that President Ban Johnson dismissed the report that Attorney John M. Ward had advised George Davis to report and play with the New York National league team. A big league fight may be made over the player.

"This Ward seems to be in the same class with Davis," continued Johnson. "It was Ward who drew up Davis' contract with Comiskey, and Ward contended that the paper held Comiskey for two years absolutely. Being himself the author of this contract, Ward, with this knowledge, drew up the second contract between Davis and the New York club.

"It seems to me that Ward and Davis have both shown so little principle in the matter that they can both be practically dismissed out of court if they ever get into court with these contracts."

Davis has reported and trained at Savannah with the New York National at his own expense, according to reports, and it seems probable that his lawyer will have him report daily to the New York club, thus showing that he is to fulfill his contract there. It is argued by some that by so doing Davis will be able to draw his pay from the New York club whether or not he plays.

If the officials of the New York club should attempt to play him, and then, through a legal process of the American league, he be enjoined from playing with the New York club, it is probable that his contract would provide for the payment of the salary anyway. It seems doubtful, however, if the New York club will play him on account of the Cincinnati peace treaty, and if they refuse to do so no injunction will be served, and it is possible that it will be a hard matter for Davis and Ward to carry out their plans.

That Davis is morally as well as legally bound to the Chicago club is shown by the action of the peace conference, and fans are a unit in declaring that the only honorable thing for Davis to make is to report to Comiskey and fulfill his contract with the white sox.

Comiskey is a notoriously hard loser, and it is safe to say that he will go the limit to keep any man to whom he thinks himself entitled. The entire American league will also be behind Comiskey in any fight he may make for Davis, and there seems to be little chance but that the contract jumper will at last be compelled to fulfill his honest obligations, whether he wishes to do so or not.

NEW CITY GOVERNMENT IN M'KEESPORT TODAY

George J. F. Falkenstein to Be Sworn in as Mayor and Give Out His Appointments.

The new city officials of McKeesport will be inaugurated today and councils will be organized for the year. George J. F. Falkenstein will be sworn in as mayor shortly before noon. Mayor R. J. Black, the retiring executive, and ex-Mayor R. T. Carothers will be present. The late Robert E. Mills, who died a few days ago, was also to have been present. The only other mayors of McKeesport were Thomas Tilbrook and James Z. Andre, both dead. Mayor Falkenstein is expected to hand in his list of police and department appointments this morning. The slate has been kept profoundly secret.

The other officials to be inducted into office are Samuel Milliken, city treasurer, to succeed F. M. Everett; C. E. Soles, to succeed R. A. Hitchens, as city controller, and the city assessors, August Anderson, Thomas Daft and John Giles.

The new members of select council are George Stone, D. F. McCune and Lewis F. Rotzsch. Stone succeeds Falkenstein, and McCune takes the place of A. B. O'Neil, the dean of the upper branch and father of Recorder J. D. O'Neil. The new members of the common branch are J. D. Evans, Joseph T. Rochs, Peter Roniefanger, R. W. Gordon, S. H. Kistler and Charles A. Denman.

ONE MORE SMALLPOX VICTIM IN MILLVALE

Child Died in Morning and Was Buried in Afternoon—Two Others Expired.

The second death from smallpox within a month in Millvale occurred early yesterday morning, the victim being Lucille B., the 7-year-old daughter of George W. Sprague of Sedgewick street. The child was buried in the Allegheny cemetery in the afternoon. No new cases were reported to the Millvale board of health yesterday and it is thought the epidemic is abating. There are now 22 cases in the town, including some of the prominent citizens. Justice of the Peace A. J. Needling is ill with the disease at his home in Klopfer street.

Two deaths from smallpox occurred in Pittsburgh and vicinity yesterday. James G. Jones, aged 47 years, and John Robinson, colored, aged 32 years, both employed as laborers at the Ferguson camp, died early in the morning. Jones was a member of St. Richard's Roman Catholic church, and leaves a widow and five children. He will be buried today in Calvary cemetery. Robinson will be buried today in Lincoln cemetery.

Two smallpox victims who died Thursday night will be buried today. Olga Spike, a 1-month-old child of No. 2515 Penn avenue, will be interred in the Allegheny cemetery. Arthur Redlon, aged 24 years, of No. 128 Forty-fourth street, will also be buried there. Redlon had been in this city but a short time, having come from Portland, Me. A father, mother and 10 brothers and sisters reside there. His father arrived in Pittsburgh from Portland last night.

BOLD NEGRO THIEF IS HELD FOR COURT

John Pelrson, a negro, attempted to rob the residence of James Ward at Bruce station on Saturday afternoon. He was ransacking the house when he was surprised by Mrs. Ward. The negro knocked Mrs. Ward down and tried to get out of the house with some plunder he had gathered together, when he was captured by Ward, who had heard his wife's screams. Pierson, who claims he had only arrived in the city from Virginia, was committed to jail for court in default of bail.

DISCREPANCY IN CASH PUZZLES THE TRADERS

Old-Fashioned "Quarter Day," Still Observed in Rural Communities, May Have Caused It.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, April 5.

The bank statement of Saturday was rather a disagreeable surprise to the rank and file of Wall street, who had counted upon a better showing. While the heavy loss in cash of $5,500,000 is difficult to explain from the reported movements of the money, the financial requirements of the week were heavy and confusing.

The discrepancy between the actual result and the preliminary forecasts of the statement might be found in certain phases of the April settlement. In some sections of the country "quarter day" is still quarter day in all that the term implies, in the old idea of cash settlements. This is particularly true of New England and Pennsylvania communities peculiarly affected by the April disbursements. When the money market is nominal such requirements pass almost unnoticed, but it is quite apparent that the present settlements were not easily carried out, a fact which the features may have influenced and which may have set the statement awry.

If there are a few undigested securities in the market, and few will question the accuracy of the statement, differing only as to what constitutes "a few" or "many," whose is the fault, the hosts who provided in excess, or served unpalatable viands, or the banqueters, whose absorbing capacity was reached months ago and whose appetite is destroyed? It is certainly to be hoped that the undigested securities are, as they have been described, stable and sound, and that they are lodged in strong hands. Whether good or bad, however, is foreign to the question at this time, for whether good, bad or indifferent, all alike are for the present not only undigested, but indigestible; and all alike are being used as a basis upon which the promoters are obtaining credit upon wares of their own creation from banks or financial institutions owned and controlled by themselves. Naturally those who have created the undigested mass are not going to cry down their wares, or admit unsoundness, when they are being used as collateral in loans. Rather is the plan to praise them to the skies that some one may come along and buy. The present security market is traversing step by step the market of 1883. Many of the undigested securities of that period were perfectly good and many of those for the present day are the same.

Those of the eighties, however, had to be tested by adversity before the good were sifted from the bad, and the present batch must go through the same process before they receive the hall mark which gives them character. The old lot shrunk in price woefully before the end was reached and some of the new will do the same. That some persons have confidence in them is self-evident, for have they not shown it in their willingness to sell shares and bonds of high-class properties and depreciated their prices enormously to take care of the undigested mass?

The hope of the future rests entirely upon the crops and the generally prosperous condition of interior trade. That general business, while showing little or no diminution in volume, is less profitable than it has been, is admitted to be the case. The high cost of labor and materials and the disquietude of the laboring man are factors which are entering into the consideration of each merchant and manufacturer. Without doubt that cause will enter into the calculation of the future more than in the past. The demands upon resources, only from undigested securities, affects Not Wall street alone.

WEAK FOREIGN MARKETS.

Macedonian Trouble Influenced Stock Dealing in Berlin. Recovery at London.

BERLIN, April 5.—The more serious aspect assumed by the Macedonian question, together with the continued concern about the situation in Wall street, caused weakness in most departments of the boerse last week. The trading in government funds was light. The announcement regarding the issue of the new German 3 per cent loan amounting to $72,500,000, with a subscription price of 92, caused some selling of government bonds in order to buy back the new issue which is slightly cheaper. Nevertheless the existing 3 per cents held their own, because the March interest payments liberated money for which investment had to be found.

The boerse reviews still give attention to the New York situation, some writers asserting that a great lack of confidence in the situation in Wall street prevails in Germany. The interview given by J. Pierpont Morgan regarding the financial outlook is discussed in various ways. The Frankfurter Zeitung says that Mr. Morgan's optimism is undoubtedly due to his gigantic engagements. Therefore he above all men is unfitted to give an objective judgment on the financial situation and prospects.

Canadian Pacific showed no development of interest. The announcement of the reduction in iron prices in the United States caused heavy selling of iron shares on Friday and Saturday, the quotations losing what they had gained earlier in the week through several advances in the price of iron here. Most iron shares at the close of the week were moderately lower. Coal shares advanced strongly upon heavier sales of coal to Belgium and good annual reports by several of the large companies.

Money rates have been moderating since the monthly settlement and foreign exchange rates are tending to become easier. The unprecedented pressure on the Reichsbank for this season seems to be outweighed by the expectation that the Bank of England will reduce its rate this week.

LONDON, April 5.—The recovery in consols which came late in the week had a salutary effect and in consequence a more cheery tone pervaded the stock market, all departments showing a better front. It is now believed that the period of depression has ended. Money has become easier and with the dividend distribution the stock market will be enabled to repay its loan to the Bank of England and a reduction in the interest rate will follow. American securities, influenced by the Southern Pacific fight, remained rather dull last week, though they displayed a better tone yesterday.

In the improved prospect on the stock market, however, the Macedonian troubles are a decidedly discouraging feature, and the situation in the Balkans has created a nervousness which is keeping the public from trading until something more definite is known as to the future in those regions.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF MARKET PRICES

Hay Situation Strong, While Grains Are Weak—Egg Stocks Accumulating.

A feature of the past few days has been the weakness which ruled in grains, corn and oats, both closing on Saturday lower than they opened last Monday. Demand is very limited, while corn has been additionally hurt by the presence of a large quantity of inferior offerings, which have reduced the average of the market and lowered its tone. Millfeed is also much below quotations of a week ago, and is hard to move at any price. Holders are seeking customers anxiously and are making concessions to secure buyers. Hay, on the contrary, is very firm, and prices have advanced, with the situation one of strength.

Wheat has been somewhat easier, but millers in the northwest find their profits on feed so greatly reduced at this time of year that they are not in position to offer much flour in accordance with prevalent wheat prices. The Northwestern Miller sums up the situation by saying that farmers are not delivering a considerable amount of wheat because bad roads prevent them from so doing; the general tendency resulting is toward lighter receipts, with best milling grades commanding a premium. Reports from the winter wheat belt as to condition of the growing crop are very favorable. Weather conditions would be hard to improve.

Local sugar and coffee prices show no difference from those of a week ago, and the market is steady for the latter, while the former is still in an unsettled state. Refiners' cuts which have been made have not affected jobbers' prices, and the hope is still expressed that a return will soon be made to the equality plan of selling. Navy beans are steady at prices of last week.

No change has been made in canned goods, although a notable weakness is shown by both tomatoes and peas, with corn and baked beans firm. Dried fruits are in fairly good demand, with quotations inclined toward easier conditions. Small changes are lower.

The produce market is fairly steady in most lines of fresh grown vegetables and fruits. Cabbage is much higher than it was a week ago owing to a shortage in crop of stocks. Onions continue to go lower. Apples are abundant and slow, only fanciest stock commanding any appearance to profitable figures. Asparagus is plentiful, and prices are off. Lettuce is just about holding its own, but demand is increasing, and it will likely go higher with the coming of the Easter trade. Green beans are higher, while Florida tomatoes have declined. Strawberries have been coming in freely, and prices are considerably lower than those of last Monday.

Butter remained unchanged Monday, and has been steady ever since, the scarcity of milk at present interfering with butter making. Cheese is firm, with the best fall of new spring trade expected in the market this week. It will probably open at about 15 cents. Fresh eggs have come forward in immense quantities, having been a week of receipts with but few equals in the history of trade. Stocks have accumulated rapidly. Reports from other markets farther east are of higher ruling prices, and it is thought that stock may be shipped from here to supply demand in other places. If this is the case, local prices may be maintained next week; otherwise there will be a decline, which will make cheaper Easter eggs.

Chickens have been in large request, and quotations steadily maintained. Receipts are light, and demand quickly absorbs all arrivals. Other poultry is weaker, declines having occurred in live turkeys, ducks and geese.

Provision dealers advanced prices of hams a quarter. Other lines unchanged.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

Developments in the lower southwest and Southeastern Ohio fields during the past week failed to reveal anything of any great importance to the operators on either side of the river. The usual activity prevails in all quarters where there is the least encouragement to keep the drill moving. Nearly all operators are of the opinion that the market will have to advance to encourage wildcatting, and even then there is not much assurance that any considerable amount of producing territory can be developed in any quarter of the lower south west. It is not expected that West Virginia can present anything better than congested pools and these are growing scarcer every month.

The Poison district in Wetzel and Harrison counties, W. Va., completed more wells during the week than any other in the lower southwest, but the average size of the new wells is gradually growing smaller and indicates the approaching of the end of the best producing territory that has been discovered in the past two years. Operations are active in this district but there is no indication that the aggregate output of the pool is increasing. In fact, it is doubtful whether the new wells are now supplying the decline in the old producers.

The Tuscarawas extension completed but two wells during the week and both are small pumpers. Next to Folsom this is now the most prominent undeveloped territory in the lower southwest. It has been under constant work under way than any other district and during the spring and summer months will be in the lead in field work. To the east of the Tuscarawas field and on a line between the older parts of this field and the old development near Wallace, Harrison county, a number of wells are nearing the interesting point. Some three months ago attention was directed first to this territory when the South Penn Oil Company drilled in a test well on the Jesse Talkington farm and secured a gusher. The fact that the well did not show the usual staying qualities of a Gordon sander, rather increased interest in this quarter. The Talkington farm few has declined to less than 50 barrels a day and on last Thursday the owners decided to give it a shot and increased its production to 400 barrels the ensuing 24 hours. This has proved the extent in that locality and leads to the belief that the well has some good producing territory back of it. On the north the Ohio Oil, the Southern Oil Company and Gressmer are drilling to test ground at a test on the E. L. Piscott farm and should it come in a good producer, will open up an extension in that direction. Very small wells are still the rule in the Lisbon district. This territory, once at the front in operations and production, has been pretty thoroughly drilled over. During the fall and early winter months the Grays Landing district looked like it would be capable of producing considerable oil and have some area, but all are now convinced that it possesses neither. The wells showed very poor staying qualities and the producing streak was very narrow. At the present time there is but one well drilling in the district.

In Noble and Doddridge counties there is a little new territory being opened up, but there does not seem to be any general movement to revive operations in either county. South and east of Lewis county, there is a little new work starting up. The Equitable company and the Hope and Reserve Natural Gas companies are looking to this county for a supply of gas.

The extension to the old Whisky Run pool in Ritchie county is giving something of a surprise. When the Bonds Creek Oil & Gas Company drilled in a test well on the Mahaney heirs' farm two months ago and got a 240-barrel producer, it was regarded as a freak. Since then four more wells have been completed and all good producers. Last Thursday Bonds Creek Oil & Gas Company drilled in its second well on the Mahaney farm and secured a producer with an initial production of 250 barrels a day. The producing streak is thought to be very narrow and operators are feeling their way carefully. In Murphy district there is still some new work starting along Indian creek and on the South Fork of Hughes river.

In the Burning Springs district in Wirt county, there is a small increase in new work. The oil is developed in the Cow Run sand and the cheapness with which the territory can be operated and the lasting qualities of the wells, rather than their size, makes it a desirable piece to operate.

The shallow sand territory in Washington county furnished some fine producers during the week. They are located within defined limits and open up new territory. Wells that will produce 200 barrels a day finding many of 500 and 600 barrels like finding money.

Southeastern Ohio is at present without a strictly new pool. In Belmont county a well was recently completed near Colerain that may be the beginning of a new pool, but the one well is all that inspires the belief.

In Sycamore valley, Monroe county, operators are giving some attention to the Berea grit formation. The wells are small, less than 10 barrels a day, but operators are hopeful of finding a better oil streak. This was formerly regarded as Big Lima territory and some good wells are still found in that formation.

NOTES OF THE RIVERS.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 5 o'clock last night was 10.9 feet and the river was rising.

The steamer Edgar Cherry arrived yesterday from Morgantown.

The J. P. Finley leaves tomorrow with a tow of coal for the south. The Finley has just been repaired at Louisville.

The new towboat J. O. Watson will have her boilers placed in position this week. She will ply along the upper Monongahela.

The United States steamer Mississippi of the Mississippi river commission is making her first trip of the season from St. Louis to New Orleans.

The steamer L. C. Woodward will shortly be laid up for a general overhauling. Her engines will be rebuilt and she will be made a speedier boat.

The following boats passed Davis Island dam, bound down: Tornado, 5 coalboats and 2 flats; Coal City, 3 coalboats, 2 barges, 1 flats and one model barge; Cruiser, 5 coal boats; James Moren, 3 coalboats, 2 barges, 4 flats and 1 model barge.

The report that the Queen City, enroute to Pittsburgh from Cincinnati, had been blown ashore at Portsmouth on Saturday night was not verified. At her wharfboat here it was stated yesterday that the boat was not due at Portsmouth until Sunday morning. The unfortunate steamer is supposed to be one of the river tows.

HOSPITAL IN BRADDOCK

Board of Trade Takes Up the Work and Will Aid the Women's Association.

The Braddock board of trade, which was organized about six weeks ago, wants a hospital. The matter was first taken up and worked strenuously for about three years by an association of women of Braddock, North Braddock, Turtle Creek, Rankin, Hawkins and Swissvale. The women raised some $10,000 by holding suppers, bazars, etc., but about 10 or 12 years ago the women became disheartened at the rebuffs given them by leading manufacturers of the Braddock and Monongahela valley district. In all that time not more than one or two meetings have been held, although the members say that the association is still in existence.

The board of trade is to take up the matter, and will likely work in conjunction with a committee from the Ladies' Historical association. The terrible explosion at furnace I of the Edgar Thomson blast furnaces last Tuesday morning has given the hospital project a strong impetus.

TRIED TO GET DRUG BY USING HATCHET

Samuel L. Dally is in jail on charges of disorderly conduct and drunkenness. It is alleged he went to a drug store at Oakdale on Saturday night and because the druggist refused to sell him a drug he threw a hatchet at him. The weapon whizzed past the druggist's wife and stuck in the door jamb.

BURGLAR ALARM RANG; THIEVES SCARED AWAY

Thieves tried to enter the Franklin Savings and Trust Company's offices, No. 2847 Penn avenue, at 3:40 o'clock yesterday morning, but they had not counted on the burglar alarm. The Holmes Protective Company immediately telephoned to the nearest police station that an alarm had come into the office and some one was tampering with the rear window of the Franklin building. Officers went to the place, and found that an unsuccessful attempt had been made to secure entrance. The thieves had got away.

HUNDRED BARRELS OF OIL WASTED

OIL CITY, PA., April 5.—(Special.)—Boys came nearly causing a serious conflagration in the Sage run district today by opening the valve on a tank containing 100 barrels of crude oil, allowing the inflammable stuff to run down a hillside into the thickly populated section. Fortunately the rivulet of oil was discovered and guarded to prevent ignition. As over 200 barrels of oil have been lost this summer within a short time in that section, the boys will be prosecuted.

Miss McKinney Will Not Appear.

Contrary to announcement Margaret McKinney, the pretty young ingenue who has been singing the role of Angela in "King Dodo" this season, and who after an absence of six weeks from the cast was expected to resume her part at the Alvin theater tonight, will be unable to appear, as her convalescence has been impeded. When "King Dodo" played in Washington Miss McKinney missed her footing in a hotel and the result of her accident was a broken arm. Celeste Wynn who will be remembered as the star of "A Runaway Girl," last season, has been singing Miss McKinney's role, and will continue during the local engagement.

PALM SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

Bishop Whitehead Confirmed Large Class of Candidates in Old Trinity.

CEREMONY OF BLESSING

Palm Branches Were Distributed to Congregations—Dr. Grange Preached Lenten Sermon at Church of the Ascension.

Palm Sunday, one of the important ecclesiastical events of the year, was observed yesterday in the churches of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. Yesterday ushered in the closing week in Lent, and known in the Lent-observing churches as "Holy Week." Impressive services were held in Roman Catholic and Protestant Episcopal churches and strips of palm branches were distributed to the congregations.

In all Catholic churches the ceremony of blessing palms was observed in the morning. The blessing preceded mass. This ceremony is in commemoration of the triumphant entry of Christ into Jerusalem, six days before His crucifixion, when He was received with joyful acclamation by the multitude who scattered palm branches in His path. In St. Paul's cathedral, in addition to the palm ceremony, the "Passion," a special Palm Sunday musical composition, was rendered by a full vested choir.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Whitehead, Episcopal bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese, made his annual visitation to Trinity church yesterday morning and confirmed a large class of candidates. He delivered the Palm Sunday sermon. "The Palms," by Faure, was sung as a solo and a full vested choir sang Gounod's celebrated anthem, "Come Unto Him, All Ye that Labor and Are Heavy Laden." In the evening the rector of the church, the Rev. Dr. A. W. Arundel, preached a sermon on "Character—Its Immortality."

In the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension yesterday morning the rector, the Rev. George W. Grange, preached a sermon on "Palm Sunday." Special music was rendered under the direction of the organist and choirmaster, Edwin J. Napier. Dr. Grange's text was taken from Luke xix:42, "If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things that belong unto thy peace. But now they are hid from thine eyes." He said, in part:

Today, the church throughout the world begins her holy week of commemoration. With mingled sorrow and gratitude she follows the divine tragedy through these six days, from the morning of the first Palm Sunday, when with loud and joyful cries and waving palms, the people of the Jews hailed Jesus as their king, to the evening of that first Good Friday, when they crucified Him as a malefactor.

Is not Jerusalem the picture of that which is happening, or that which has happened to many a soul? Jesus comes again and again offering the very things that belong to the soul's peace. It spares not. It heeds not. It will not consider. At last, when indifference and sin have built up their wall of separation, the Saviour comes for the last time and standing over against the cludrance one, wails—but His sad lament, with more than human sorrow.

Thank God, we are yet in the midst of our "day." We are still being offered the things that belong to our present and eternal peace. Jesus offers them to us in His gospel, and by the poor lips of them that are set to proclaim in the things of God. The voice of Jesus comes in warning from the top of the Mount of Olives, and from the midst of the waving palms, and from the vision of the Holy City. Blinded by pride and prejudice, Jerusalem could not and would not see. But we are not blind. We see. We are walking in the light. Therefore, our sin will be the greater, and our emptiness and desolation more hopeless by far than that of Jerusalem, if we refuse in our day of visitation to receive Him as our King.

DR. LEVY ON MEN WHO HAVE NO RELIGION

Rabbi Talks About the Difference Between Intentions and Actions.

"The Men Without a Religion" was the topic of a lecture delivered by the Rev. J. Leonard Levy before the Reform congregation Rodeph Shalom in the Eighth street temple yesterday morning. This was the twenty-fourth lecture in the present series of Sunday services. The rabbi said in part:

"The eye is a richer source of instruction than the ear. People hear so much about religion but unfortunately see so little of it. The ship-wrecked mariner sadly exclaims, 'Water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink.' The eloquent French preacher deplored the fact that before him there were many 'penitents,' but he saw no 'penitence.' The careful observer today feels much in the same mood. Churches and services, missions and schools, hymns and choirs we have by the hundreds, but true religion is still a rarity, for men serve God instead of blowing Him.

The greatest obstacle to the realization of religion is the importance attached to dogmatic utterances. People ask for spiritual food and they are given dogmatic stones. Instead of a vital religion they are given this and that creed. You may as well give the stranger in a foreign land an dictionary and lay down to him botanic principles, yet expect him to raise wheat without seed, as expect the people to lead the godly life when their spiritual nature consists of the dry husks of theological dissertations.

Of all the opponents, of all the retrograde influences operating against religion, there is none more baneful than that of the man labelled with his creed, identified with the house of worship, bearing the badge of church affiliation, yet who is faithless to the principles of religion. The regular attendant at the church, the loud-mouthed responder to the "amens," the most generous and true observer of genuflections and postures is by far more deplorably the man without a religion when he limits his service of God to the Sabbath and the church, than the baying atheist and braying infidel.

The end and aim of religion is to train man to follow his conscience in his search for truth and to help him to live the truth. This is often overlooked by the teachers and followers of established faiths. The creed and the dogmas, these are so often ignored. There has been a great change in the way of looking at things in the last few years. Opinions have altered. New knowledge has come. This world is no more the world of our grandfathers than the days of Washington were the days of George Washington. New light has been shed and new knowledge has been disseminated.

In spite of this, religious bodies endeavor, very frequently, to maintain exactly the same position as did their fathers, as though the world should be moved forward and the church alone be stationary. The vital principles of religion are permanent; their expression and external mode of demonstration changeable. Much that emerges in the days of our fathers has been shown to be untrue. During this Passion week old errors will be repeated, old falsehoods will be promulgated, old dogmas, long since exploded, will be retold and the Jew of today will again be made to bear the supposed sin of his fathers of ages ago, a sin of which these were never guilty, a sin of which time will clear them.

I unhesitatingly affirm that it is the repetition of age-long misconceptions and misrepresentations that is the constant handicap on theological hair-splittings that is doing more to alienate the sympathies of men for religion than all other causes combined. Religion is life and not creed. Religion is action and not formula. Religion is service of God manifested in the service of man and not alone in psalm-singing and psalm-singing and creed repetition, bending and bowing, fasting and praying.

DR. DORCHESTER IN THE PULPIT

Welcomed Back to Pastorate of Christ Methodist Episcopal Congregation.

CHURCH DECORATED

Palms and Flowers Adorned the Walls—New Pastor Preached on "Our Home Life" to a Large Audience.

The Rev. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., D. D., was welcomed back to Pittsburgh and to the pastorate of Christ Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning by one of the largest congregations in the church's history. No formal announcement was made of Dr. Dorchester's return to the church after three years, but he stepped into the pulpit and said:

I am more than glad to return to this city and to this congregation. Our relations were amicable when I was pastor here before, and I trust and believe that they will be amicable now. I must confess that this congregation is a difficult one to be pastor of, but I trust we will work together. From time to time I will call on your energies and your money to support me in my work.

Christ church, at Liberty and Center avenues, was profusely decorated with palms and flowers. Special Palm Sunday music was rendered. "Jerusalem," sung by full choir of mixed voices, was rendered finely. Dr. Dorchester's first sermon on his return to Pittsburgh was entitled "Our Home Life." His text was taken from Luke ii:51, "And he went down with them and came to Nazareth and was subject to them." Dr. Dorchester, in part, said:

The entire teaching of Jesus can be summed up in terms of family life. God is a universal Father whose presence fills the world and gives breath to every living thing. Man is His child. The universe is the Father's house. Heaven is the upper story; earth the lower. Death is the stairway from a lower and transitory existence to a higher and eternal life. Sin is disobedience to a Father's love. Salvation is restoration. This is the essence of religion as Jesus taught it. It is ruddy with His blessed home experience and will be welcome so long as there are homes in this world. Would that Christianity in these latter centuries had always preserved the sweet simplicity of the Master's teachings.

It was not only perfectly natural but eminently wise that Jesus should place such emphasis upon the family, for the family is the unit of society, and if His kingdom could be once established there it would dominate the whole. It has been well said that "a perfect family includes three primary relations—those of husband and wife, of parent and child, of brothers and sisters." And these three relations reveal the essential laws of all human fellowship. They are the original sacraments of human society. They reveal to us the inherent incompleteness of the individual life completed in a typical union; that is the idea of marriage, and marriage, in a word, is the divine pattern and ground of human communion, the original sacrament of completed manhood. The family also reveals to us the correlative responsibilities of government and devotion hallowed by love; that is the idea of fatherhood, the divine pattern and ground of authority.

The family is also the best place for discipline in mutual trust, and that is what society must have or go to pieces. The crowning excellence of clubs and social intercourse is good fellowship. When the fellowship dissolves, the club dies. The very life blood of business is credit. When it flows freely there is prosperity in the commercial world, when it is checked, when distrust comes in, then we have depression and panic. The family is ordained to moralize and spiritualize society, to fill it with the qualities that insure mutual trust.

Men are marching to various tunes in America today. The numerous religious sects and political parties, capital and labor, each has its own song and slogan and are frequently lined up in warring camps. But union is deeper than all divisions. There is one tune which we all love to hear. There is one deep, underlying harmony running through all our contentions. It is that which reminds us of our homeland as children of a common Father, members of one brotherhood in Christ, marching through various paths to our Father's home at last. It is the song the herald angels sang in the skies of Bethlehem: "Peace on earth, good will to men."

VALUE OF MEN AND SHEEP.

Preacher Thinks Some People Act Almost as Bad as Animals.

The Rev. H. B. Hummel, pastor of the Park Avenue Presbyterian church, preached a sermon yesterday morning on "Which Is the More Valuable, a Man or a Sheep?" His text was taken from Matt. xii.:12. "How much then is a man of more value than a sheep." Mr. Hummel said in part:

Does the world really believe that man is better than sheep? Judging by the actions of men it would appear not. We understand so little of the true meaning and possibilities of manhood; we see so many men who value their lives so cheaply and are such degraded specimens of humanity that we are sometimes led half in doubt to ask, is man after all any better than a sheep?

Ask the materialist this question and all he can consistently say is that man stands a little higher in the scale of physical life than a sheep, but his life is the same and his end the same death in dust and ashes. Ask the man governed by the commercial spirit, now so prevalent, this question and he will tell you whichever is worth more to him in the market and can produce more wealth. This is the more valuable whether it be man or sheep.

We shall not be able to get a satisfactory answer to this question until we asked it of Him who spake as never man spake. Ask Jesus and He will reveal the greatness of man above all other creatures of God because he has been fashioned in the likeness of the divine image and can hold fellowship with his Creator, and because the breath of life breathed into him by divine Spirit, unlike that of the sheep, is the life of an ever-living, immortal soul.

Talked to Young Men.

The Rev. Samuel P. Jones lectured before the Y. M. C. A. at Wilmerding yesterday afternoon. His subject was "Choice." He told the young men to make their choice early in life.

GIVING ADVICE TO CATHOLICS

Rev. W. H. W. Rees' Opinion of What Protestants Can Teach Roman Church.

ARGUMENTS HE USES

Pastor of Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal Church Tells of Two Widely Different Methods of Worship of God.

"What Roman Catholics Could Learn from the Protestants," was the subject of a sermon preached by the Rev. W. H. W. Rees, in the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church, last night. The text was "I believe in the holy Catholic church," from the apostles' creed. Mr. Rees' sermon a week ago last night dwelt upon what Protestants could learn from Catholics. During the course of the sermon last night, he said in part:

The Roman Catholic church has some truth, and much error, as I see it. Hence I do not believe it to be "the one only, and true church of God in the earth." The supreme mission of Protestantism was to put the Holy Bible into the hands of the people, and lead them to the Christ whom the Bible tells us about. The difference between Roman Catholicism and Protestanism here is, the former makes men accountable to the church; the latter makes men accountable to God.

Protestanism emphasizes the value of the individual. The successive usurpations of the Roman Catholic church have reduced religion to a sort of corporate character in which the priests transact the business of salvation for all comers. The individual is lost in the church. At the very foundation of Protestantism lies the right of private judgment. Look at North and South America, where the two systems have done their best. What was the result of Romanism in Spanish America? What of Protestanism in the United States? One Roman Catholic; the other Protestant. Let the fact answer.

The Protestants stand today for tolerance. We have yet to learn of the recognition of Christian character by priest, bishop or pope of the Roman Catholic church, in anyone not a member of that body. The inquisition for heretics is the answer of that church to the idea of tolerance. I quote from "An Hour With a Sincere Protestant," sent to me last week by a Roman Catholic. The book has the imprimatur of Michael Augustine, archbishop of New York, dated August 30, 1895: "In order to truly please God we must not only abstain from evil, but do the positive will of God; but to do the will of God we must learn it; to learn it we must make use of that means which He Himself has instituted to acquaint men with His holy will. This means is the church founded by Jesus Christ, which you have become convinced is the Roman Catholic church. Consequently everyone who in all earnestness wishes to do God's holy will, and thus become pleasing in His sight, must listen to the teachings of the Roman Catholic church."

QUOTING AN ARCHBISHOP.

Just so. I quote again: "While the Roman Catholic church swells her ranks with the very cream of what can be found among the most learned, most honest, best instructed, most intelligent, and for their morals, highly estimable persons, Protestanism can gather recruits only among individuals who are either ignorant, or at least justly suspected regarding their morals." That is what I call bigotry of the most despicable character. Protestanism tolerates the Roman Catholic and every pagan religion on these shores, but Roman Catholics would banish every Protestant from Italy, Manila, and every Catholic country if she could.

The Roman Catholic church could learn from the Protestants the true significance of the Lord's supper, the Eucharist. The belief of the Roman church is that from the time the bread goes into the hands of the priest to the time it reaches the lips of the communicant, an entire change of substance takes place, so that it becomes the very body of Jesus Christ. The priest pronounces words over the bread and instantly it is invested with Deity. Miracle of the ages! I could upset their theory in one trial so could any chemist. Poison put into the wafer, and into the wine, would kill a Catholic as quickly as anyone else, in spite of all incantation of priest, bishop or pope. The doctrine of substantiation is a farce on the very face of it.

Protestants can teach the Roman Catholics from the Holy Scriptures the sin of offering prayer to anyone but God. Roman Catholicism does worship and pray to the Virgin Mary, or their books do not speak plainly on that subject. I ask you to read from the "Glories of Mary" on any of the pages I give, to convince you that the Roman Catholic church offers prayers to the mother of Jesus and attributes divine power to her. See pages 26, 38, 82, 67, 87, 206, 484, etc. I quote one sentence or two from this book, page 149: "Sooner will heaven and earth be destroyed," says the devout Blosius, "than Mary fail to aid those who with a pure intention, recommend themselves to her, and put their confidence in her." St. Anselm adds: "Sometimes we shall be sooner heard and saved by invoking her holy name, than that of Jesus, our Saviour." And yet the Roman Catholics say they do not worship the Virgin, nor bow down to images.

The Roman Catholics could, if they would, learn from the Protestants the true values of the sacrifice of Christ. The mass as practiced by the Roman Catholic church dishonors Jesus, by making His one sacrifice void. It invades the office of Christ as sole mediator. Bishop O'Connor says: "The great end for which we offer up the sacrifice of the mass is to make infinite satisfaction to God for the sins of His creatures. Happily, any beloved brother, or even all the saints, sufficient satisfaction to God for our sins by this sublime sacrifice of the altar." By offering up the mass in a certain sense you make God your debtor. Protestants believe that Jesus once offered Himself for us all, and that the mass is a device of man, by which money is extracted from poor, deluded people. It would soon fail into disuse if the money consideration were withdrawn.

WHAT PROTESTANISM TEACHES.

Protestanism teaches that the Bible is God's revealed will to man, and is not to be interpreted solely by the church. The Roman Catholic church claims to have descended directly from St. Peter, and is infallible—the only authorized agent for the reception of and interpreter of God's word to man. If the church is fallible today it was always infallible. The pope is the church's head and of course ought to be good and holy. In 1033 Benedict was raised to the pontificate. He was a debauchee, a sorcerer and a devil worshiper. In 1044 he was forcibly deposed of his office, and Sylvester was made pope. Benedict managed to regain his dignities in three months and then the headship of the infallible church was traded for $1,600. John was the purchaser. The seller was not satisfied, and by force of arms effected a compromise, and the profits and honors of the office were divided between them.

One pope was established in the Lateran, the other in the Vatican, and still another in St. Mary's. At last Gratian obtained an election, assumed the name of Gregory VI., and then there were four living successors to St. Peter. We draw the veil over the lives of those men in that period, so shamefully corrupt were they, and ask which of the four was the real successor of St. Peter; and which was infallible? The Roman church has but little to say of John XII. Infallible as that church claims to be, she smites with the mildew of death every country where she has supremacy, and has no tolerance toward any church.

Catholicity she knows not. In that church Maryolatry has supremacy over Jesus; superstition supersedes faith; image devotion devotion to Christ and hatred of Protestants, or bigotry supplants fraternity or brotherly love. I hold up Christ as the sovereign balm for all our woes, the one only Saviour, and intercessor for all mankind.
